

FLYING CLUB takes off

Terry Ellison

The Flying Club, under the direction of Bro. Michael, has again given the college six fledgling flyers.

Flight safety and ground instructions were stressed by Bro. Michael to insure proper plane handling to the members once they were airborne.

Over the years many pilots have received their initial instructions from the Moderator and have received excellent preparation for many continuous hours of flying enjoyment.

Out of the Depths of the FRANCISCAN

Editor Fabian DeJesus . . . at work???

Photographer Bill Breyfogle and his incredible spy-camera which enabled him to get so many candid shots this year. Everyone thought it was a cigarette lighter.

The 1968 Franciscan started off on the right foot in September with a membership of close to twenty men but as work began to accumulate the numbers became more and more depleted. This only gave us a skeleton crew to work with but when deadlines came around that crew quickly crumbled into four dedicated members of the staff doing the bulk of the work.

The general inefficiency and lack of cooperation by many of the clubs, fraternities and not to mention some of the staff members kept us up to our necks in work for most of the year. Thus when we say that the book you hold in your hands is the result of blood, sweat, and tears—we mean it.

In spite of our setbacks, we have been able to record in pictures and in words the events which made history at St. Francis this year, and the men who helped to put this book together can take pardonable pride in their accomplishment.

In conclusion, we here in Room 500 would like to extend our regrets to those who found their picture unflattering; did not find their picture at all; saw their picture and someone else's name; their name and someone else's picture; had their name spelled wrong or did not have their name spelled at all; and finally to those of you who are grammatical purists.
