“Life is a voyage. The winds of life come strong
From every point; yet each will speed thy course along,
If thou with steady hand when tempests blow
Canst keep thy course aright
and never once let go.”

Eight or nine major league scouts are flocking around Danny McCarthy, the ace of Danny Lynch's St. Francis College baseball team. Lynch terms McCarthy "the best college pitcher in the Met area" — scouts and statistics offer no argument to Lynch's appraisal.

McCarthy is a workhorse out of necessity as well as because of his obvious talent. He, Val Henderson and Ray McCartney are it as far as the Terriers pitching staff is concerned.

Thus far Danny has turned victories over Pace and St.

'Eventide

When city lights twinkle a friendly 'good night' and a slowly darkening skyline marks the end of another busy day — one marvels at the routine coordination so essential to the success of a great metropolis.

Significant, and above all other human attributes, is — friendliness, that very fair and honest regard for the other fellow.

Proof, that ENGRAVATONE practices this golden rule, is a growing list of satisfied friends — and it is not surprising that singularly better and economical college and school annuals are consistently produced under our banner of good fellowship and cooperation.

"And we that watch and wait
Breathing with mortal breath,
We are but ships upon that sea
Whose tides are birth and death.

Sailing out of the dark,
O little ships, to the light,
And never too small or frail a bark
To sail to the Infinite!

But what of the storms that hide
In that mystery?
And what of the bitter, ultimate tide
We neither hear nor see?

Be still, O querulous soul!
He hath charted every sea,
And the Master of all the tides that roll
Shall send to pilot thee."
