THE FRANCISCAN IS FOR

The time has come, and the end is near. All four years are coming to an end, and there is a feeling of mixed emotion. Graduation brings on many memories, and feelings that we don't know if we're glad that it's over, but we'll always be a part of the graduating class of 1991. So take a last look while you still have time. Billy Joel reminds us in his song "This is the Time" that . . .

"This is the time to remember cause it will not last forever. These are the days to hold onto cause we won't although we want to. This is the time, but time is going to change."

We made it with a little help from our friends! For those who taught us, for those we fought with, and for those who have been our friends — we thank you for your guidance. You've pushed us to our limit, to help us broaden our minds. Because of you we laughed and cried, and most importantly you believed in us, and we achieved!

Thank You!

17

All of us come from a very small school, and to feel like you are a part of things you need to get involved. Being active in Campus Life helps you to make the best out of your college experiences. College is not just "hitting the books," but becoming a part of things, and meeting people that will become your lifelong friends.

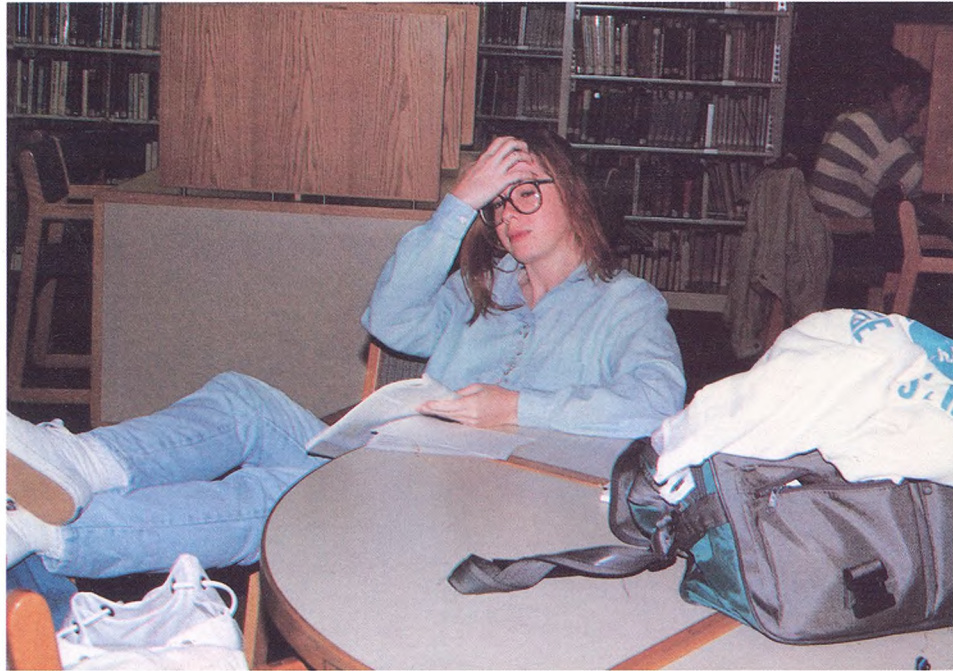

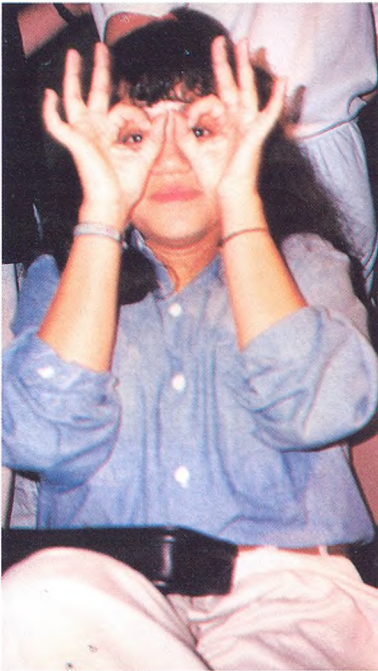

47

Being involved in sports is being a part of team spirit and game tradition which brings together a team. The fans come to the game to cheer and root-root-root for the home team. It's great to see young athletes with great potential. Team spirit is gained through unity and dedication, and at St. Francis, our team sports have just that. Regardless of the sport, the game is both victorious and triumphant for the winner, and defeat for the losers. But win or lose the team members of St. Francis give it their ultimate best shot.

95

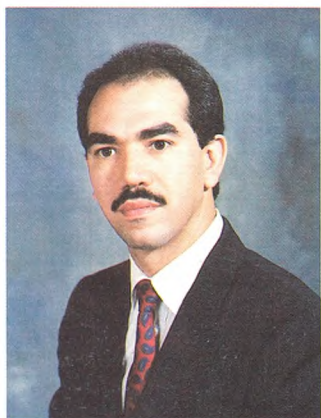

The different events at St. Francis show that we can go the extra mile. It's more than just being involved. It's being able to produce something for others to see. It is because of the efforts of students and teachers that St. Francis is very productive with regards to parties, blood drives, plays, and any other event that happens here.

Theresa Olga Firpo
Editor-In-Chief

Through our hard work and dedication, we were able to achieve something we thought we never could.

It has been a long and winding task to complete this yearbook, but the feeling of accomplishment and success is the greatest reward one can receive.

There is nothing greater than looking back so many years from now, at all the memories shared with friends and faculty, all the people we have met and friendships we have made, throughout our college years. And it is in this yearbook, as in every yearbook, the chance to do just that — it's for all of us to see, because The Franciscan is a part of you and me!

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

No one would argue that each graduating class is faced with obstacles such as confusion, uncertainty, and fear of life beyond college however, what is unique to the class of 1991 is concern way beyond those normal apprehensions. It's almost impossible for any of us to overlook the national and international problems that we are posed with. These problems will only make the transition from St. Francis College environment to the real world a more difficult task.

At the time of writing this letter the United States is engaged in WAR with Iraq, a war that will not seem to end quickly, but rather linger over the news for weeks. This war, although possibly justified, will bring death to several Americans and destruction to land and innocent people. Closer to home is the feeling that if the war doesn't end shortly, will a draft be re-activated, and as newly graduating college students will we be asked to go and defend our country. A year ago my fellow classmates and I, growing up in the 80's, familiar with U2, recycling, and O'Keefes; who even knew who Saddam Hussein was, but today we find it hard to conceive what the meaning of war really is. Besides war, recession is another problem we as college students face. Unemployment is at its highest rate in years, layoffs and hiring freezes are common policies for companies. As college graduates the career world looks bleak and dim, and the desire to remain in college one more year seems inviting, but in all reality we must face the real world and pursue our goals with diligence and determination.

Like all others who have been confused, we will conform to the times. St. Francis College has prepared us well for the unpredictable situations ahead that we will face. And to think that after one semester I almost left St. Francis because I wanted to better prepare myself for what the future had planned for me. At St. Francis I received a strong, fortified and well balanced education that has prepared me to tackle the hardest obstacles. As Student Body President I've watched many obstacles hinder students and organizations. Even without money or support St. Francis students have triumphed. This was almost the year without the yearbook, yes funds were that scarce, but with the determination which St. Francis College students have acquired VICTORY is achieved.

As my last of four great years at St. Francis comes to an end I feel sorrow to leave an institution that has brought me such good times and a bountiful education; but I also feel joy to have successfully completed an important segment of my life to only move forward and use what I have learned. These four years at St. Francis have been extremely enjoyable because of the enduring love and support of my family, advice and direction of the qualified faculty, and the friendships and brotherhood of close friends. I thank you all.

In the Spirit of St. Francis

STUDENT LIFE

TO SLEEP OR

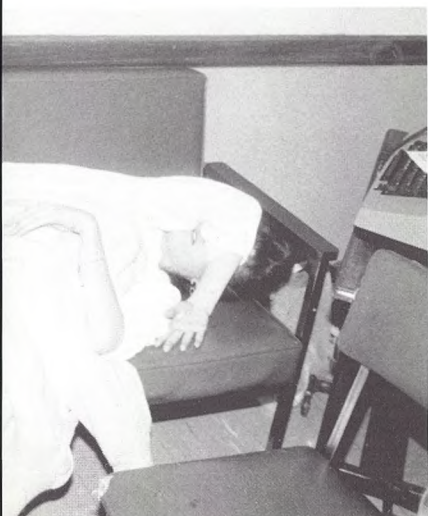

In Mexico, the stores, restaurants and shops all close daily for the siesta. In the tropics and the Mediterranean people observed afternoon rest periods as strictly as Americans valued their lunch hours, and at the College students freely adapted, and even looked forward to, this activity which their mothers had previously attempted to force upon them: the Nap!

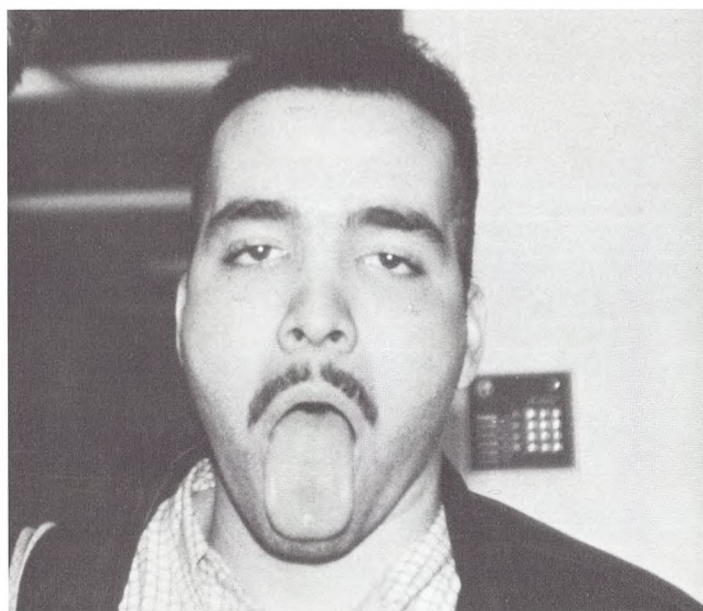

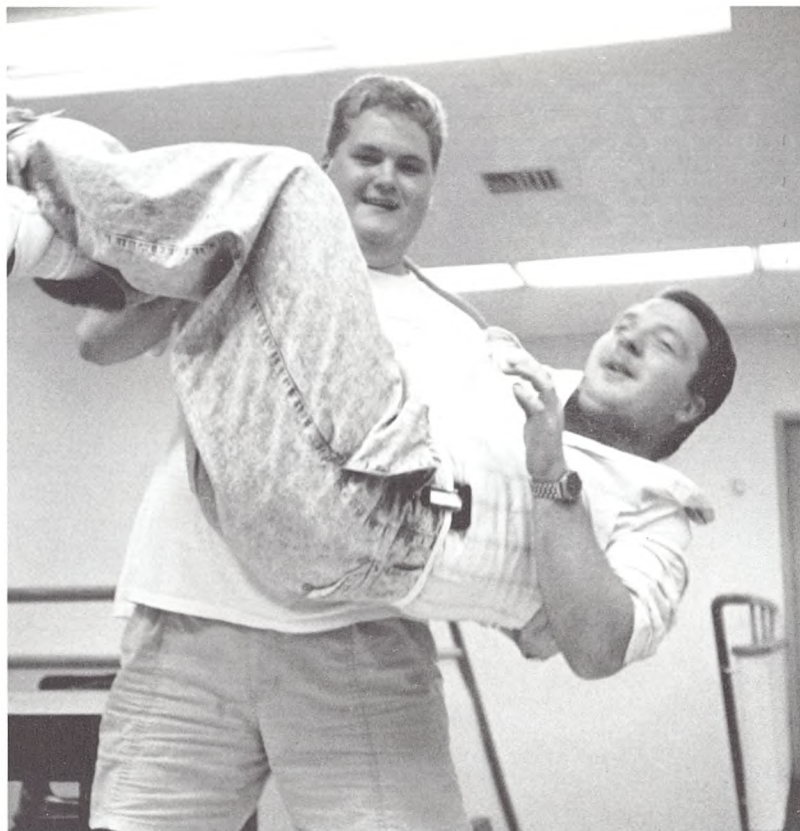

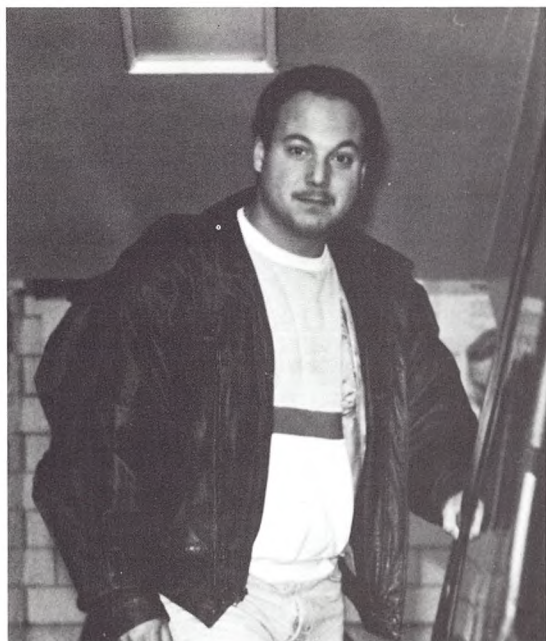

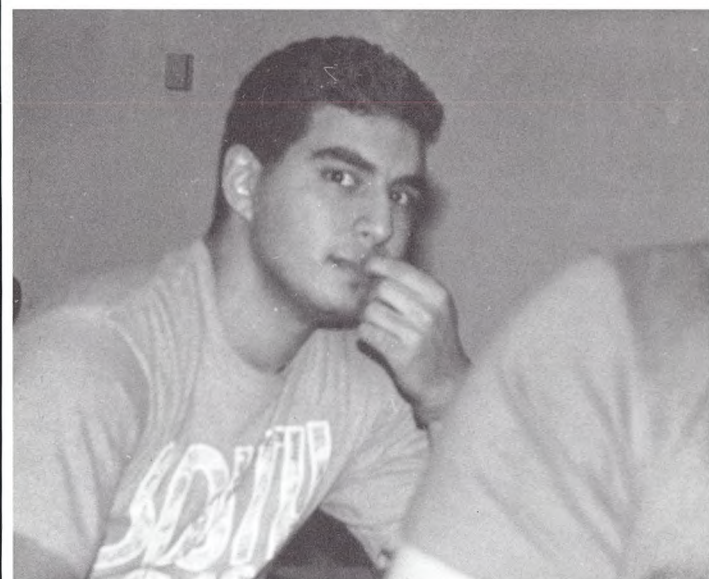

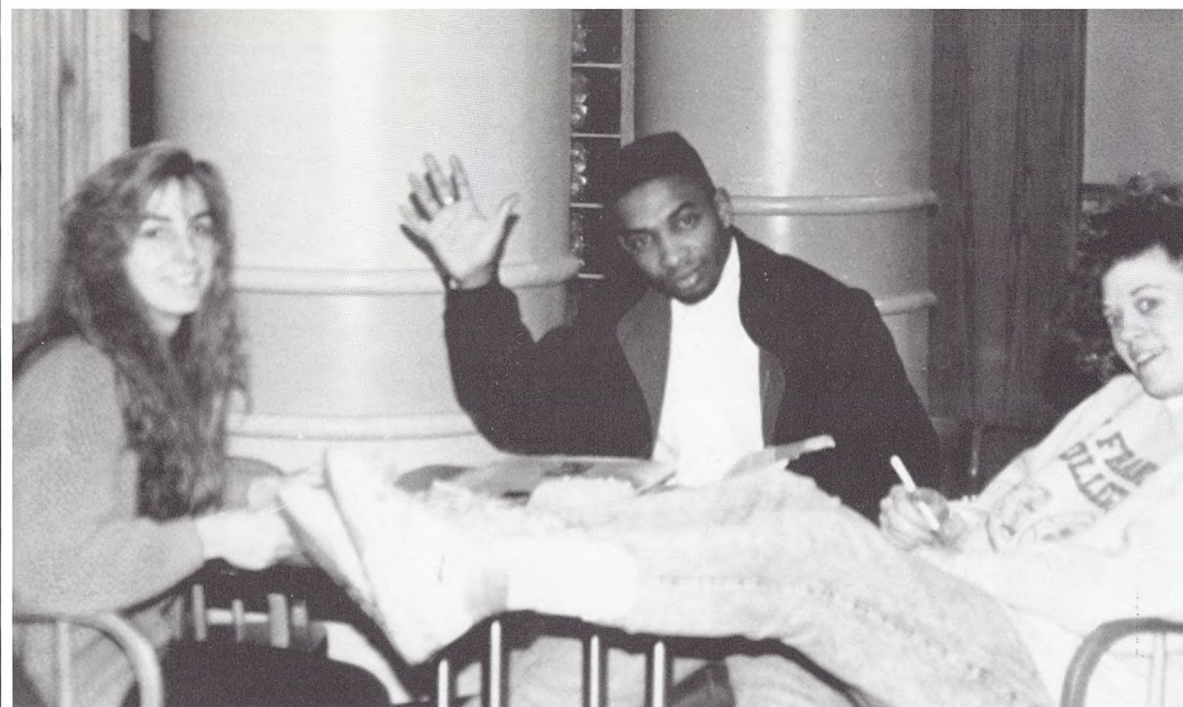

NOT TO SLEEP

According to a study published in the Jan. 29, 1989 Parade Magazine, 55% of college students napped on a regular basis. St. Francis students seem to be on the 45% side of the college students who don't nap on a regular basis. Between the hours in school, work, homework and extra-curricular activities, who has time to sleep? Busy schedules often make it difficult for students to squeeze in much needed rest. Every day we see students walking aimlessly around the hallways or rubbing their eyes from too little sleep the night before.

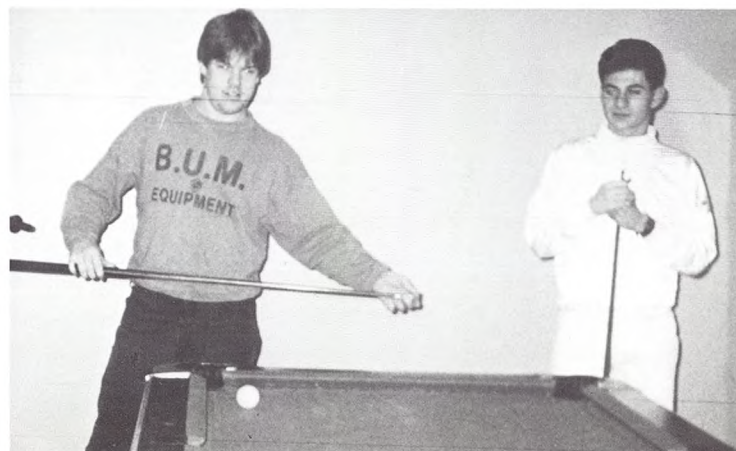

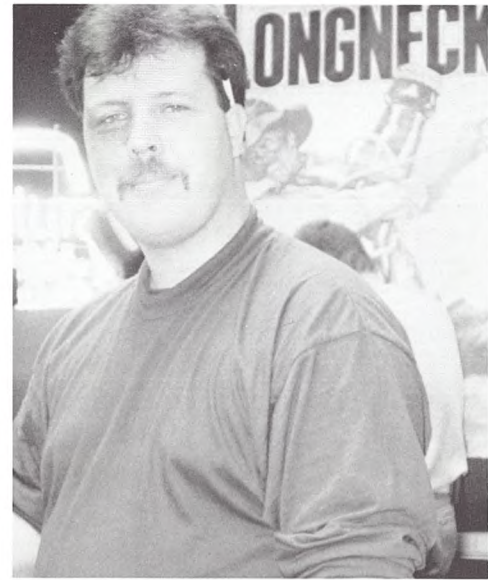

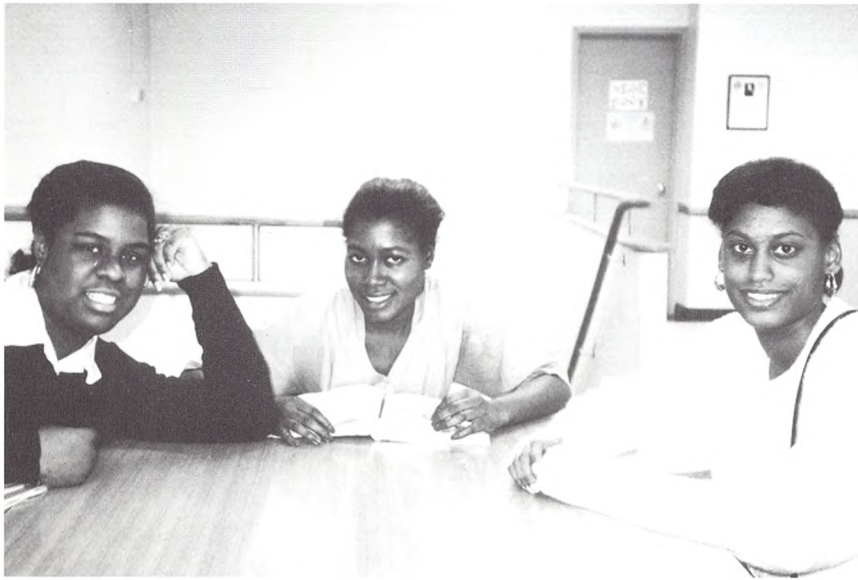

We found students who showed us a few ways to catch up on those extra Z's needed, so if you have a few extra moments and feel the need to "rest your eyes" follow their example and catch a few winks.

DEAN'S LIST RECEPTION

FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS

October marked the 50th anniversary of the publication of For Whom the Bells Tolls, Hemingway's classic novel about the Spanish Civil War. To celebrate this occasion, St. Francis College presented a commemorative program including an exhibit and lecture. The exhibit was organized from the personal collection of Dr. Frank Caricato.

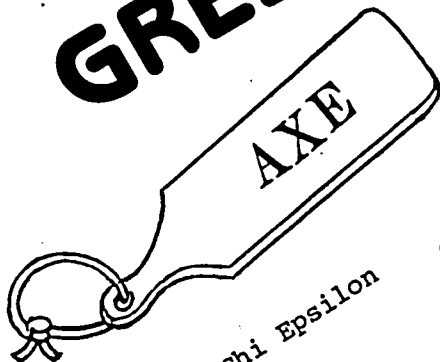

Dr. Grebstein is a critic and scholar who specializes in 20th century American literature. Dr. Grebstein spoke on important aspects of the novel and why it has maintained its widespread appeal after 50 years.

BROOKLYN ACCENTS

On November 28th, St. Francis College welcomed a group of established poets, prose writers, and playwrights to a day-long symposium celebrating Brooklyn Writers. The event, a popular one both within the college and in the borough in general, is called "Brooklyn Accents," and this was its fourth year. This year's program, titled "The Craft of Writing," focused on the creative process and its products.

Love Kristine

Dear Kelvin,

From the first day we met I knew there was something special about you. You weren't a "Fairweather Friend," but a "Stone Cold Gentleman," and a man with "Sensitivity." "Given a Chance," "Love Makes Things Happen," I guess that's how we became "Closer Than Just Friends." I hope we can "Make It Last Forever." Congratulations and "Keep on Movin'." Just Remember "I Will Always Love You."

"Always and Forever," Gabrielle

Love, Liz

Dear Mom and Dad,

Let me begin by saying, "Thank you!" Well your little girl is all grown up. Without your love and support I would not be where I am today. You never stopped believing in me and you taught me to believe in myself. You have always been there when I needed you most, never once did you let me down. I'm the luckiest girl to have two such caring and loving parents. I am very proud to be your daughter. In my heart I'll always be "Daddy and Momm's little girl!" I love you.

Love, Ethel McDonnell

P.S. Dad no more tuition!! Go buy a condo in Florida!

To my dear sisters,

Mary, Regina, Kelly, Susan, Joan;

What would life be like without five big sisters, probably boring! Having all of you made growing up so much fun. You taught me about boys, wearing make-up, how to dress in style, how to dance. But most important you taught me how important family is. My whole life no matter what obstacle I came upon I knew I could count on my big sisters to help me out. You were always there when I needed you. Thank you all for putting up with your Baby Sister, without all of you I never could have become a college graduate.

I love you All so much,
your little sis,
Ethel

Dear Victor,

St. Francis is important to me for two reasons, one I received a college diploma here and second I met the man of my dreams. We've been together for over a year and it's been wonderful. You have brought me so much happiness. Everyday seems to get brighter when we're together. Thank you for all the love and support you have given me. I love you very much and can't imagine myself with anyone but you. Like our song says "I've looked all my life for you and now you're here . . ."

All my love forever,
always and a day!
Ethel

Janet Dawson,

Good Luck in all your future endeavors.
