PLAYING THE GAME WITH

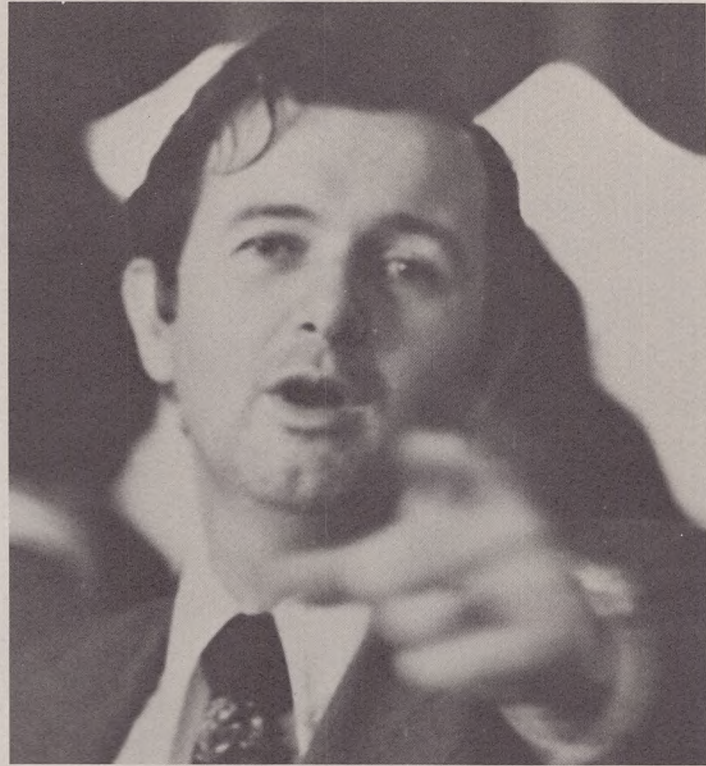

THE FRANCISCAN

1974

“A BESTERMAN — MILLS GAME”

You know there will be detours . . .

So you want to play the game . . .

DETOURS . . .

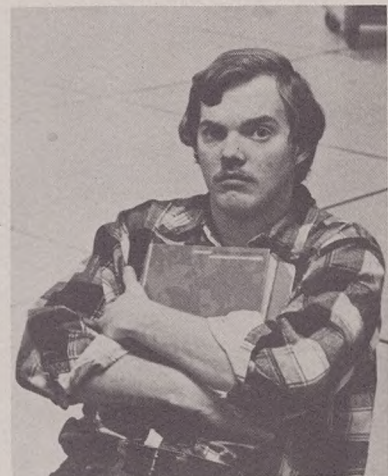

You really don't want to go to class, do ya?

No way I'm going to class.

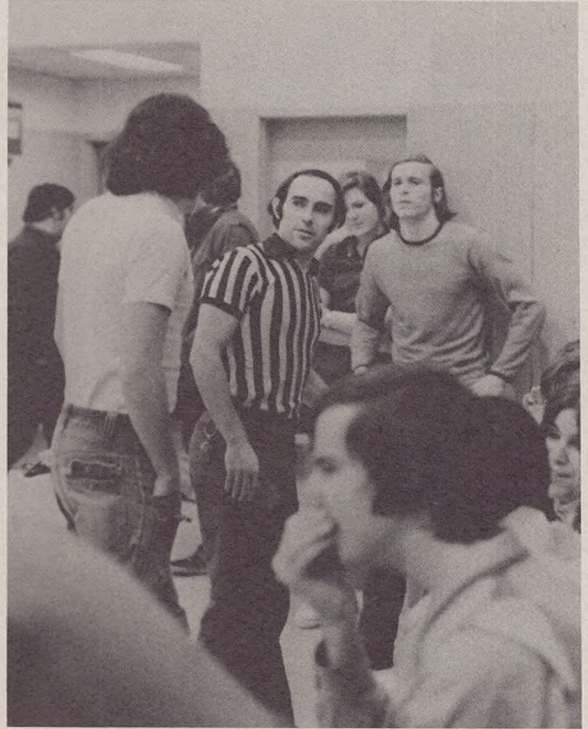

No. There's no class now dad. (whew!)

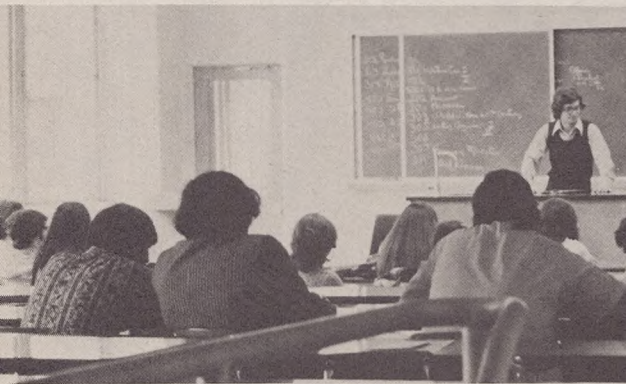

I'm not goin' this week, I went last week!

That is a very astute observation Brother.

"Whadda' ya' mean, you want to tie my shoe laces?"

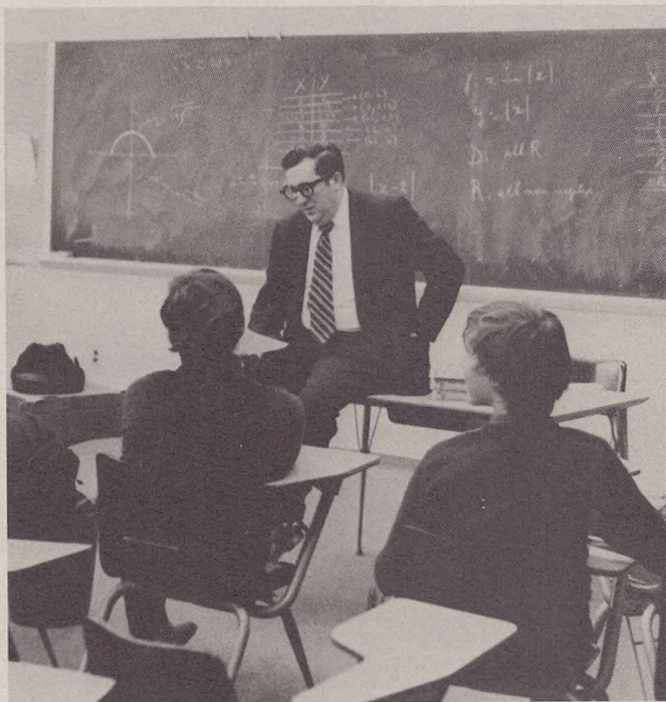

Psst, what's the answer to 14?

Shoot! It wasn't all that brilliant.

The direct route to winning the game.

Some will crack under the pressure . . .

"I'm only three an' a half years old."

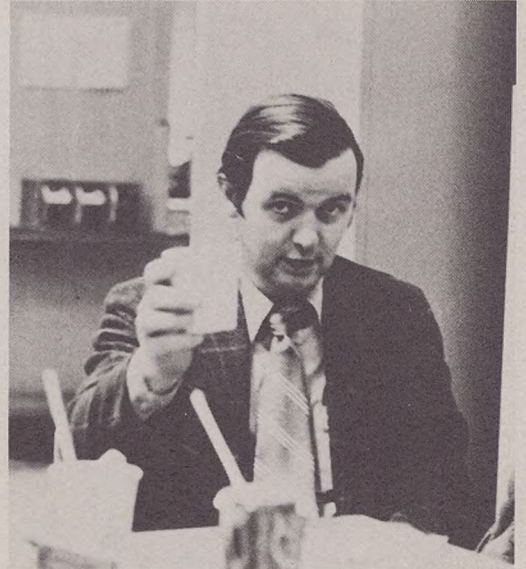

"My brains are leaking."

The big break!

"And the third built his out of straw . . ."

"I'll drink to that."

"Take that . . . and that . . .!"

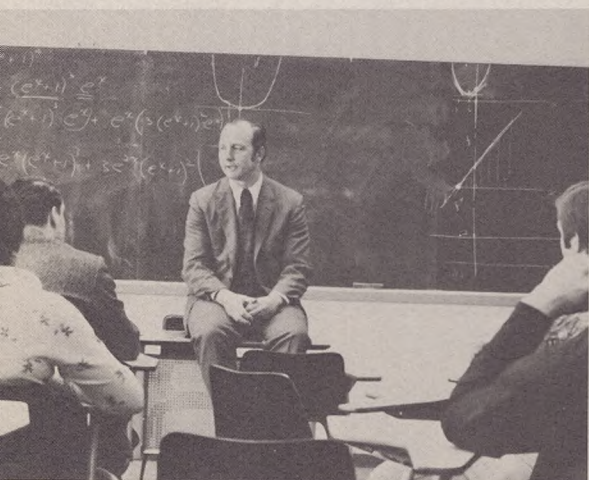

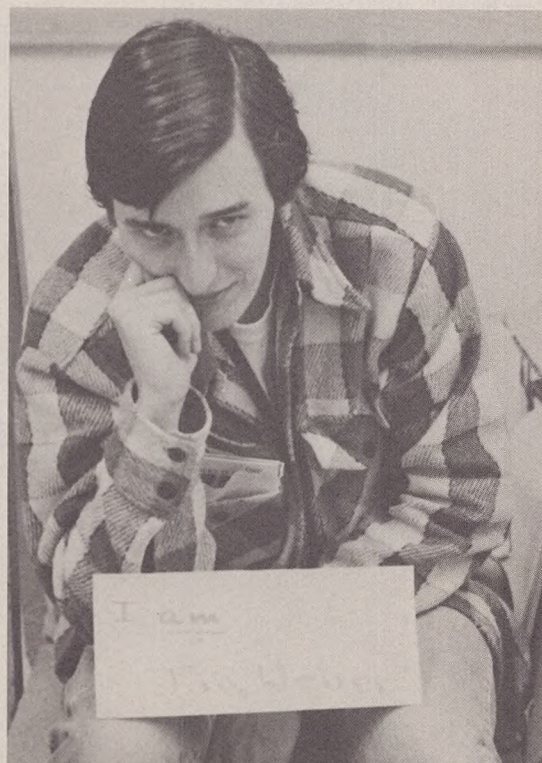

"This is MY I.D."

Some people lose their very identity.

"My name has got to be here somewhere!"

"My name isn't here?"

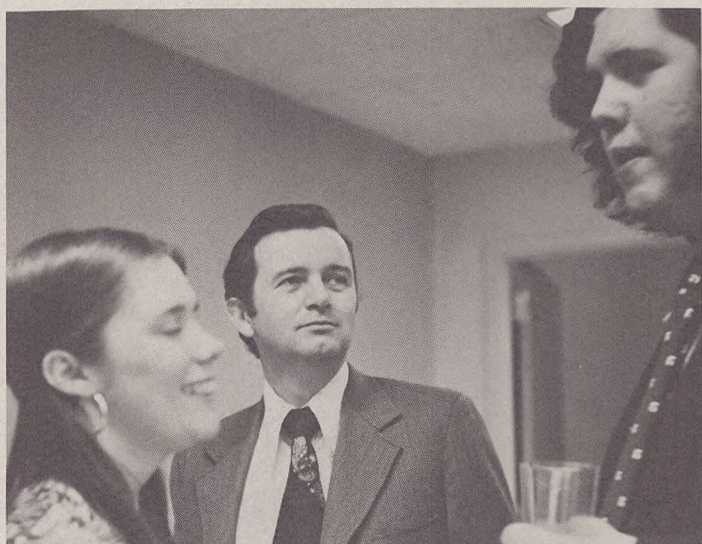

"Sorry, I've never seen you before".

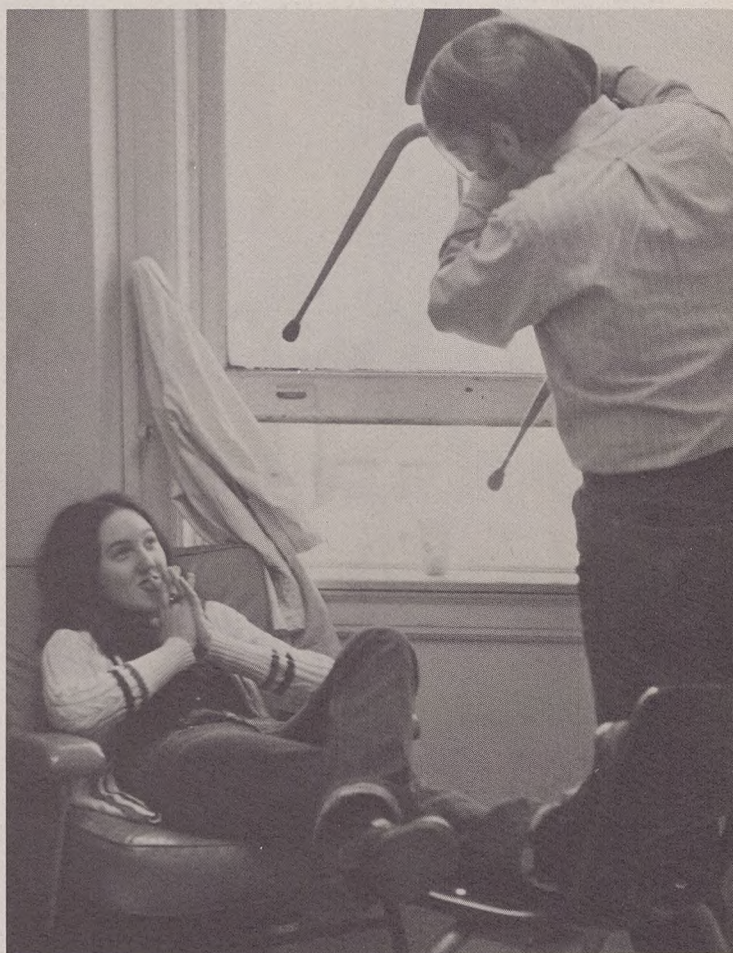

"Now let's see . . . Could your name be Olaf?"

While others have to be beat into submission . . .

"I really think you should apologize to my friends."

"He's lucky he's bigger than I am."

"This'll teach you to cut class!"

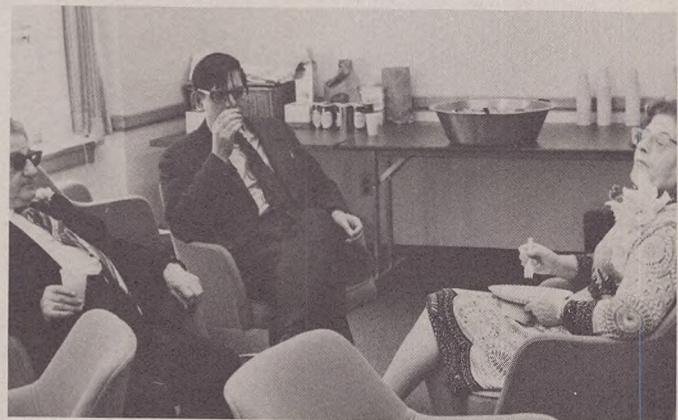

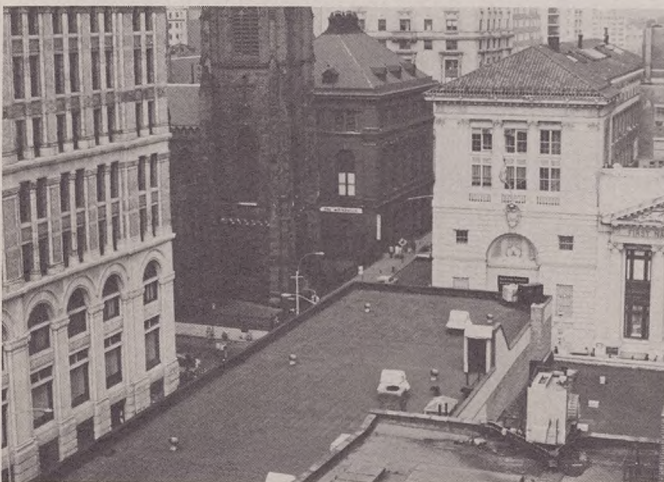

"You've been found guilty and sentenced to five more years at St. Francis."

There will be highs . . .

“Far Out”

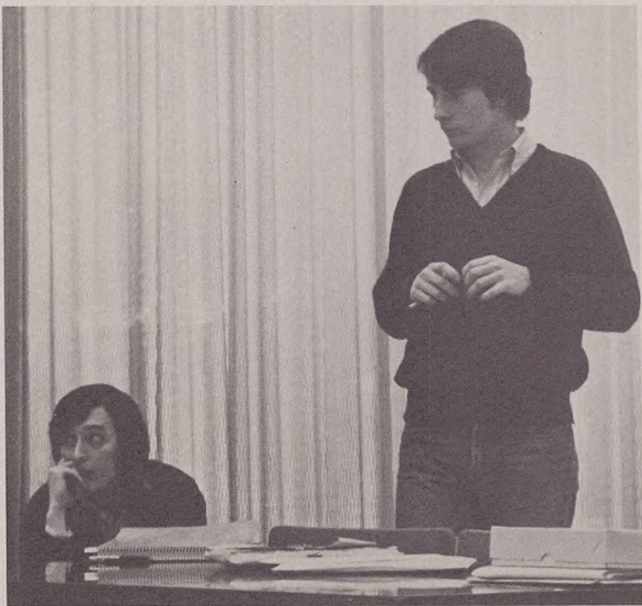

“As the students might say, ‘Distance out.’ ”

And lows

“You mean the world isn’t flat?”

“ . . . but 95-3 . . . when!”

(Editors note: This one speaks for itself)

Of Course there are Rewards.

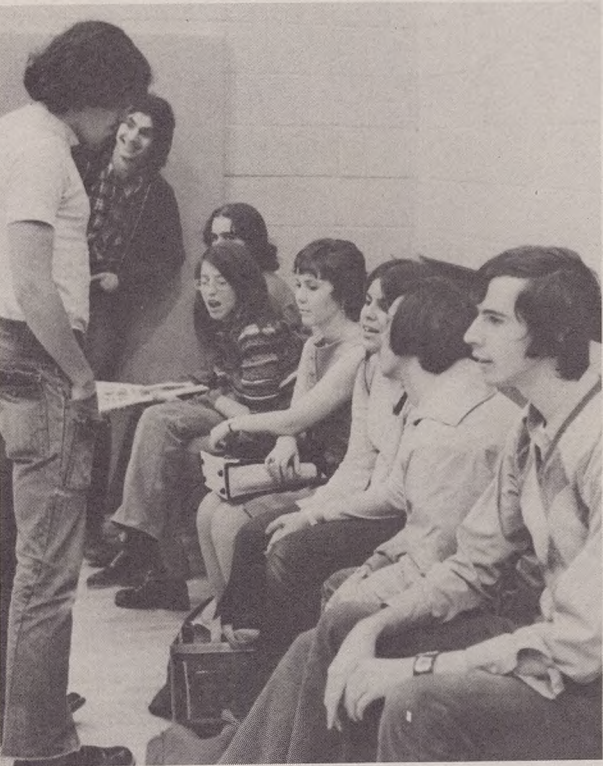

I won the election why does he get the bigger steak.

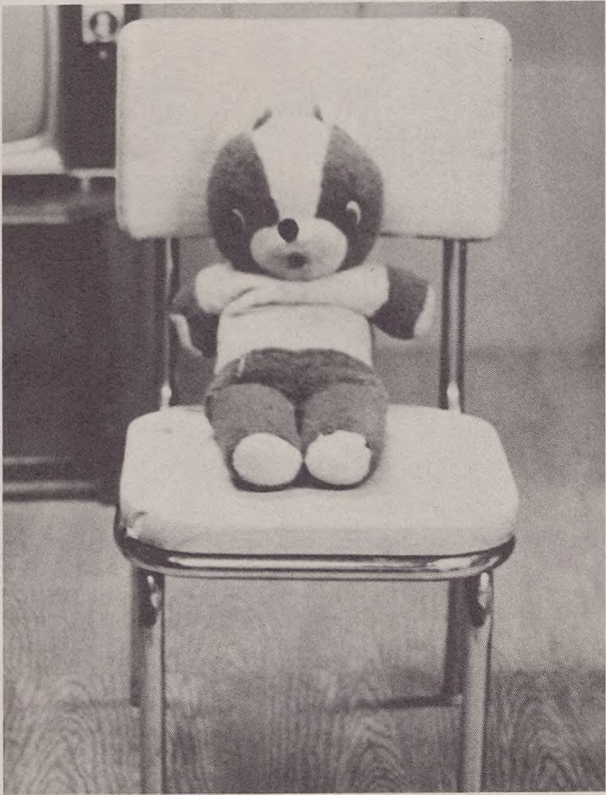

A teachers reward, not eating in the cafeteria.

But Let's Not Forget the Penalties.

You'll Sit there till you get it right . . .

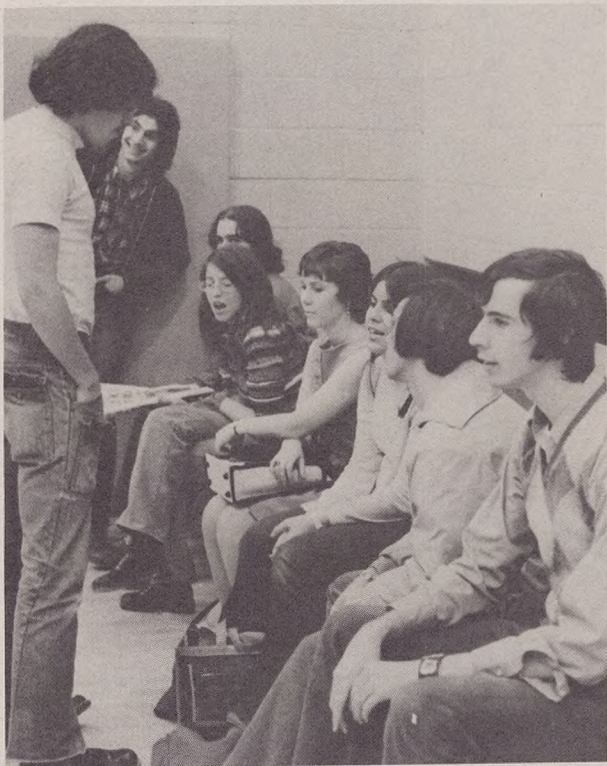

And You Will Sit there till you get it right . . .

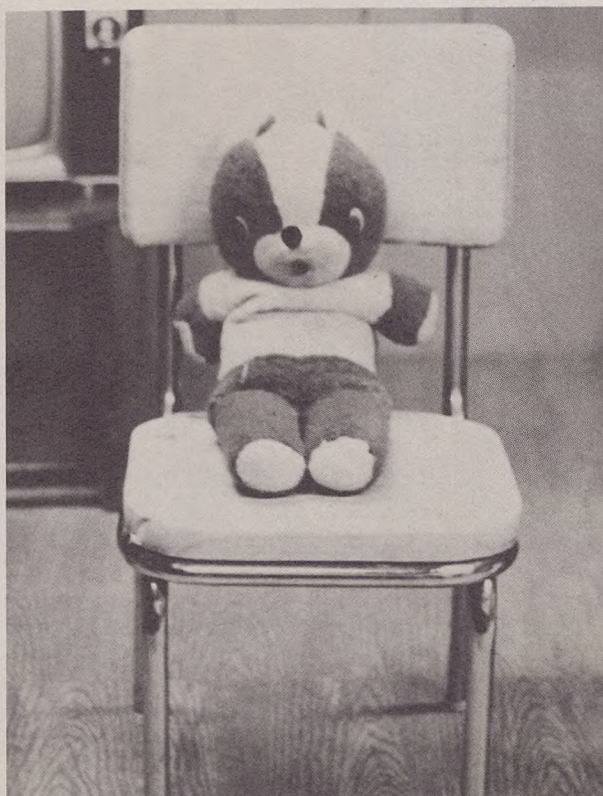

And YOU'LL Stand there until you get it right!

But Let's Not Forget the Penalties.

You'll Sit there till you get it right . . .

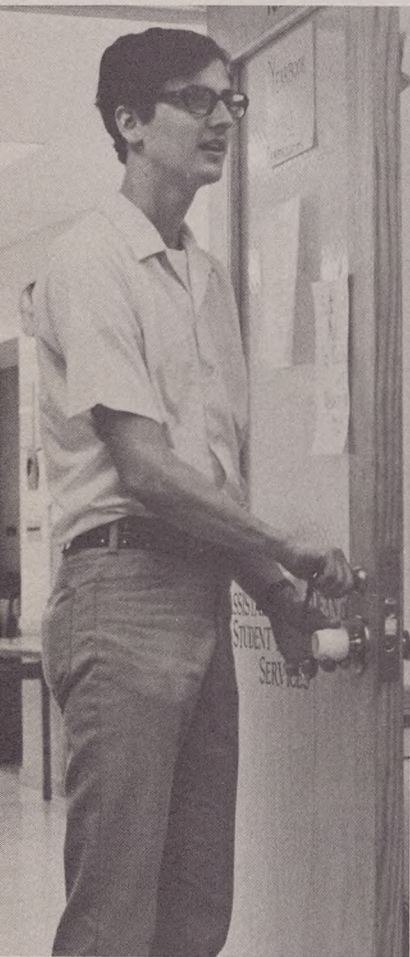

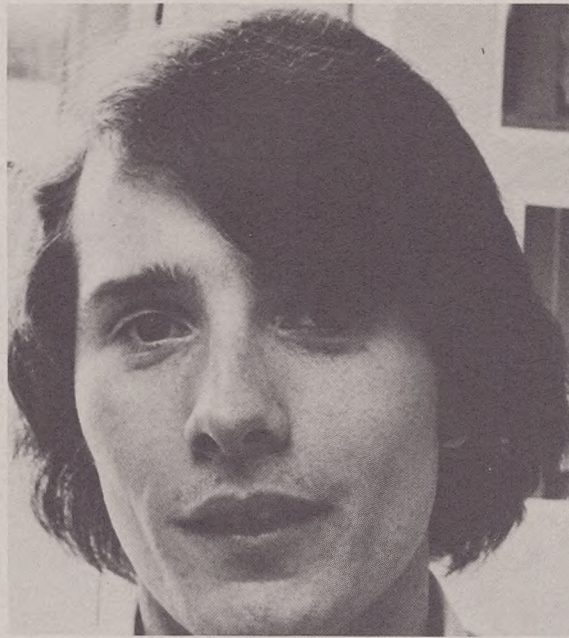

And You Will Sit there till you get it right . . .

And YOU'LL Stand there until you get it right!

The Winners:

WHO ME?

and the inevitable losers:

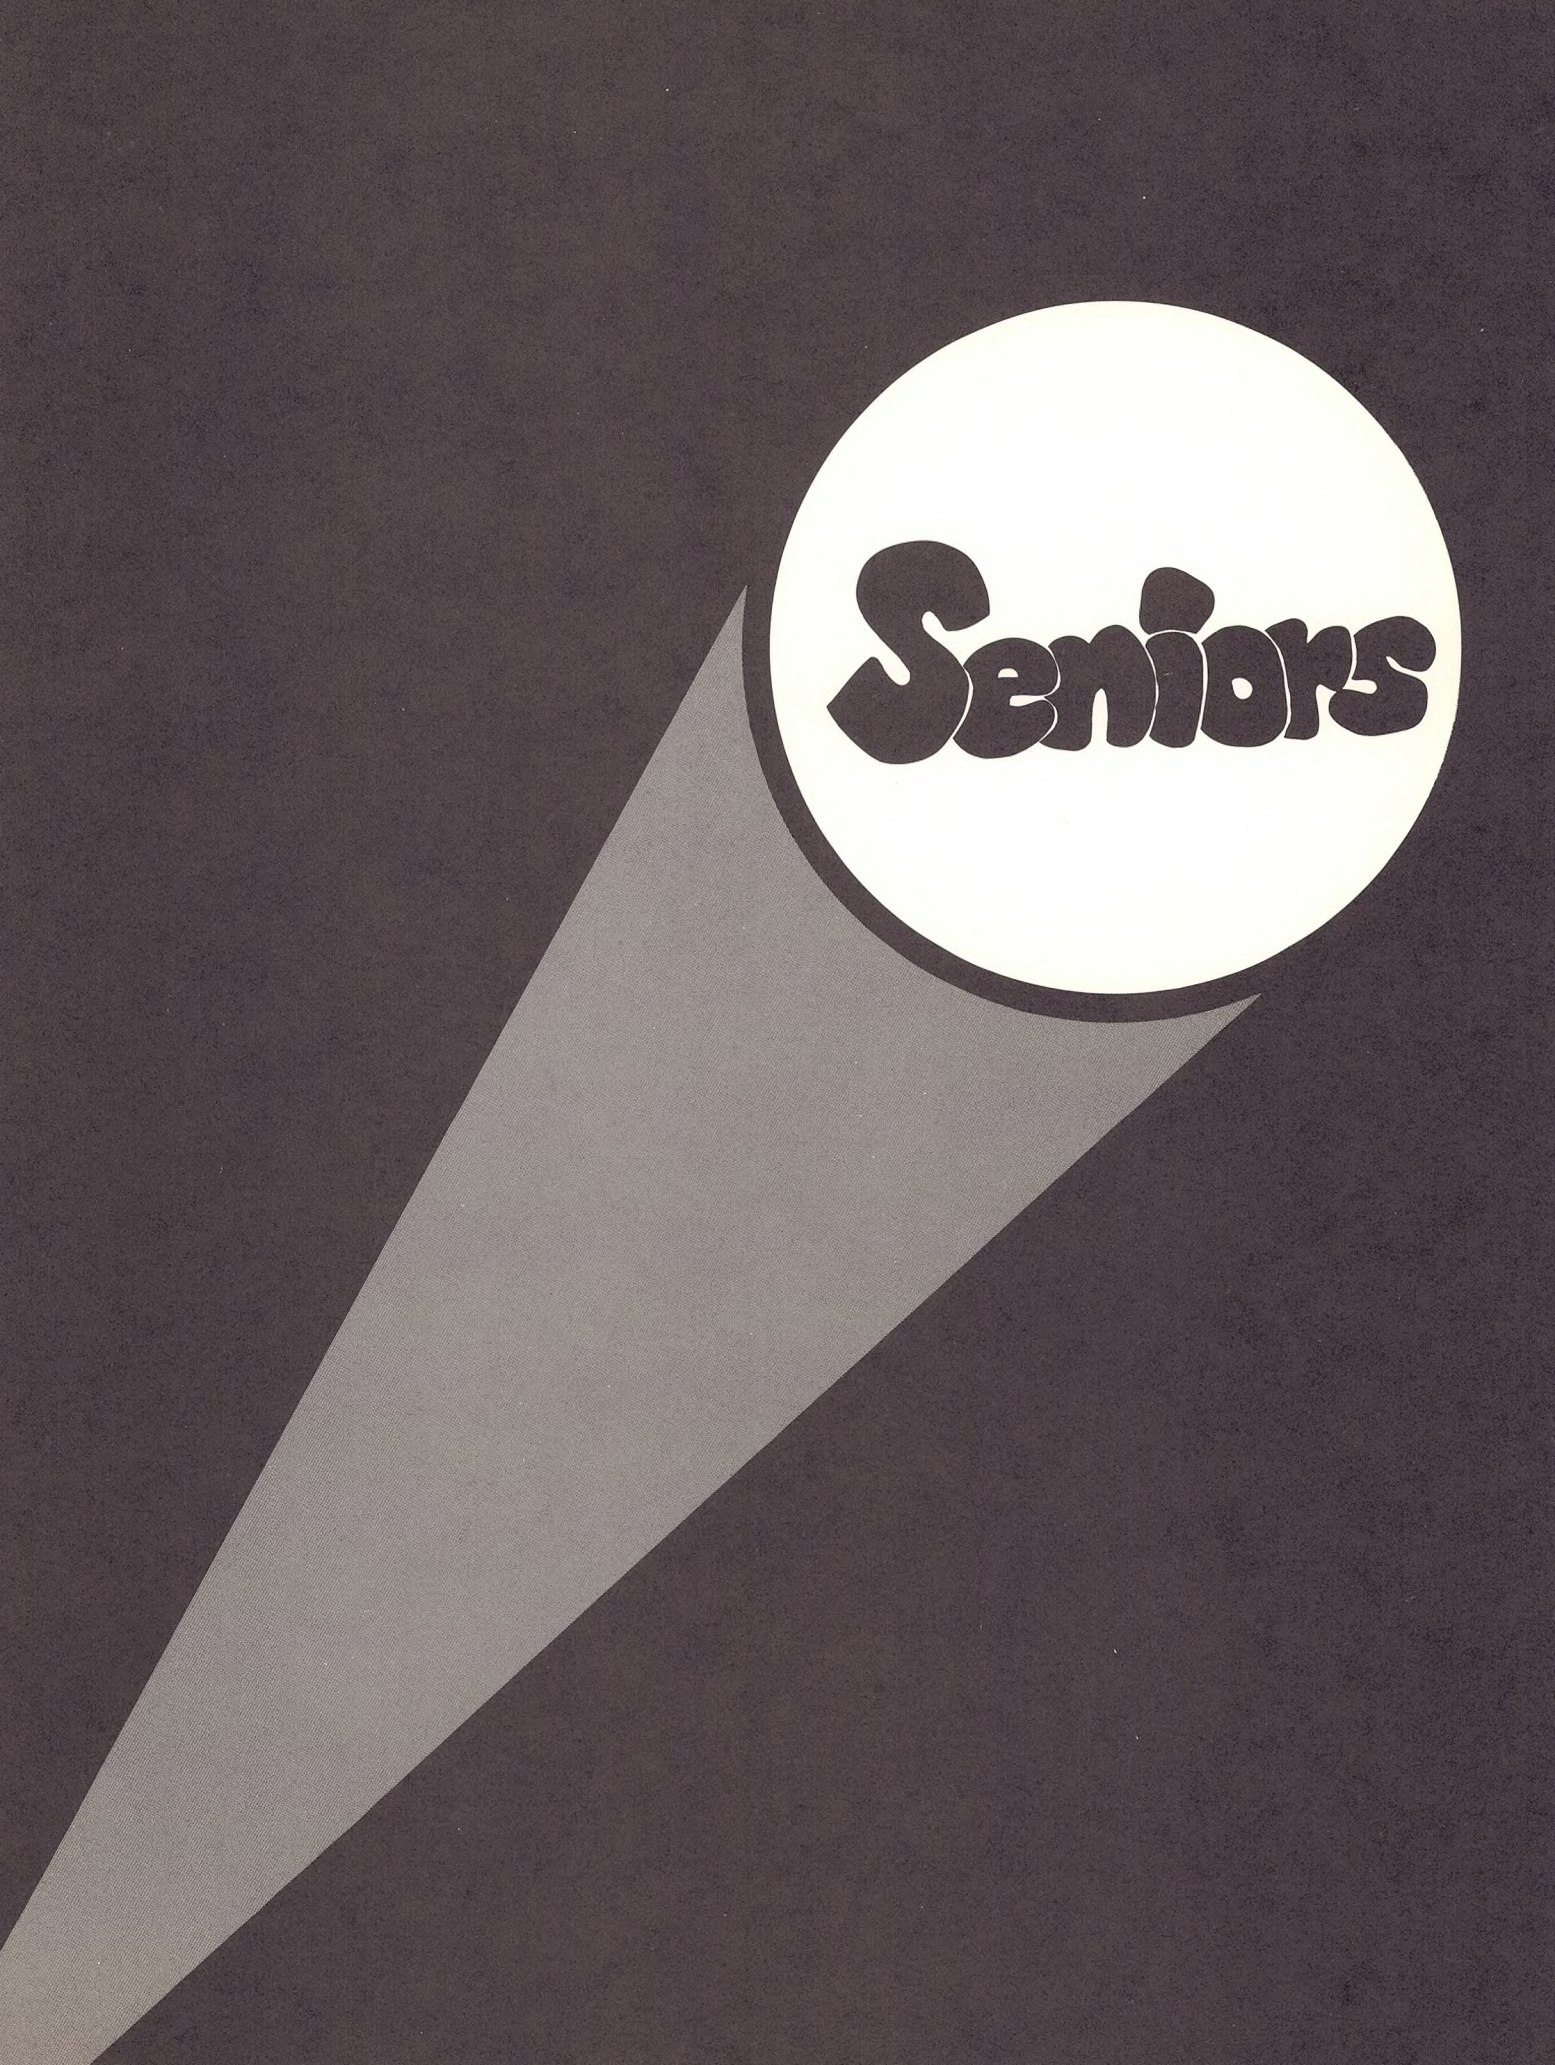

WHY
ME!

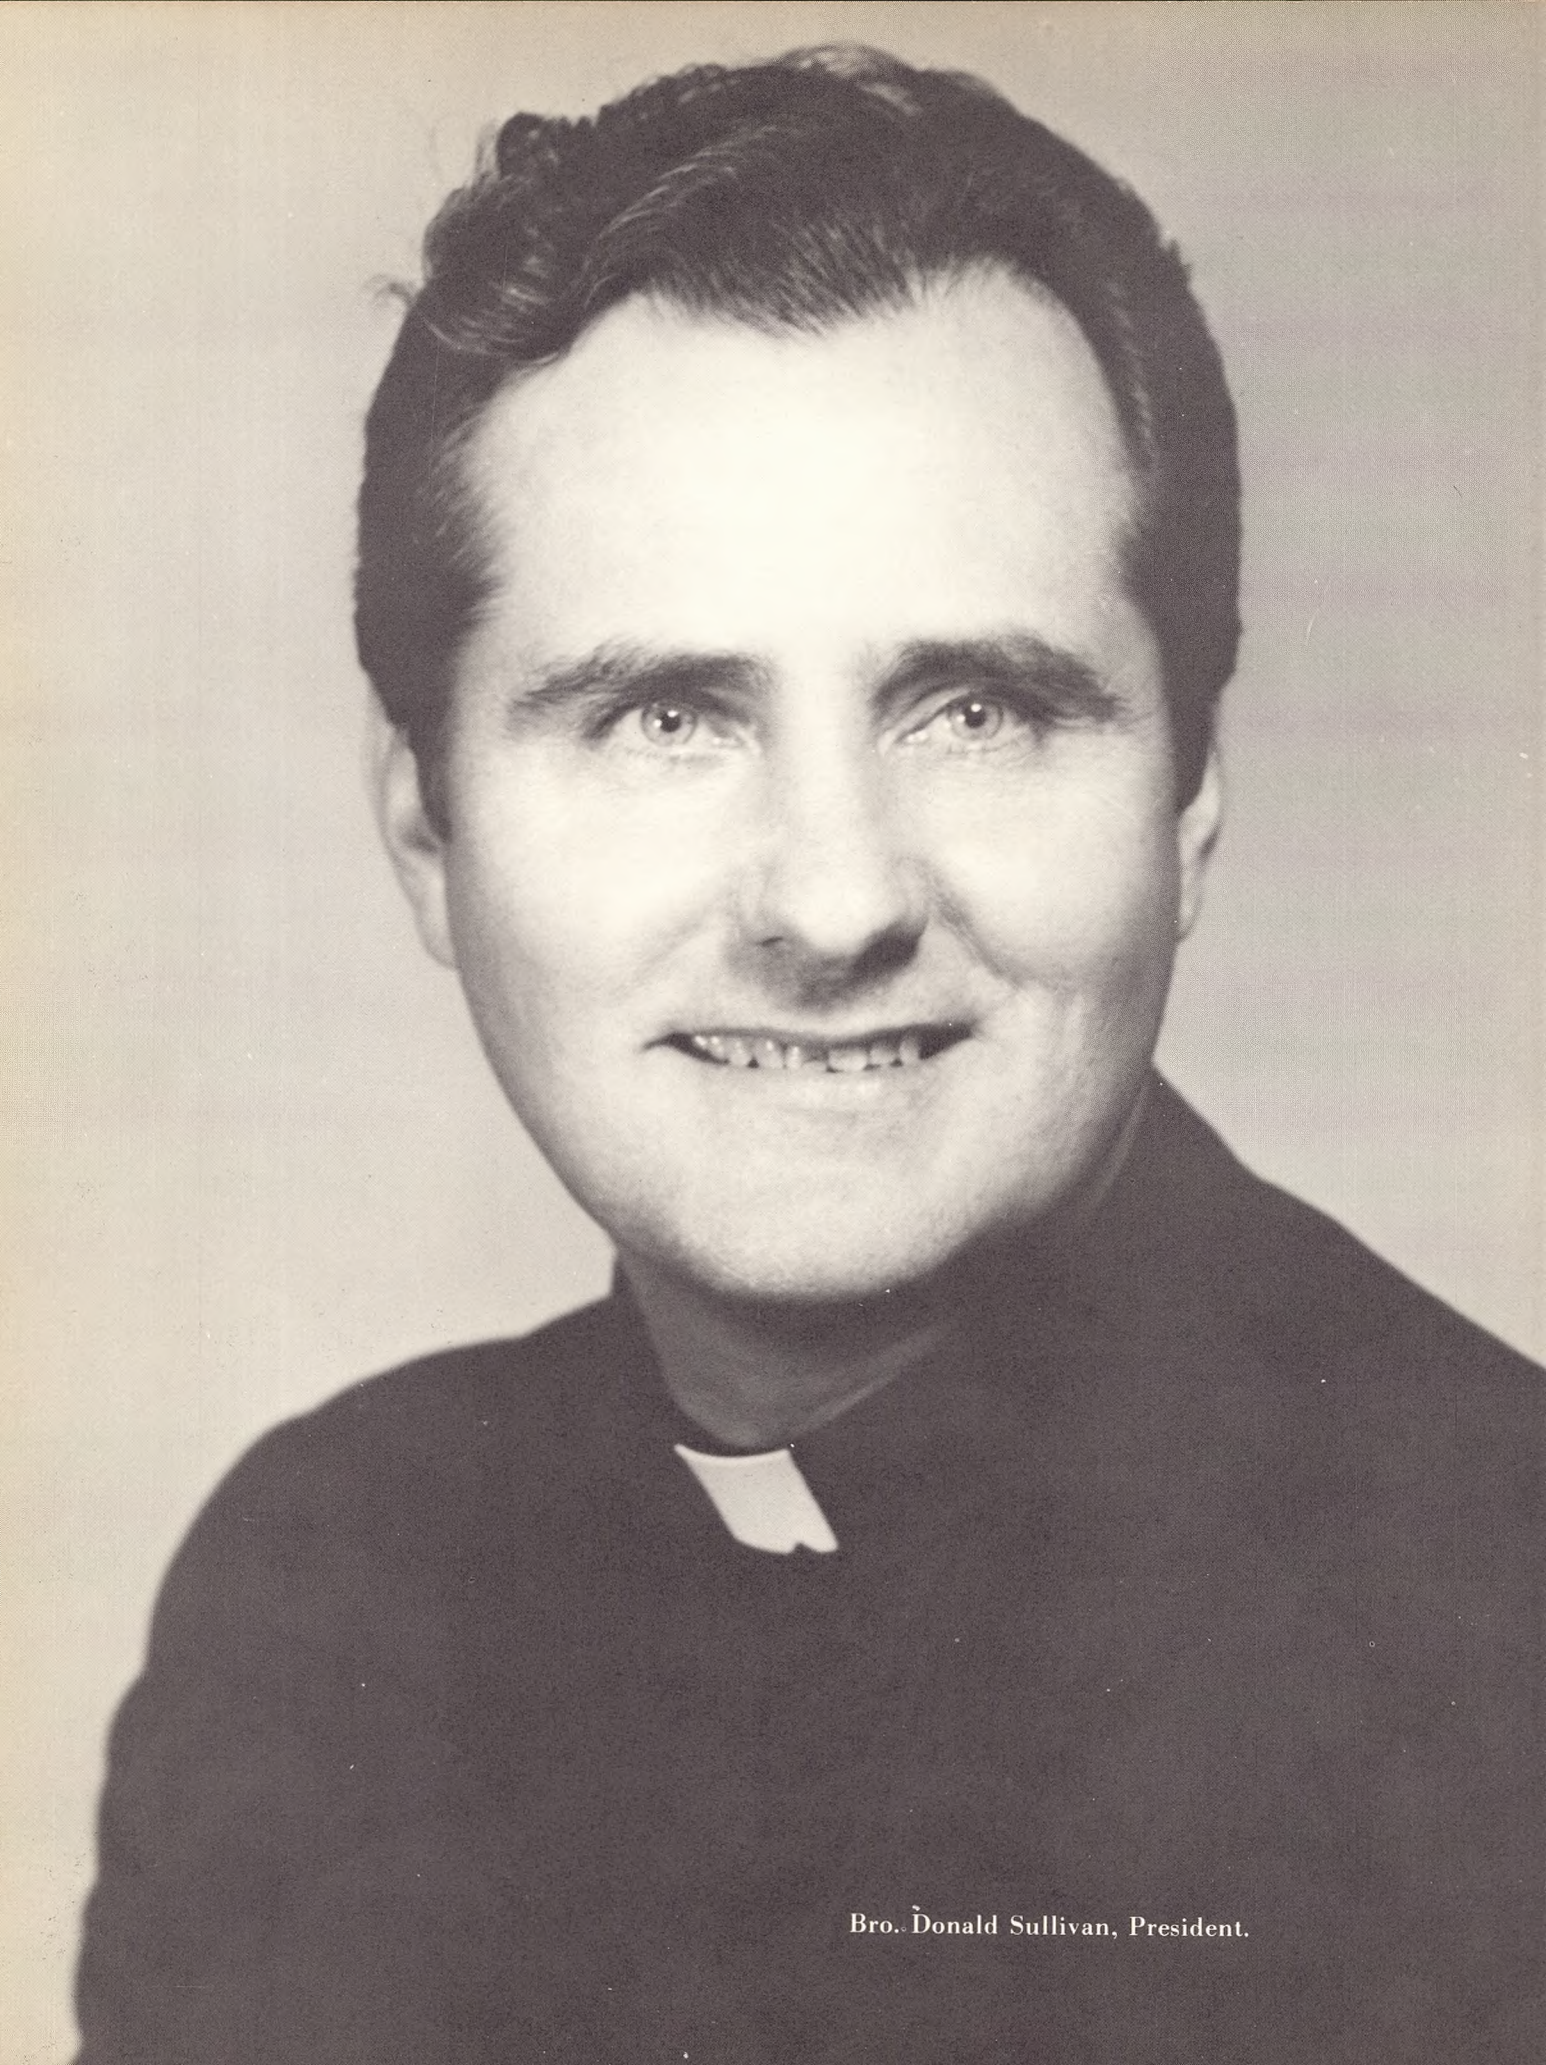

but, when all is considered, and it's all over, the best thing to do is laugh it off . . . because it was all part of the game.

A dark, textured background with a spotlight effect. A bright white circle is positioned in the upper right, containing the word "Seniors" in a bold, black, stylized font. A wide, light gray beam of light originates from the bottom left and points towards the white circle, creating a spotlight effect.

Remember the first day of school?

The questions popping in your mind.

How to dress.

Who could you trust with your gossip.

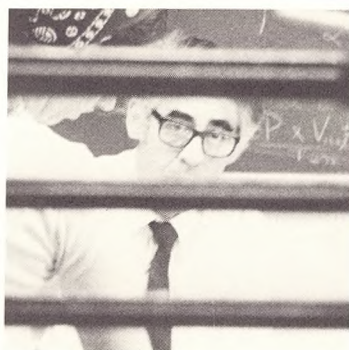

Who to make friends with.

Who to avoid.

THEN YOU MET YOUR MENTORS

And you knew you were in trouble.

Heads were going to roll—

Is this the F-train?

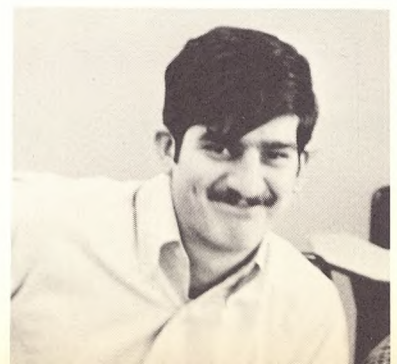

BUT YOU FOUGHT BACK

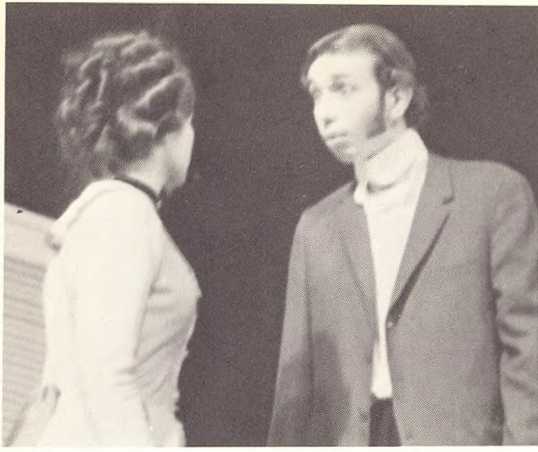

Some of us got the screw.

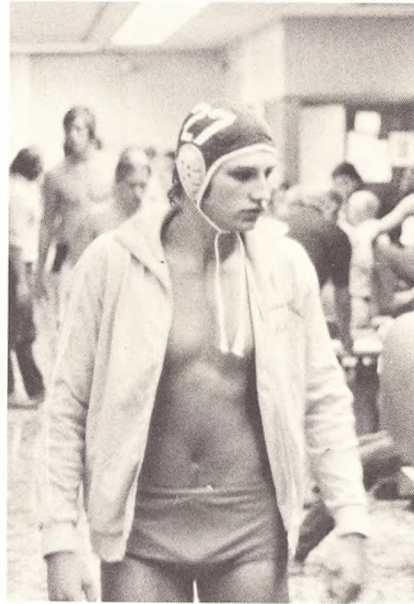

But we loved every minute of it.

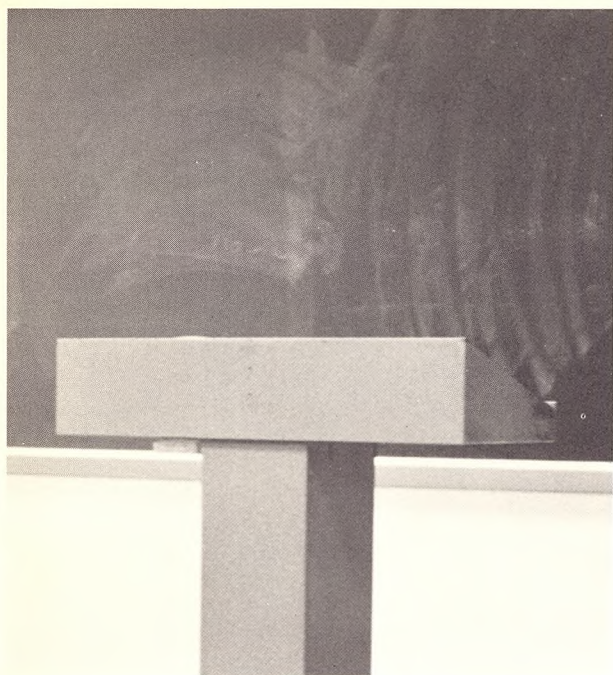

We all changed our life styles.

And developed a philosophy of life.

Omicron Delta Epsilon has as its primary aim to foster and honor the achievements of students in this area. In keeping with this tradition the St. Francis chapter sponsors informal seminars on economic topics and invites guest speakers in the field.

Coach Jack Prenderville

"They call us the No-Names," Dennis McDermott says of his team. And St. Francis College's 6-8 forward understands why. He's a typical case.

"I was a sub in high school," McDermott says. "When I came here I didn't even expect to play college ball."

No-Name Dennis led the team last year in scoring (24.1 points) and rebounding (8.2). He made the All-Met and second All-State teams. That's the way to become a Name.

Then there's Jerome Williams. Two years ago he was the no-name back-up center at New Utrecht High. Now he's the Terriers' 6-8, 200 pound center who, according to first-year coach Jack Prenderville, "is potentially the greatest player in New York City."

"He's a late comer," the coach says. "I don't care when he started; I'M just glad he did."

Ron is another reason. He's Ron Jones, one of the few Terriers who isn't a No-Name. A senior, he's a former All-City at Tilden, a 6-1 guard and a defensive specialist. He's the fastest human being Prenderville has ever seen.

"I love to play defense," Jones says. "I like to have to hold a guy who usually scores 20 or 25 points . . . really love to stop a guy like that. I believe defense is stronger than offense."

"We have no star," the coach says. "It's a team effort. We really have a starting eight. Jones and (6-2) Ed Hannafin are in the backcourt. Williams, McDermott and Jack McCue (6-5 Forward) are in front.

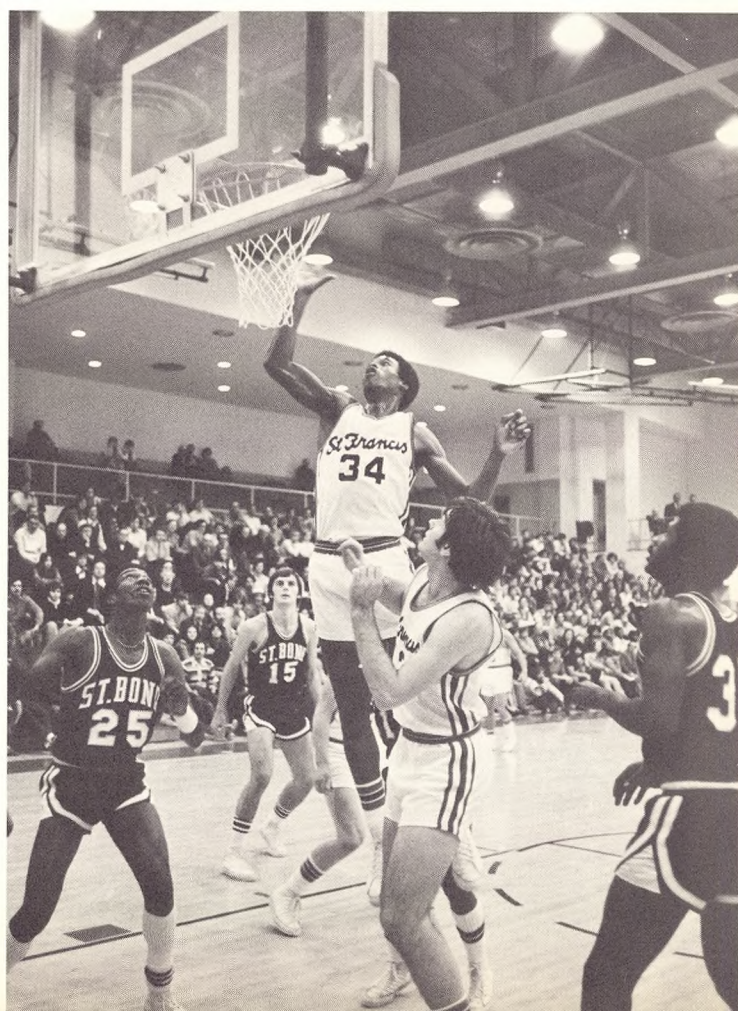

"They're the five starters," Prenderville says. "But Dennis Keating (6-5) can play for anyone up front and Mike Rivera (5-9) and Robert Trapp (6-5) can sub at guard.

"The important thing," the coach says, "is getting a club from six-and-18 to think it can win . . . and we've done that. It's all attitude. And the attitude here is a winning one. That's an accomplishment in itself."
