“ The Small College of Big Dreams”

2011 H I S T O R Y

While today it is known as “the Small College of Big Dreams,” SFC was founded in 1859 by Franciscan Brothers as St. Francis Academy. Over two decades later, the trustees of the school received permission from the state legislature to establish a “literary college” under its current name, giving it the power to confer diplomas, honors, and degrees.

In the years following, the school would continue to grow exponentially, and by 1926 the growth had necessitated the construction of a new facility on Butler Street. Following the purchase of two office buildings from Brooklyn Union Gas Company, the college would make the move to Remsen Street.

Shortly thereafter, it became a co - educational institution and additional property was purchased on Remsen and Joralemon Streets. Recently, the college has expanded its facilities with the construction of a science building, physical education complex, and the recently rechristened Frank J. and Mary Macchiarola Academic Center.

Today, the college continues to thrive, with more than 2,500 students, and 16,000 alumni. Many distinguished public servants, scientists, lawyers, business professionals, and teachers call SFC their alma mater. As a result, alumni help to continue on the mission of teaching and living the ideals of Franciscan Spirit.

The Spirit of St. Francis

Franciscan Spirit is dedicated to service and fellowship. Followers of the Franciscan way are determined to educate themselves and others through example. It is your duty to lend your knowledge and talents wholeheartedly.

One should strive to be fair and just regardless of creed, race, sexual orientation, or social status. You should be strong in your convictions, dedicate yourself, and be loyal to all of your commitments; you should live your life in moderation, following the belief that through wisdom and patience your life shall be one of fullness and success.

You should seek out inner peace and, in return, share this peace with others. You should maintain this peace no matter what dilemma comes your way. You should make every effort to achieve spiritual enlightenment and strive to be open minded.

You should always be respectful and considerate in your actions. You should do unto others as you would like others to do unto you. And finally, above all, you should enjoy life and cherish every memory that you make.

As you begin to embark on a new journey outside of the hallways and classrooms of St. Francis College, be sure to continue leaving something behind for all of your successors. Remember the words of St. Francis, "It is in the act of giving in which we receive."

Alma Mater of St. Francis College

Alma Mater, hail to thee!
Loyal Friends salute thee!
Memories of thy name recall,
Deep affection for thee!

Thy ideals shall ever be,
Inspiration constantly,
Binding us together,
Binding us to thee!

Hail St. Francis, we thine own
Loyal to thee ever!
Sing the praises of thy name,
With accord together!

This the pledge we give anew,
Loyal to the Red and Blue!
Alma Mater, to thee!
Ever true to thee!

THE CLASS OF 2011

Founded in 1887, the SFC Alumni Association serves to advance the principles and purposes of St. Francis College and benefit all graduates. All former graduates of St. Francis College become members upon graduation.

The Association promotes the growth, development, and welfare of the College while advancing the social, professional, and economic interests of its members.

The Association also renders financial aid and sponsors a number of social and educational affairs that serve to stimulate and maintain interest among its members. This fosters new acquaintances among graduates and former students.

To the Class of 2011, SFC offers you a very warm welcome to our alumni family. See you soon!

Valedictory Address Excerpts

I come from a humble family where the values of hard work, persistence and drive are never overlooked. My parents left a relatively comfortable lifestyle in their homeland of Guyana when I was two-years-old for one thing and one thing only—opportunity. Like many other immigrant families, they viewed America as the place to accomplish what seemed impossible in the country in which they were born. Above all, my parents left Guyana in hopes of giving my sisters and me a better education, enhanced opportunities to learn, grow, and succeed. I never forget their many sacrifices for our family. I always took to heart their philosophy about the value of education. They taught me that while one can lose his riches or popularity over the course of his life or even part ways with good friends, education is enduring and is yours to keep for the rest of your life.

My time here at St. Francis College will forever be etched in my heart. The many opportunities I was given both inside and outside of the classroom contributed to my growth, both as a student and individual. It was here, under the guidance of supportive professors and staff, that I became aware of issues, realities, and perspectives that I hardly gave a thought to before...On behalf of my graduating class, I would like to thank every faculty member here at St. Francis for sharing their knowledge, for serving as mentors, and for your patience and support. We are honored and grateful to have you as educators and to say that we were once your students

To my fellow graduates, we all come from different walks of life, we all have different stories to recount our journey to St. Francis College, and after today we will all embark on unique paths. Yet, the common thread that runs among us is the desire for a brighter future and despite our individualized views about what that future may look like, we chose St. Francis College to bring us one step closer to our ultimate goal, to give us the tools we need for a better future, or simply to give us a new beginning. What we got in return was perhaps more than we ever expected—we have each found a home here at St. Francis, one filled with supportive and caring professors, administration and staff, a campus filled with diversity and activities to accommodate an array of interests, and a sense of community based on generosity and respect. Here, we were pushed to discover and challenge our abilities, interests, and even our identities.

My fellow graduates, I would like to leave you with these few thoughts. Nothing is ever handed to you in life. The accomplishment of your dreams and goals is only possible through dedication, passion, and effort. Do not ever become easily discouraged, believe in yourself and your dreams, stay determined in the face of adversity, and never let your fears hold you back. I truly believe that everything that happens, happens for a reason and while you may not fully understand circumstances or turn of events right away, in time you will. Mahatma Gandhi once said, “Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever.” Do not wait until tomorrow to do what you can do today; sometimes taking the road less traveled leads to unexpected opportunities and memorable experiences. But never forget to maintain the curiosity of a child and embrace opportunities that will broaden or challenge your perspectives. On your road to new adventures and endeavors, never forget to follow the Golden Rule of life and treat others as you would like to be treated. Perhaps, unaware to you, your smile, kind gesture, or encouraging words can give someone that extra boost they needed.

Congratulations once again and I wish each of you health, strength, prosperity, and happiness now and in the future!! Thank you.

Highlights From The Valedictorian's Address

Robert de Gannes

"Wha's the Scene?"

Some of you may know me as Robert, and some of you may know me as Mez, and some of you may not know me at all.

I'd like to say that I am still in shock that this day has come. Three years ago when I left my little twin island republic of Trinidad and Tobago to come to the United States, I went from a tropical paradise, where it's never less than 80 degrees and there isn't a place you can be and not see some part of nature, to the steel and concrete of New York City.

Some of you may even know that when I got the call that I was valedictorian for our winter commencement, I was pretty much in shock. I definitely believed that there was some mistake, somewhere. However, the more I thought about this special honor, the more I realized that I can chalk up much of my life's success to a few principles and lessons that I have learned along the way during my short life.

One such memory and life lesson comes from my parents who have told me time and time again that "Success is doing what you're supposed to do when you're supposed to do it." Thus, as we all begin to go out into the world, looking for own success, please recall the above words and how much relies on our own commitment, consistency, and follow through.

Secondly, my nickname Mez, short for Mezeker is an Ethiopian name, whose meaning means "to remember." Mezeker is also the name of a poem, whose story revolves around demonstrating that no matter what color, creed or race you are, or how bad your situation is, someone else, somewhere else, may always have it worse. This simple revelation has helped me through many of tough times and even our final exams each year.

I have no doubt that all of us are going to have to work very hard to achieve the things that we want in our lives. In my estimation, it is very important to make time for fun during these life's journeys. There is a saying in Latin that goes "Ars Longa, Vita Brevis". These words translate to "The art is long, but life is short." Additionally, in this context, art means work. Thus, while I have no doubt in my mind that every one of us will have to continue working hard towards life's goals and aspirations, working with no fun at all will eventually kill us.

Finally, there is just one thought that I would like to leave you all with as we begin to embark on professional journeys that are accompanied with rather tumultuous times, above all else in life, always remember, "Work Never Dies, Humans Do."

Baccalaureate Mass Farewell

Marcus Budig - SGA President

I bargained with life for a penny, and life would pay no more. However, I begged at evening when I counted my scanty store, for Life is a just an employer. He gives you what you ask, but once you have set the wages, you must bear the task. I worked for a menial hire. Only to learn, dismayed, that any wage I had asked of Life, Life would have willingly Paid."

-Jesse Rittenhouse (Think and Grow Rich, 1960)

At the end of our college experience we are now faced with a teetering moment, where our lives can go in almost any direction it so chooses. Our time as a student at SFC is over, done, and we are on to the next stage of this pastime we call life.

It has been a memorable but distinct experience to each one of us. For this, a special thanks is extended to the Dugan administration, Chancellor Frank Macchiarola, the faculty, who were there to teach us the knowledge they willingly gave, and our support groups, which include family and friends. Together we make up the Saint Francis Community. To this community we say "thank you... now give us our diplomas."

We also now sit at the starting line of life after college. Each starting line is unique to each and every one of us. And even more unique will be our finishing lines. We must not be paralyzed in our paths by our own fears. Fears that include poverty, criticism, ill health, loss of love, old age, and death. We shall overcome all of these obstacles with our thoughts; not the thoughts of apathy and lack of caring, but the thoughts of faith in the person who you want to become in life. For some, the person you want to become is clear, for others, not so much. And for all graduates, we must be self-starters. The path our community helped lead us to may be uncertain, but it has prepared and guided us in our approach to life. Together, we have learned the importance of positive self-thoughts, attitudes, and Franciscan Values.

When our paths become more apparent, we must set goals, and fill our hearts with desire. The desire I am talking about is one like Rudy Ruettiger; the kid with a dream to play Notre Dame football and dramatically achieved his goal against all odds. This desire requires persistence and an alignment for habits and actions that promote the successes we desire. Decisiveness in life must be felt, like our topic sentence in the many papers we have written over our college careers.

From here, our graduation, we are setting out for life. I urge you all to become your very best. Accumulate wisdom, always listen, remember to treat others the way you want to be treated, and remember to balance quality, quantity, and spirit in everything that you do.

Anybody can wish for success, and most people do, but only a few know that a definite plan, plus a burning desire for success, are the only dependable means of accumulating success. Best of luck to the class of 2011, hope to see you soon.

Liliana Rodriguez

Senior Reflection

I remember my first semester at St. Francis College as if I had just enrolled last fall. The day my parents dropped me off at the dorms for my first ever collegiate volleyball pre-season; I cried like a baby, begging them to not leave. The next 3 months I spent every free weekend at home rather than in Brooklyn, completely certain that being in New Jersey with my family and high school friends would undoubtedly be a better time than staying in the city. Four years later I can't imagine life outside of Brooklyn Heights, and am deeply saddened with the reality that I will not be able to spend every day with the teammates, athletes, classmates and mentors I've established relationships with along the way.

Upon entering St. Francis College, I regarded myself as simply an athlete, who would focus on only volleyball and school in order to obtain maximum results in both fields. As time went on however, I continued to involve myself in different activities and circles ranging from the Student Athletic Advisory Committee, to Student Government, to the Terriers Activities Group and working in both Athletics and Career Development. Through my involvement I continued to grow not only professionally, but also emotionally and personally. I also gained invaluable friendships and relationships with both students and administrators that I am sure will last for the rest of my life.

As a graduate of the St. Francis College Class of 2011, I am certain I can speak on behalf of all of my classmates when I say the past four years at the "Small College of Big Dreams" were rewarding and a life changing experience. The small, family-like atmosphere, along with the Franciscan ideals practiced and condoned by all members of the faculty, staff and administration are comforting to all students. Even entering the lobby and seeing the friendly faces of security guards, facility workers and friends makes a 9:00 am class a little more bearable.

I would like to take this moment to give a personal "Thank You" to everyone who has especially helped me throughout my undergraduate career including: my family, all the members of the Athletic Department (including my coaches, sports medicine trainers, etc), all the administrators in Student Affairs (particularly in Career Development & Student Activities), professors in the Business Management/I.T. Department, my teammates, fellow athletes and SGA members, and all other classmates I befriended. Without all of you I could have never achieved any of the accomplishments I have in the past four years. Whenever people ask me if I am excited to move on to life after college, I always say, "I wish I had one more year of NCAA eligibility to stay longer at St. Francis". In reality however, I am positive that all the knowledge and experiences I have acquired on Remsen Street will, without a doubt, allow me to excel in any future career-path.

Bono Lee

Senior Reflection

Congratulations to the Class of 2011. In my 5 years at St. Francis College, I have been blessed to meet so many great professors, administrative staff, and friends from all around the country and world. As a transfer international student, I came to this school just wanting to experience a taste of the "Big Apple", never imaging myself getting so involved in the school and receiving so much out of it.

As I write this reflection, the year is finally coming to an end and my time at St. Francis College is almost over. When thinking about SFC, the first thing that comes to my mind is its slogan "The Small College of Big Dreams." Personally, I feel SFC lives up to this theme by providing students with quality educational resources. All of these experiences have enabled us to move forward into the real world.

Thank you to the entire Accounting, Business Law, and Mathematics Departments for making my years at St. Francis College an enlightening experience. I must also thank the Academic Enhancement Center for making my years more memorable through the service of peer tutoring. Additionally, I would also like to thank President Dugan and Chancellor Macchiarola for their never ending service and commitment to the ideals of our Franciscan Brothers. Moreover, I have to say a very special thank you to the Dean of Students, Cheryl Howell, whom I first met when I visited SFC five years ago. If it was not for her, I certainly would not be a graduate from St. Francis College.

In closing, I believe I can speak for all of us when I say that it has not always been an easy journey, but it definitely was a memorable one. Even though times are difficult, I hope all of you do not lose your sense of achievement, and no matter what you do after college, you hold onto your Franciscan values. In twenty years from now, I hope you all will remember the good times, but also the struggles you overcame that made you stronger.

Good luck and God bless!!!

Prayer of Saint Francis

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me
sow love.
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
and where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as
to console;
to be understood, as to understand;
to be loved, as to love.
For it is in giving that we receive;
it is in pardoning that we
are pardoned;
and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.
