

IMPRESSIONS

Barnwell: "Not bad! That makes a word a minute!"

Berkery: "Now where did that fly go?"

Bro. Christopher: "And that's why we didn't win the class basketball tournament."

Crynes: "I'm an old smoothie."

Cronin: "Life's dark. Too bad there are no funny sheets here."

Corrigan: "And then I says to the dean. . . ."

Condron: "Have that neophyte give me a dime for a soda. Part of initiation."

Ciangetti: "Yes, lady, I was only one number away, too."

Daly: "Pitty pictures."

Deegan: "I didn't say it was paid for."

Dell'Isola: "I guess the slide rule is wrong."

Donnelly: "Is this Barney's?"

IMPRESSIONS

Dunn: "If this were to-morrow, I wouldn't have to be plugging so."

Ephraim: "A good long swim would be better than this."

Farrell: "I wish Polhemus would buy good tobacco."

Foley: "The guy did this in the 'American' magazine. I guess I can."

Gleason: "Not a bad catch for one day."

Kaiser: "Just part of our Subterranean Grill Service."

Kearney: "Off to Peoria."

Kelly: "I wonder why Einstein or Milt Gross didn't think of this."

Krisch: "Sold to the American Tobacco Company."

Lomuscio: "Don't jump now, frog."

Mahoney: "I can dream, can't I?"

McAnulla: "That's what they think"
