ST. FRANCIS COLLEGE

Office of the President

Dear Graduates:

It is with great pleasure that I congratulate the St. Francis College Class of 2001.

Your graduation marks the successful ending of your undergraduate studies and the beginning of your very bright and promising futures. Your daily presence will be missed as you have contributed to the College's reputation as undergraduates. As new members of the alumni family you will continue to support and uphold the traditions, values and precepts of St. Francis College as you go forward in all that you do in the world.

All of us in the St. Francis College community wish you the very best and look forward to seeing you on many return visits to your Alma Mater.

Congratulations.

Sincerely in St. Francis,

Frank J. Macchiarola
President

The following pages are dedicated to the professors leaving St. Francis College. Dr. Ann Amore has been appointed President of Rosemont College, Pennsylvania. Dr. Nino Langiulli and Dr. Timothy Quigley have retired from St. Francis College after more than 35 years of service.

Ann Amore, Ph.D.

Dr. Ann Amore has been the Vice-President of College Relations and Special Events for the past 22 years. Recently, Dr. Amore has been appointed President of Rosemont College, Pennsylvania. Those who have worked with her or have had the honor of being taught by her know how much St. Francis loses with her departure.

President Macchiarola states: "Dr. Ann Amore is a dynamic and brilliant educator and administrator. Rosemont College has chosen wisely and I know she will serve with distinction. We are truly sad to lose her, but filled with great joy over her new challenge." When he learned about the appointment, Dr. Macchiarola said that he "was elated for her but sad for us."

Dr. Ann Amore has obtained her Bachelors of Arts and Master of Arts in English at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, in 1969, and 1976 respectively, and her Ph.D. in English at New York University, in 1996. In addition to being Vice-President of College Relations, Dr. Amore has been an adjunct associate professor of English at St. Francis since 1997. Dr. Amore has instilled in her students the love for reading the work of great writers such as Henry James, Edith Wharton and James Joyce. As she used to say, understanding a novel is above all understanding oneself, because each of us offer a personalized view of what the writer might have thought. In her literature classes not only have we learned about outstanding pieces of work, but we also learned about ourselves. Her brilliance, energy and dedication to us, her students, have determined us time and again to register for her courses.

As Vice-President, Dr. Amore has coordinated major fund raising campaigns for: the establishment of an endowed scholarship program at St. Francis College which now funds 81 scholarships; the expansion of the College's McGarry Library; the renovation and establishment of the McArdle Student Center; the renovation of the College's Auditorium and the creation of the Callahan Conference Center. Also she has organized and supervised the year-long St. Francis College Centennial Celebration, revamped and improved the College's publications and marketing strategy resulting in increased enrollment, as well as increased Alumni Annual Giving to the College. She has initiated a comprehensive and well-received program of community events which has drawn visitors of all ages to St. Francis College.

One of the achievements Dr. Amore is most proud of is the establishment of a permanent endowed scholarship in the memory of her mother, The Anne Longo-Amore Scholarship, in amount of $75,000, which will allow a deserving student to attend St. Francis College tuition free every year. Dr. Amore's parents always knew the importance of being educated. They encouraged and supported her to complete her education.

Dr. Amore has been appointed Honorary Member of Duns Scotus Honor Society, and this year she has been offered The Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters for her extraordinary contribution to St. Francis College.

Learning about the departure of Dr. Amore, members of administration started a scholarship in her name. For those who have worked with her, or who have been her students, Dr. Ann Amore is irreplaceable. She has constantly filled our lives with joy, and we all have come to admire her modesty and her great elegance in simplicity.

We will miss You, Professor Ann!

Nino Langiulli, Ph. D.

Dr. Nino Langiulli retired after 41 years of teaching at St. Francis College. He started as instructor in Theology in 1961 and has taught Philosophy since 1965. Dr. Langiulli's retirement brought much sadness to his students and to members of faculty and administration equally. As one of his students in my freshman year, I found Philosophy 101 extremely challenging and gratifying. Dr. Langiulli pushed his students to their limits, and thanks to his determination to make them "go the distance," as he used to say, his students obtained not only fundamental knowledge of philosophy, but also subtlety of thought and reason.

Dr. Langiulli has always expected diligence and hard work of his students because he himself has been an industrious student. He obtained his B.A. in Philosophy at Maryknoll College in 1955, then the M.A. in Theology at Maryknoll Seminary in 1957, M.A. in English at Hunter College of the C.U.N.Y. in 1960, M.A. at the University of Turin, Italy in 1961, and M.A. in Philosophy at New York University in 1965. In 1973, Nino Langiulli obtained his Ph.D. in Philosophy at New York University.

Dr. Langiulli received many awards and honors for his great teaching and leadership skills. In 1991, Dr. Langiulli was presented with the Sears Roebuck Competitive Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership award. He received the Pax et Bonum Medal for 15 and 25 years of service at St. Francis College. In 1980 he was elected by the Honor Students to the Duns Scotus Honor Society. He also received the Franciscan Spirit Award given by Student Government Association. In 1966, Dr. Langiulli was nominated to the Danforth Associates for Excellence in teaching and commitment to its Personal Dimension. In 1960, Fulbright and the Italian government gave Nino Langiulli a grant to study Contemporary European Philosophy in Turin.

Dr. Langiulli published a series of books and articles, reviews and translations throughout his career. He was the editor of European Existentialism (1997), The Existentialist Tradition (1971), and in 1992 he published Possibility, Necessity and Existence. From 1989 until 1996, he was the associate editor of Measure, a journal dedicated to academic freedom and integrity.

At St. Francis College, Dr. Langiulli taught Basic problems in Philosophy, Logic or Reasoning and Argumentation, Theories of Human Nature, Theories of Knowledge, Moral Philosophy, Political Philosophy, Metaphysics, Existentialism, Medieval Philosophy, Contemporary Philosophy, Philosophy of Law.

His students have learned valuable lessons about themselves. Dr. Langiulli challenged them spiritually and intellectually, tested their abilities to understand the world, while understanding great ideas and great philosophers. Exceptional men are hard to encounter. His students and those who worked with him feel honored and blessed to have had him as professor, and friend. He taught them respect for life and integrity, values he carries with himself.

An endowed scholarship in his name has been started at St. Francis College, and the first to receive in 2000 was Philosophy student Andrew Fisher. The scholarship will carry on Dr. Langiulli's name and will remind St. Francis College of how great a professor and a man he is.

Timothy Quigley, Ph.D

Dr. Thomas Quigley retired after 37 years of teaching at St. Francis College. He has taught Chemistry at the College since 1964. Dr. Quigley has obtained his B.S. in Chemistry at St. Francis College in 1952. In 1959, he completed the M.S. in Physical Chemistry at Brooklyn College, where he was teacher assistant and conducted research. In 1964 he received his Ph.D. in Physical Chemistry and Analytical Chemistry at Rutgers University, New Jersey, where he also was instructor.

Dr. Quigley's dedication to teaching and to his students has been recognized and rewarded throughout his career. In 1974, he was inducted as honorary member of Alpha Xi Chapter of Chi Beta Phi National Science Honor Society. He received the Pax et Bonum Medal for 15 and 25 years of teaching at St. Francis College. Dr. Quigley was offered the New York Section of the American Chemical Society's Achievement Award. In 1988, he received the Space Science Students Involvement Program Certificate from NASA and the National Science Teachers Association. Student Government Association declared Dr. Quigley the Faculty of the Year, and in 1993 he received the Alumni Association Distinguished Faculty Award. Same year he was given the L.I.U. Presidential Award for work with high school teachers. This year, Dr. Quigley received the St. Francis College Administrator of the Year Award from the Athletics Department.

As a faculty member, Dr. Quigley dedicated much of his time to a series of committees. He was chairman of the Academic Standards Committee, the Athletic Policy Committee, the Nominating Committee. He also was the Chairman of the Scholarship and Grants in Aids Committee, which became the Financial Aid and Scholarship Committee.

Dr. Thomas Quigley was moderator of the Duns Scotus Honors Society and the Ice Hockey Club. He participated in many activities involving students beyond his teaching at the College. Dr. Quigley was member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors and chairman of Red and Blue Committee of Alumni Board.

Outside the College, Dr. Quigley was member of the American Chemical Society (ACS), the Education Committee of the New York Section ACS, and member of the Membership Committee of the New York Section ACS. Dr. Quigley became the chairman of the Brooklyn Subsection of the New York Section ACS, and member of the Sigma Xi Science Society.

At St. Francis College, Dr. Quigley taught General Chemistry I and II, Analytic Chemistry, Instrumental Analysis, Physical Chemistry I and II, Biochemistry and Chemistry and Life.

Dr. Thomas Quigley is described by his students as demanding but fair. He expected much hard work and dedication from them, and, in order to get an excellent grade, "he gives you a run for your money" (Elise Francis, student). He was a challenging professor who gave more than he expected to receive. When asked one question, he would explain it with much patience and detail. Beyond his being a tough and demanding professor, his students always found a soft-talking, understanding and helpful friend. His goal was to provide his students with quality, long-lasting knowledge in Chemistry, difficult science which requires, above all, hard work and love for the subject. As he used to be chairman of the Chemistry and Mathematics Department, he insisted on his students using the "handy-dandy calculator," as one student remembers being his favorite phrase.

His students and the faculty and administration members expressed their regret at Dr. Quigley's retirement. He will be missed!

Commencement

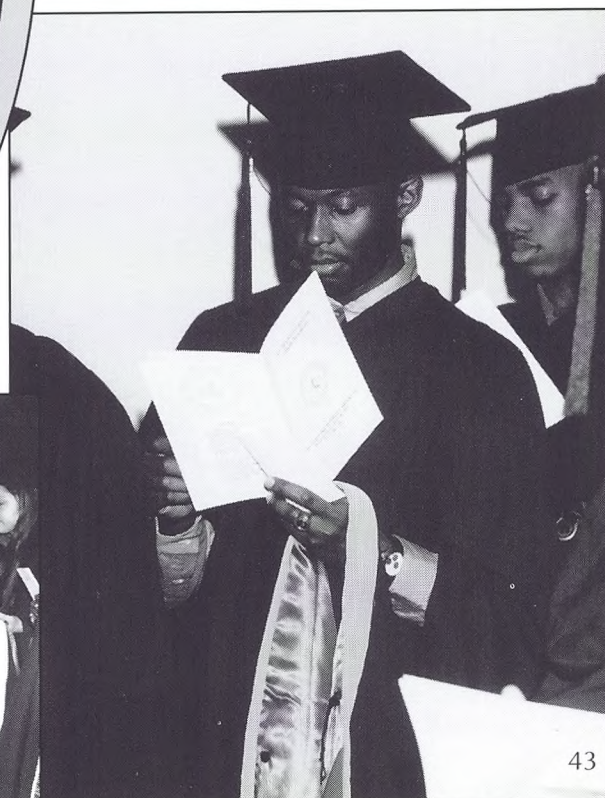

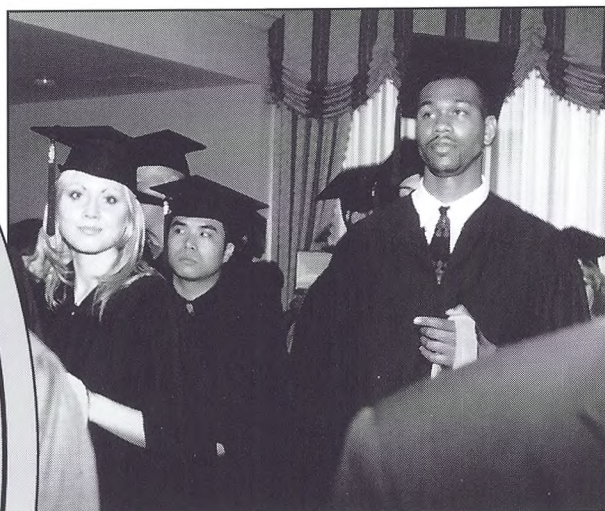

The Commencement took place at The New York Marriott Brooklyn on May 30. The Order of Exercises was as follows: the Processional; the National Anthem; the Invocation, given by Reverend Brother Kevin Smith, O.S.F., Ph.D.; the Greeting, given by President Frank Macchiarola; the Commencement Address, delivered by Dr. Ann Amore, Vice-President College Relations and Adjunct Professor at S.F.C.; the presentation of the honorary degrees to Dr. Ann Amore, Dr. Edward Griffith and Dr. Thomas Pickard '72; the Valedictorian Address, presented by Stephanie Napolitano; the presentation of candidates, academic awards and honors; the benediction; Alma Mater; and the Recessional.

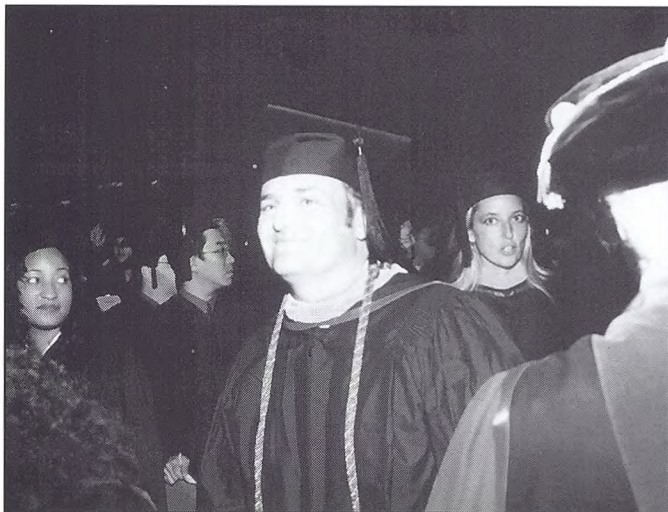

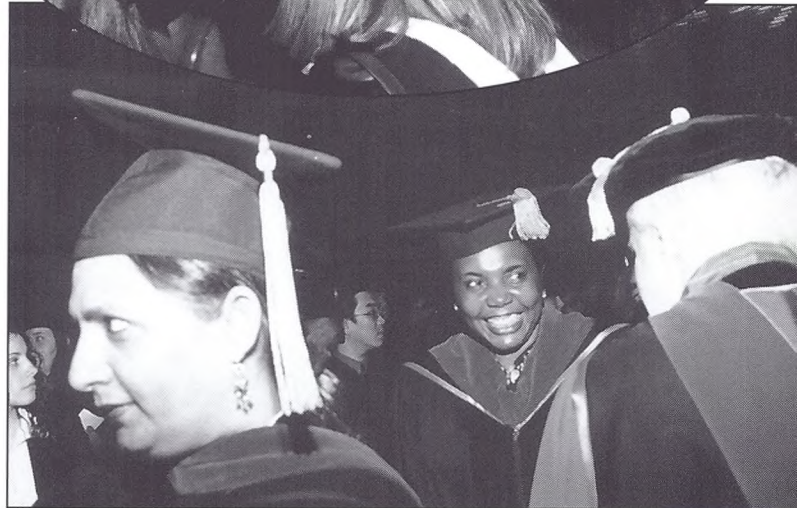

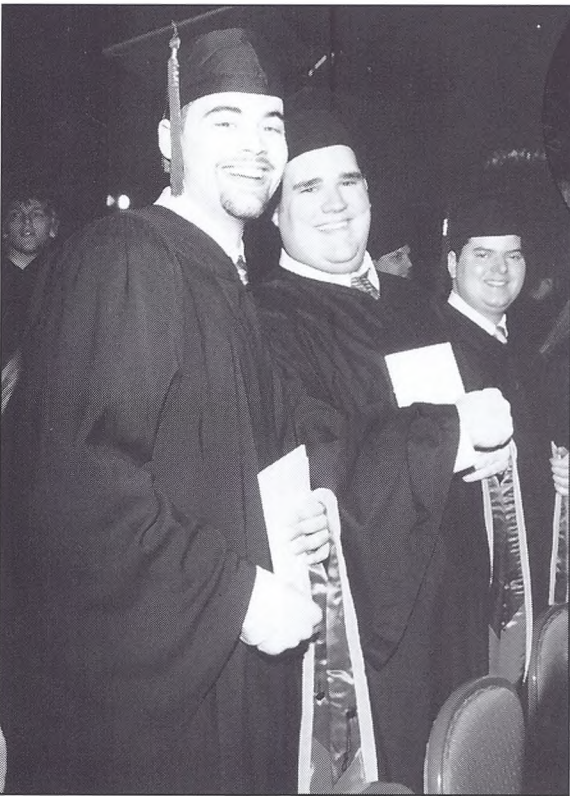

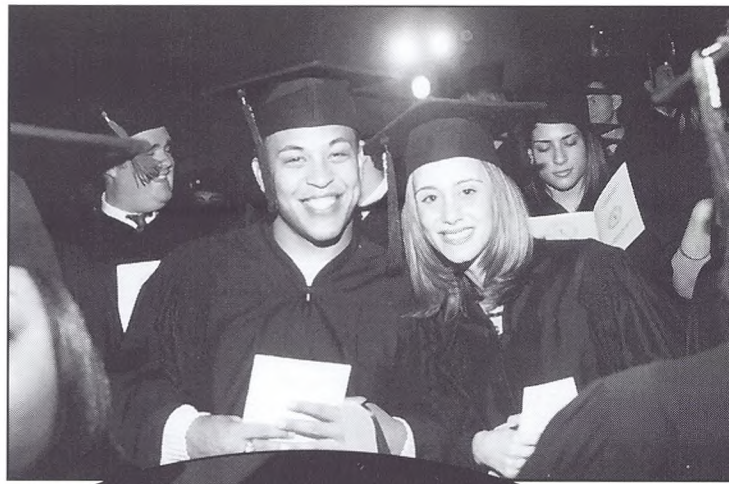

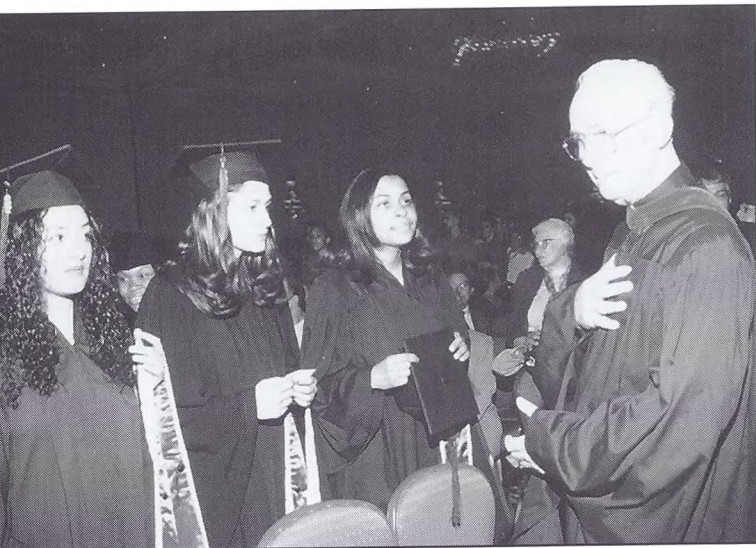

At the completion of a college education the graduation ceremonies are called Commencement, or beginning, not because the students will then most likely begin their careers, but because that day of leaving the college marks the beginning of their education, not the end. If properly formed by their collegiate years, they now have some sense of what they do not know and they are equipped to begin a life-long learning process, impelled by a curiosity which their reading and studies have planted deep within them. The concept of life-long learning, of which we hear talk these days, is not a new invention, but rather the inevitable result of a proper college education.

"Membership in Alpha Phi Delta is eternal and carries with it the obligation of permanent activity and support."

The brothers of Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity at St. Francis College have strived for academic excellence and community awareness for the past forty years. In 1961, Brother Camillus Casey, OSF dedicated his life to the development of our Italian Heritage until the day of his passing in June of 1981. On April 30th 2001, the Brothers of AFD and St. Francis College have dedicated one of the paintings above our school elevators in honor of his permanent activity and support.

Our Greek organization is a part of the National Inter-Fraternity Conference, which represents 60 college fraternities with over 5,500 chapters on nearly 650 campuses throughout the United States. We promote and strengthen the importance and meaning of eternal brotherhood.

For the past three years we have dedicated our time in helping feed the homeless in a community shelter. For the past ten years we have helped the New York State Blood Center organize the blood drive twice a year. The brothers of the Beta Sigma Chapter appreciate the active support of the numerous donors involved in this important cause.

For the past academic year the Botanical Society has taken part in a number of events which were geared towards the refurbishment of the greenhouse. The Botanical Society also raised funds towards charity and organized activities to enhance the academic growth of our members especially in the area of Science.

In Fall 2000 the Botanical Society held a miniature Christmas tree sale, the proceeds from which were used to purchase toys. The toys were then donated to St. Mary's Hospital for children in Queens.

The Botanical Society also held a number of talks that were designed to keep us up to date on some of the most recent scientific findings. A symposium was held in which Dr. Burt Goldberg, chairman of the biology department, made a presentation on his most recently published paper. We also had a speaker from CCMP (Coalition Of Concerned Medical Professionals). The Botanical Society also planned our first Alumni Lunch in Fall 2000. Alumni, who are now respected professionals in the area of science, were invited to share with students, who are now aspiring to become scientists and doctors.

The Botanical Society also organized field trips to the Brooklyn Botanic Garden and Pfizer Manufacturing Company.

The Troupers, founded in 1925, is the College's dramatic organization. The director of The Troupers, Joseph Mingrone, directs two full-length plays each year. During the academic year 2000 - 2001 The Troupers staged two plays: "Picnic" and "You Can't Take It With You."

Although each play requires dedication and many week-ends spent in the College's Founder's Hall, the actors have a great time and always come back to audition for new plays. This year, three Troupers have graduated: Lauren Alleyne, Rita Grace and Michael T. Strochansky. Congratulations and best of luck. You will be missed.

*"Sports do not build character.
They reveal it."
Heywood Hale Broun*

Intercollegiate Athletics

The greatest sports stories are often those told about the underdog team that, lacking fancy uniforms and equipment, gets inspired by a fiery pep talk from a devoted coach and goes out and soundly trounces the opposition. Stories like this can be told time and time again in the history of sports at St. Francis. When there were little more than 100 students attending the college in the midst of the Great Depression, the basketball team alone racked up victory after victory against teams ten times its size. Then there was the time the swim team swept all first honors in a meet held at a borrowed pool. The football players had similar success without benefit of a home field.

Many outstanding "firsts" were chronicled in the sports pages of the college. St. Francis was the first college in the city of New York to sponsor a basketball team and the first Catholic college in the nation to start a lacrosse team. The school had integrated athletic teams several years before Jackie Robinson broke the racial barrier in professional sports. The first women's team quickly matched the successes of men, and, in fact, the leading all-time basketball scorer at St. Francis was a woman.

Perhaps St. Francis' teams are considered regional and even local by today's standards. Yet, several of them have participated in national tournaments, and have even seized first-place victories. Some of the more talented athletes have been drafted by professional teams and invited to the Olympic trials. When college basketball was in its heyday, thousands of fans filled Madison Square Garden to cheer the St. Francis team. One of the key ingredients for success in sports at SFC has been the ability to change with the times, to infuse vitality into athletic endeavors, and to persevere in the face of overwhelming odds.

In an address to the Alumni Association in November, 1961, Most Rev. Dominic Coscia, O.F.M., Bishop of Jatai, Brazil, summed up the spirit that has always enabled St. Francis to compete successfully:

Franciscan spirit does not depend on the size of the school. It is something deeper, which is acquired from the friars. This school has always been a struggling man's college. The struggles the student has to undergo and the hardships he has to endure give him a better appreciation of the education he receives.

In no other area of college life was this more evident than in athletic competition. The St. Francis teams competed against schools with more money, better facilities, and bigger drawing power. Yet they still triumphed more often than not.

Hundred Years

Men's Basketball

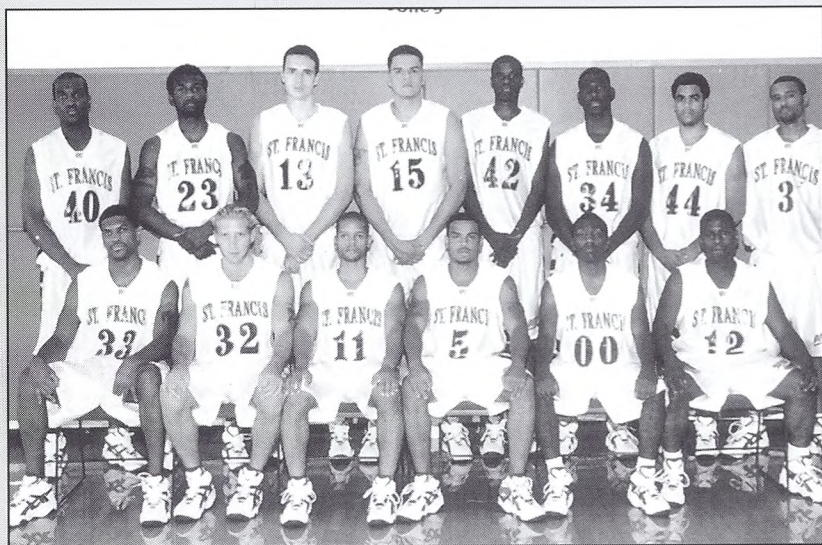

Men's basketball team made history this past season. The Terriers captured their first-ever regular-season Northeast

Conference championship, and advanced to the NEC Championship Game for the first time ever. As a result, St. Francis appeared on national television (ESPN2) for the first time in school history. The Terriers' run to an NCAA tournament berth fell just short, however, as St. Francis lost to Monmouth University in the final game.

For the second consecutive season, St. Francis' roster sported a pair of First-Team All-NEC stars in seniors Richy Dominguez and Steven Howard. Howard was subsequently named a District II All-Star by the National Association of Basketball Coaches and was a First-Team All-Metropolitan selection by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers' Association. Dominguez was also honored by the Metropolitan Writers, as he was named to the Third Team.

However, the 2000-2001 Terriers were far from a two-player team. Senior point guard Greg Nunn capped off an exceptional career as St. Francis' all-time leader in both assists and steals. Senior Heberth Reyes ranks second in career blocked shots after another fine season, and junior Clifford Strong made an immediate impact on the Terriers' fortunes when he joined the team at mid-season. Beyond the starting five, every member of the Terriers contributed to the team's success in some way during the season.

Women's Basketball

Women's basketball was a talented squad, but featured a roster with eight new players. The team showed its inexperience in the final record, but prospects for the future are very bright.

The season was highlighted by a homecourt victory over Monmouth University, one of the pre-season Northeast Conference favorites, on Hall of Fame Day. The victory was especially special for head coach Christine Cunningham, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame that evening.

The future appears bright due to the emergence of the team's freshman class. Freshmen Colleen Carbone and Caitlin O'Malley both started throughout the season, and were consistent contributors from the beginning of the year, through the final game.

Transfer Antoinette Saitta added a new dimension to the Terriers' game when she joined the team at mid-season after transferring.

Seniors Jazmine Rhodes, Friederike Stenzel, Angela Merlino, and Katie Zarick concluded their careers with a high level of effort. They were instrumental in the development of the new Terriers, and their impact will be seen over the next few seasons.

Men's Water Polo

Adding to a tradition of excellence, men's water polo team finished the season with a best-ever 34-3 final record, and put together a 23-game winning streak. For the second consecutive year, St. Francis came within one game of advancing to the NCAA Men's Water Polo Championship, an event which includes only four teams. However, St. Francis' hopes of playing for the national title came to an end in the final minute of the third overtime period in the Collegiate Water Polo Association championship game against Navy.

For the second year in a row, the Terriers were undefeated in CWPA Northern Division regular-season play. In 2000, St. Francis won its first-ever Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Championship.

At the conclusion of the season, the honors came rolling in for the Terriers. Senior Roland Manyai was selected as a Third-Team All-American, and was one of four finalists for the Peter J. Cutino Award, which is water polo's equivalent of football's Heisman Trophy or basketball's Naismith Award. Junior Ali Gozluk was chosen as an Honorable Mention All-American. Seniors Csaba Biro and Tamas Katona both earned All-Conference, All-ECAC, and All-CWPA Tournament honors.

In April, Katona was awarded an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, becoming the first-ever student-athlete from St. Francis College to earn such an award.

For the third consecutive year, the Terriers were ranked first in the national academic rankings of all NCAA Men's Water Polo teams. Terrier coach Carl Quigley has built a program which is strong in both classroom and in the competitive arena.

Women's Water Polo

The St. Francis College women's water polo team closed the 2001 spring season with a 4-11 record, continuing to increase its win total over previous seasons. The Terriers posted a pair of victories over Marist College, while also defeating Connecticut College and Penn State University-Behrend.

The top scorer for the Terriers was freshman Jelena Maljkovic. Junior Caitlin Smith and sophomores Patricia Comer and Carmit Reuven were also consistent contributors. In addition to Maljkovic, the Terrier roster featured six other freshmen, all of whom contributed to the team's performance in the pool.

Maljkovic became the first Terrier in the program's brief history to earn First-Team

All-Collegiate Water Polo Association honors.

Junior Jason Fardella had a dominant season on the mound, posting a school-record eight wins and leading the staff in earned-run average (2.68) and strikeouts (86) for the second consecutive year. He was a three-time Northeast Conference Pitcher of the Week and the Northeast Conference Pitcher of the Year, and fashioned a 6-1 record against Northeast Conference competition. Junior Anthony DeNicola also had a fine season, going 4-4 with a 4.02 earned run average.

The Terriers' offensive leader was freshman Mike Molinini, who completed his rookie season with a .388 batting average, 13 doubles, three triples, four home runs, and 15 stolen bases. Junior Jason Iorio strengthened the outfield while batting .323 and leading the team with 16 stolen bases.

St. Francis placed five players on the All-Northeast Conference teams. Fardella was a First-Team selection. The Second Team featured four Terriers: senior catcher Kasey Koslowski, sophomore designated hitter Anthony Esposito, freshman second baseman Anthony Giudice, and Michael Molinini.

Women's Softball

The St. Francis College softball team concluded the 2001 season with an 8-38 overall record and a 5-17 mark in the Northeast Conference, finishing tenth in the final league standings. The Terriers' play improved late in the season, as St. Francis won four of its final 13 games, shortly after a three-game winning streak over Easter weekend.

Sophomore Alex Richardson capped off her outstanding campaign as the team's leader in most offensive categories, including batting average, runs scored, hits, doubles, triples, home runs, total bases, and runs batted in. She also led the Terriers in innings pitched.

The team's top pitcher was sophomore

Sandra Carey, who collected half of the Terriers' wins and finished the season with a 2.93 earned-run average.

If the Terriers are to make a step forward next season, they will need to replace the contributions of the team's three seniors: Rosa Caruso, Michelle Miraglia, and Lisa Rivieccio, all of whom played key roles for the team during their careers.

Team Roster: Michelle Miraglia, Joanna Santino, Tanya Banzil, Lisa Gentile, Sandra Carey, Amy Vadala, Amanda Pucci, Vanessa Munz, Rosa Caruso, Alyson Lamonte, Alex Richardson, Samantha Barchitta, Abigail Fields, Lisa Rivieccio, Christina Brovakos, Debbie Thompson, Samantha Griffin

Men's and Women's Track

Cross-country men's and women's teams were both led by juniors throughout the fall season. For the men, the top performers were juniors Patrick Dillon and Thomas Rivera, while the women were paced by junior Nefatari Ellis and Athinoula Papadopoulou. Both the men and women finished 12th at the Northeast Conference Cross-Country Championships, which were hosted by Central Connecticut State University in October.

Indoor track and field teams competed throughout the winter season, with the season reaching its climax at the Northeast Conference Championships in mid-February. Although the men finished 12th and the women 10th, there were some outstanding individual performances on the women's side. Junior Watasha Glasgow led the Terriers with a second-place finish in the 60-meter dash and a seventh-place finish in the 200-meter dash. Freshman Clair Perry added a sixth-place finish in the 60-meter dash, and the 4x400 meter relay team ran seventh.

Outdoor track season reached its climax over the first weekend of May at the Northeast Conference Championships. The men's team placed 12th in the final standings, while the women finished 10th. The men's team was led by junior Ron Azinge, who finished sixth in the 100-meter dash at the Northeast Conference Championships. Azinge, who also is a starter for the soccer team, was the team's top performer throughout the outdoor campaign. The women's team was led by junior Watasha Glasgow. Glasgow was edged by .03 seconds in the finals of the 100-meter dash, earning a second-place finish, and added a third-place finish in the 200-meter dash finals. Adding to the Terriers' scoring were sophomore Nneka London, who ran sixth in the 400-meter dash, and the women's 4x100 meter relay team. Finally, the Terriers finished seventh in the 4x400 meter relay, and junior Margaret Von der Osten was eighth in the high jump.

Men's and Women's Tennis

The St. Francis College tennis teams both suffered through winless seasons this past year.

The main highlight for the team was the play of Jason Duval at first singles for the Terrier men. Duval posted a 9-3 record this year, including a 6-0 mark against Northeast Conference competition. Senior Chad Davis and sophomore Terrance Chariandy also won matches during the season at second and third singles, respectively.

For the women, junior JoAnneyre McNeil was a tough opponent for all opponents at the number one singles position.

Men's and Women's Swimming

Men's swimming posted a 5-5 regular-season record, and finished a strong second at the Northeast Conference Invitational. Numerous school records were set throughout the season, as this was the strongest team the Terriers have assembled in many years.

Freshman Erno Tekauer was the star of the team in the short freestyle events. Tekauer not only smashed the school record in the 50-yard freestyle, but he was also the Northeast Conference champion and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) champion (St. Francis' first-ever individual ECAC champion).

Sophomore Shawn Pouchet was the Terriers' top breaststroke participant. Pouchet capped off his season with a first-place finish in the 100-yard breast at the Northeast Conference Invitational, and added a second-place finish in the 200-yard breast.

Sophomore Firat Cologlu and senior Filip Glowa were also consistently high scorers throughout the campaign.

With a 10-4 dual-meet record, the St. Francis College women's swimming team set a school record for victories. Illnesses prevented the team from placing higher at the Northeast Conference Championships, but that does not diminish the performance of the team throughout the season.

The Terriers were led by a trio of outstanding newcomers who were frequently triple-event winners. Freshman Catherine Dale dominated in the short freestyle events, setting school records throughout the season. Freshman Marina Shport and sophomore Danielle Timothy, the team's long-distance specialist, were also instrumental in the Terriers' victories.

Women's Volleyball

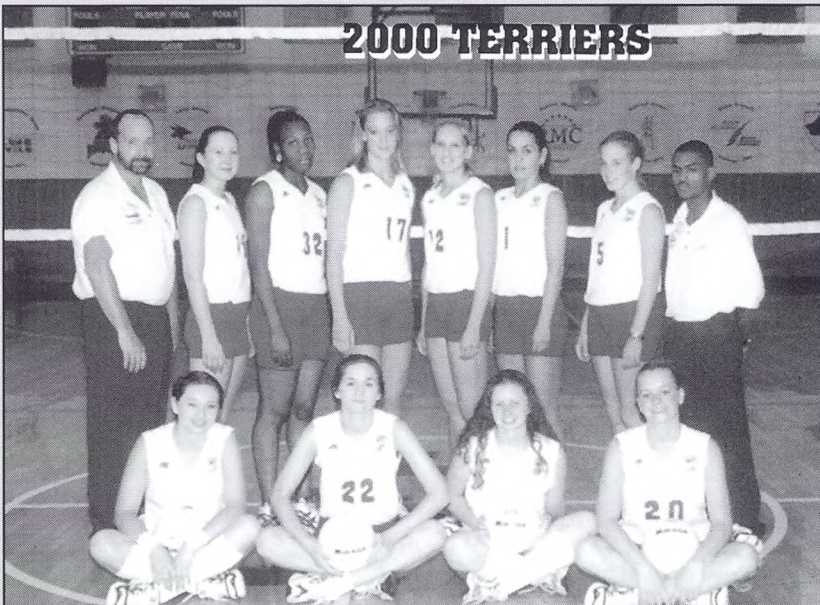

The St. Francis College women's volleyball team continued to climb the ladder in the Northeast Conference, finishing the season with an 11-19 overall record and a 3-6 record in league play. The Terriers were seeking their first NEC playoff appearance since the league reduced the field to six teams, and entered the final match of the season with a chance to reach the tournament.

The Terriers received a boost from the arrival of freshman Brittany Daniel, who finished the season as the team's leader in kills, digs, and service aces. The coaches in the Northeast Conference took notice of Daniel's ability, as she was the only freshman to earn All-Northeast Conference honors when she was named to the Second Team. Sophomores Sylwia Parzych and Julie Acuff both had outstanding offensive seasons, while sophomore Sylwia Turek finished the season with 999 assists.

St. Francis was the youngest team in the Northeast Conference, with a roster which featured only one senior and two juniors.

Men's Soccer

Men's soccer team returned to the Northeast Conference playoffs after a one-year hiatus. The Terriers finished the season with a 10-6-1 overall record, and a 7-2-1 mark in Northeast Conference play, giving them a second-place finish. St. Francis closed the regular season with a three-game winning streak, which included a 1-0 shutout victory over the league's regular-season and tournament champion Fairleigh Dickinson University. The Terriers also played a competitive non-league schedule, which included a 3-1 victory over the University of Wisconsin, a recent national championship team, on September 8. The season came to a close with a 2-0 loss to nationally-ranked UMBC in the Northeast Conference semifinals.

At the close of the season, five Terriers were selected by the Northeast Conference's coaches as All-Conference selections. Seniors Agard Radoncic and Mersim Beskovic, as well as freshman goalkeeper Marcus Maurice, were First-Team All-NEC honorees, while junior Agron Sokolji and sophomore Prince Ogodo were both chosen to the All-NEC Second Team.

Beskovic was selected by the Tampa Bay Mutiny in the fourth round of the Major League Soccer Superdraft. Although he was released during training camp, Beskovic was recently placed on the roster of the New York/New Jersey Metrostars, and made his Major League Soccer debut in a game against Dallas on April 28.

The S.G.A. Awards

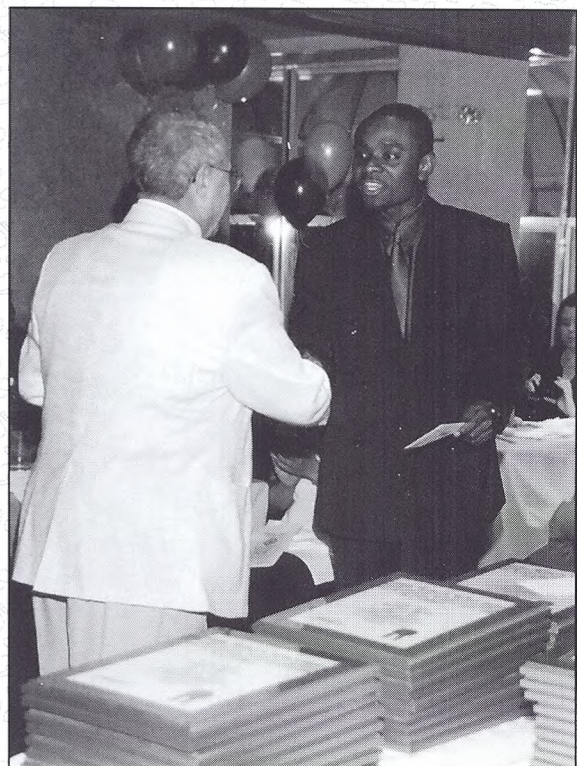

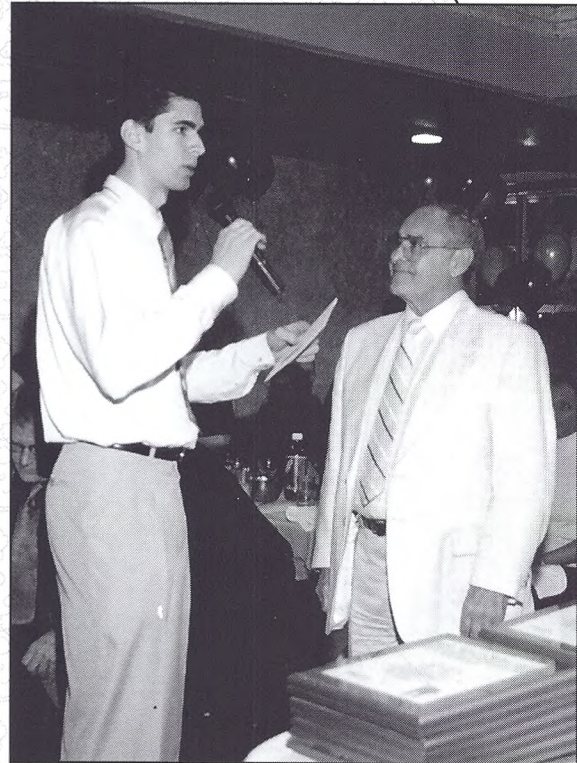

April 2001

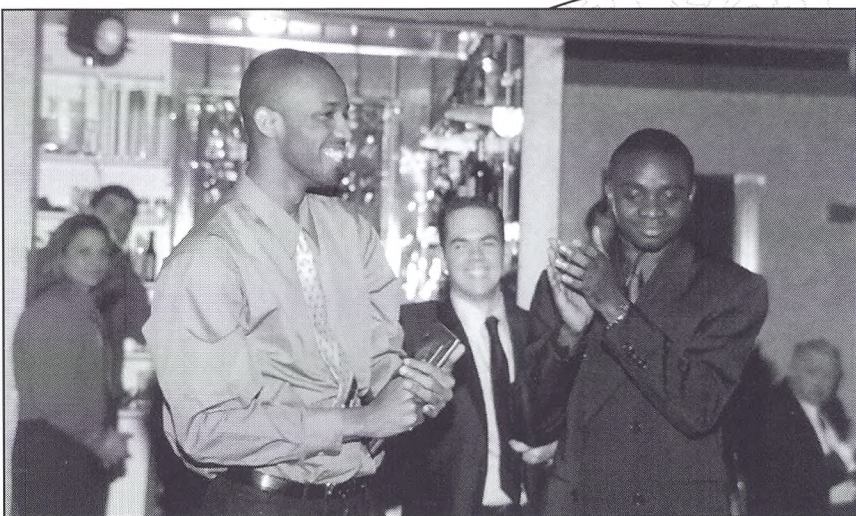

The Awards Dinner organized by the SFC Student Government Association is held every spring semester to honor and offer recognition to members of the St. Francis community who, throughout the year, have proved to be models of altruism and generosity. Awards such as The Dr. John Clifford Memorial Award, The Franciscan Spirit Award, Who's Who Among Student in American Colleges and Universities, The New Student Leader Awards, The John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Award are given to both student and faculty and administration members on a nomination and recommendation basis. The awards recipients are elected by a committee composed of administrative, faculty and S.G.A. members.

Dr. E. Setrakian presented the first awards recipients, the winner of the Delaney Speech Competition held every spring by the Communications Department. The competitors prepare an extemporaneous speech on a chosen topic.

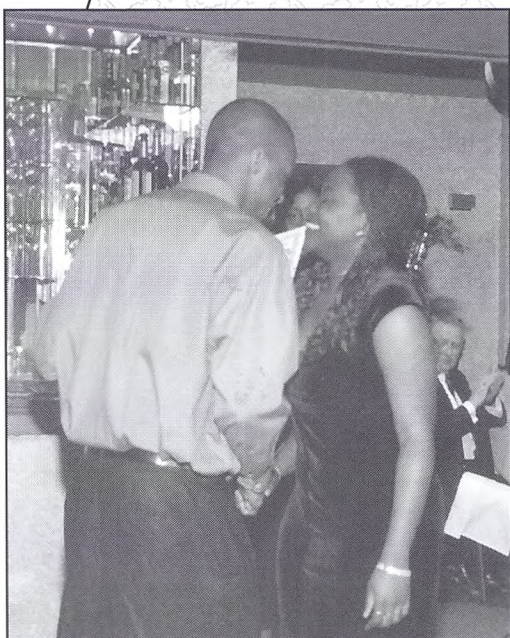

Michael T. Strochansky (above right) won the first place and a check of $100 which he donated towards the recovery of the SFC basketball player Richy Dominguez, diagnosed with cancer. The winner of the second place, the vice-president of the SGA, was Hakim Williams (down right). Third place winner was Meghan, Communications major.

The Aviation Department Awards were presented by Professor R. Gandy, the Chairperson of the Aviation Department, to seniors Emelinda DelaCruz and Anthony Segarra (bottom left).

“The Best Club of the Year” Award was given to the Caribbean Student Association, run by Denzil Streete (top left). He surprised the members of the club by rewarding Gizelle Sherwood (middle left) and Tula Richards with a special C.S.A. Award for their contribution to the club throughout the semester.

“The Who’s Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities” Awards were given to twenty St. Francis

College Students (above). This award is presented to students who deserve special recognition because of outstanding involvement and achievement in academic, extra curricular, and community activities.

"The Special S.G.A." Awards were presented by Hakim Williams to Gilberto Castro, Jr., Ronald Castorina (top right) and Monica Michalski.

"The New Student Leader" Awards were offered to Robert Oliva (freshman) and Gina Sandu (sophomore) (pictured beneath). This award is presented to freshmen and sophomores who are developing student leaders. Students nominated for this award address their generous contributions in time and energy to make extra curricular activities at the College flourish.

"The John Fitzgerald Kennedy" Memorial Award was established by the Student Government in the memory of the late President.

For many years, Dr. John Clifford served as a dedicated and concerned Dean for Student Affairs. His love for our community and understanding of its students have left an indelible mark even upon those who never knew him personally. To commemorate his spirit, loyalty, and dedication, the SGA has established this special award in his name. The award is given annually to the graduating senior who best represents the genuine unselfishness and the Franciscan Spirit so exemplified in the life of Dean Clifford. This year's recipient was handed by Dean Adams to Monica Michalski (right).

Terrier Tuesday is held on the day before the Fall semester classes begin. It is an event that is sponsored by the Student Government Association (SGA) for the incoming Freshman class. Over 350 member of the Freshman class attended this year's event. Terrier Tuesday begins with very special convocation in Founders Hall with words of welcome and wisdom from Dr. Macchiarola, the College's President, and several of the deans.

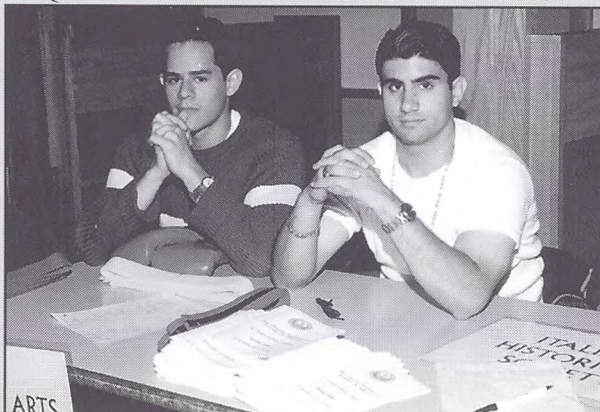

After the convocation, there is a club/organization fair in the Gorman Dining Hall. Over 30 student groups are represented at the fair to "strut their stuff" and recruit new members. These groups include the Caribbean Student Association, Latin American Society, Black Student Association, Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity, the College Chorus and the Italian Historical Society.

St. Francis College is committed to providing the local community with the opportunity to participate in the College's educational and cultural programs. This year's events provided something for everyone and reached a large and diverse audience of over 10,000 visitors. The extensive and entertaining roster included Public Service Convocation honoring former NYPD Commissioner Howard Safir, NYPD Detective Steven McDonald and Joan Snow (posthumously). The schedule also included a lecture by former Nobel Peace Prize winner Oscar Arias, a month of events for Hispanic Heritage month, art exhibits, films, author readings, business seminars, Kings County Shakespeare Festival, community forums on education and elder abuse, and much more. Due to this exceptional line up of events and an aggressive Public Relations campaign, St. Francis College's appeared in national and local newspapers over 500 times.

Michael and Diane (Acting 1) prepared a short play for Vincent D'Onofrio

St. Francis College received a special guest last month when actor Vincent D'Onofrio visited with students of the Communications Department. The visit was hosted by Dr. Edward Setrakian, veteran actor and Communications Department Chairman. D'Onofrio openly discussed how he trained himself for eight years in various acting schools and theaters before he got the call for the role in "Full Metal Jacket."

D'Onofrio went into great detail about working with Stanley Kubrick on the film and how he "was constantly apprehensive about being fired" on the set. He explained how Kubrick built a wall between the actor and director and how he felt he needed to prove he could play the part of Gomer Pile.

Vincent D'Onofrio came back to St. Francis during the Fall semester to teach Acting 1 together with Dr. Setrakian.

Open House

Open House was one of our largest ever. As usual the faculty were on hand to explain their majors and departments. The visitors were enthusiastic and really appreciated you, our students, for giving up a Sunday to introduce them to the college. The compliments were nice to hear and the guests were unanimous in complimenting you. You were definitely the stars and for that we are thankful.

An interesting fact about the day. Two of our alumni who had attended all of the Open Houses while they were students asked to come back and they organized the tour and guides. Another graduate came back and gave tours. We thank them. The day ended with food and refreshments for all.

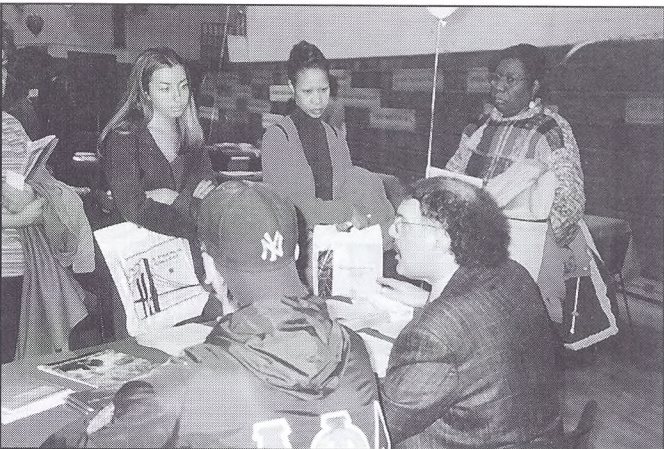

A beautiful day in the neighborhood. If you missed it, you missed a great time.

Family Day

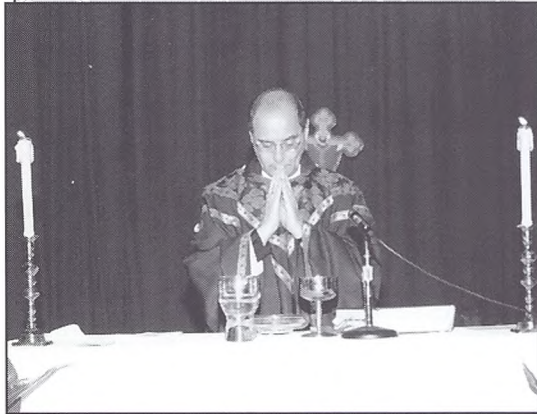

Br. Thomas Grady

Family Day is held each Fall semester for members of the Freshman Class and their families. This year's event, held on October 1st, attracted over 300 people. It provides these students and families a unique opportunity to visit the College and meet members of the St. Francis College family in an informal setting and relaxed atmosphere. The day began with Mass in Founders Hall, then convened with a special buffet lunch in the Gorman Dining Hall.

Highlights included faculty presentations by Dr. Greene - "Can Buildings Speak?" Dr. Hirsch - "Confessions of a Lonely Professor," Dr. Perper - "Who Killed St. Francis?" and Dr. Quick - "Economics-Who Cares?" There was also a tour of historic Brooklyn Heights led by Dr. Sparr and women's water polo practice. William Mallett, Student Activities

Mister and Miss St. Francis College

"A Mosaic of Mind and Beauty" was the theme adopted for the Caribbean Students' Association third annual Mr. & Miss St. Francis College Pageant held last November.

This year's pageant, through the diligent work of the 'Talent Scouts,' featured the most colorful array of contestants in the pageant's history. This was a true reflection of our richly diverse Franciscan community. In addition to the traditional swimwear and evening wear segments, we added a talent and more 'question and answer' segments. We were utterly determined to create as mentally taxing a program as possible, and judging by the various facial contortions of some contestants, I believe that we achieved our goal.

In the end junior Biology major Marlon Collins, and sophomore Mathematics major Deanna Phillippe emerged as Mr. and Miss St. Francis College 2000.

C.S.A. - Club of the Year

CSA in Washington D.C. - US Capitol

In April 2001, the Caribbean Students' Association was awarded the SGA "Club of the Year" award. The 2000-2001 academic year began with "CSA 101" which was held on Terrier Tuesday for incoming freshmen from the Caribbean. On September 30th the CSA sponsored a trip to Washington D.C. Those who made the trip visited places such as the US capitol, the National Archives, the Smithsonian Institution's Air and Space Museum, the White House and Lincoln Memorial among other historic sites.

During the week November 13th-17th the CSA celebrated its inaugural "Caribbean Week". The week ended with the 3rd annual "Mr. and Miss St. Francis College" pageant.

On April 21st 2001, the club hosted its 6th annual "Caribbean Food Day" which continued the tradition of introducing the SFC community to a wide range of Caribbean delicacies. On the Easter weekend, the club once again sponsored a trip to Washington D.C. to partake in Howard University's CSA "Caribfest 2001". The spring semester culminated with performances by the CSA at the St. Francis College 4th annual "Community Day".

In the Academic Year 2000-2001 a number of St. Francis College students have studied abroad, many through programs offered by the Department of International Cultural Studies and under my guidance. Among the countries where SFC students undertook studies were: France, Italy, England, Poland, Ireland, Spain, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico. Through their studies abroad students have increased and strengthened their foreign language skills, have broadened their awareness and understanding of other peoples and cultures, and have added a decidedly global dimension to their undergraduate preparation.

For many people the opportunity to attend college at all is something to be thankful for, which is why I am so grateful for the experience of studying abroad at the University of New South Wales, Australia.

In addition to experiencing the ways of a foreign school system, going to Australia allowed me to hike through miles of rain forest, cuddle up to a koala, see kangaroos playing in their natural habitat, witness the trial games of the 2000 Olympics and sleep under the stars in the real life outback.

Sorry - I didn't go to Darwin, where the crocodiles reside, nor did I try surfing for fear of being eaten by a shark. But one thing I did do is learn that the world is a very large and beautiful place, and education is the key to seeing it all.

St. Francis College may always be home, but UNSW will always be a dream come true !

Community Day

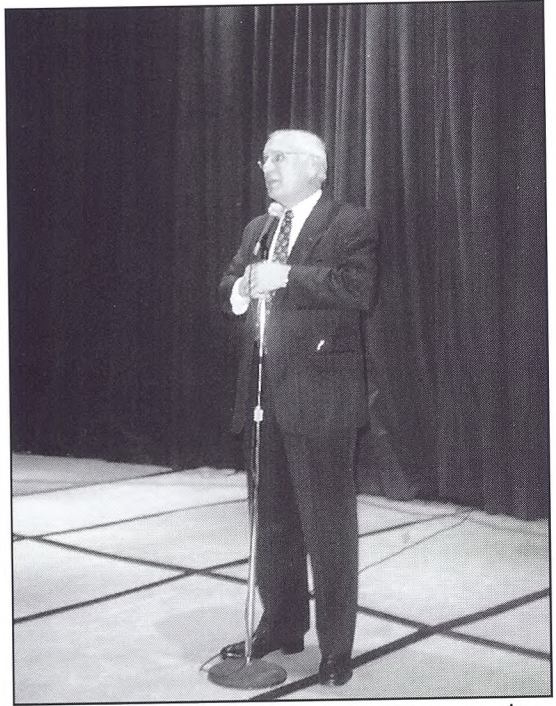

Fourth Annual

May 6, 2001

The celebration of Community Day each Spring is one of my favorite St. Francis College activities. It recognizes the importance of community in human affairs, and illuminates and celebrates the wonderful "one-ness in diversity" that makes this College such a special place.

One thing I've always admired about SFC is the way everyone is able to respect and appreciate one's uniqueness, while at the same time concentrating on the important things we share - as brothers and sisters in the Franciscan family. It is this combination of respect for both the individual and the aggregate that comes finally to represent for me some of the best values St. Francis College offers a confused and chaotic world. Be part of the next Community Day and experience it yourselves.

What a golden year for sports.

Michael Johnson won two gold medals in the 400 meter and 4 x 400 meter relay in the Sydney Olympics.

(Must have been the shoes.)

Multiple medals also went to Maurice Green and to Marion Jones, who took home three gold and two bronze.

She's the first woman to win five medals in one Olympics.

Tiger Woods did it again.
And again.
And again.

As the PGA Tour Player of the year, he placed first in tournament after tournament, including the U.S. Open, the British Open and the PGA Championship.

The golden girls of soccer settled for silver in Sydney.

Under a Shaq attack.

Shaquille O'Neal, with Kobe Bryant, shot the Lakers to victory against the Indiana Pacers in the NBA finals.

GAME SET MATCH

Lance rules. Armstrong

conquered the Alps and silenced cynics, winning his second consecutive Tour de France.

His comeback from cancer makes him a double role model, to athletes and cancer patients alike.

The "Subway Series" made baseball big news. For the first time in 44 years the New York Yankees and the New York Mets went head to head at the World Series. New York came out on top. (As in Yankees.)

The Williams sisters continued to take the tennis world by storm. Rivals on opposite sides of the net, they're unstoppable as partners.

Venus topped a stellar year with wins at Wimbledon and the U.S. Open. She took the gold at the Sydney Olympics in singles, and paired with Serena to take the gold in doubles as well.

It wasn't in the stars. The New Jersey Devils took the Stanley Cup back from the Dallas Stars after their nail-biting double overtime victory in game six.

D-FENSE!

The Baltimore Ravens extraordinary defense gave them the edge and a 34-7 win over the New York Giants in Super Bowl XXXV.

What goes around comes around.

Look behind the technology hype and you're sure to find recycled trends.

Oh, the irony.

It's the 70s all over again.

Large tinted lenses make for look-at-me sunglasses and disco-era hairstyles return with "wings" and feathered bangs reminiscent of Farrah Fawcett's famous locks.

A new twist is the bright burst of hair color, maybe a leftover from the punk and glam rock resurgence last year.

STATE OF COOL REFRESH

A rhinestone belt holds up your denims? Glittery studs on your faded jeans?

Totally.

England's Prince William took a "gap year" before college, following his mother's example of service and humanitarianism.

His volunteer and environmental work in Chile shows that the man who will be king is a true prince of hearts.

For the guys, the mop top is back with the "shag" hairstyle.

The bed-head hairstyles of Ricky Martin and Kevin of the Backstreet Boys is typical of the macho look many stars like.

Leather whatever.

Leather is everywhere. Leather pants. Leather boots.

Everything else sparkles and shines.

We heard lots of wedding bells.

Two Backstreet Boys got hitched, Madonna married her Guy.

Catherine Zeta-Jones wed Michael Douglas, and Jennifer and Brad tied the knot.

Caution. Heavy traffic ahead.

As in new millennium traffic. It seems like the more info there is, the harder it is to be informed. Technology promises a bright new age but it's still hard to communicate.

Some things never change.

The Pope journeyed to the Holy Land and prayed for peace, while conflicts between Israelis and Palestinians raged.

Allegedly linked to the unrest, the USS Cole was bombed off the coast of Yemen. This year we remember with honors entertainer Steve Allen, actors Walter Matthau, Jason Robards, and Alec Guinness.

SO WHERE ARE WE?

WHAT'S NEW?

And the nation waited 36 days for the drama of the 43rd presidential election to unfold.

Another first. After court battles and recounts,

Florida's 25 electoral votes were finally awarded to Texas governor George W. Bush in the closest presidential race in history. In another dramatic sequence of events, tensions between U.S. and Cuba rose over the custody battle of 6-year-old Elian Gonzalez who was finally reunited with his father and sent back to Cuba amid anti-Castro protests.

Crash. Technology and music went head to head, as 19-year-old

Napster co-founder Shawn Fanning battled the music industry over copyright usage of downloaded music.

Firestone tires exploded on highways across the nation forcing one of the largest recalls in history.

Hillary Clinton stepped out of the White House and into the U.S. Senate, a first.

Television gives a crash course in life lessons.

The nation tuned in to see who would be voted out in this summer's biggest smash "Survivor".

The ultimate SURVIVOR, Richard Hatch, beat all odds in order to outlast his island mates.

ANYTHING 'ON'?

In shows like "Roswell" and "Angel," to survive means getting rid of the bad guys.

They showed that we all experience feelings of alienation, but we are not alone.

In fact, putting up with siblings, family issues and struggling to "find ourselves" are common denominators for us all.

Inventions topped inventions.

This year, we saw cable lines not only enhance television but surfing speed and e-commerce as well.

Electronic organizers rock.
