

Seton Hall Five Jolts St. Francis, 88 to 76

St. Francis College, already assured of an NIAB bid but still shooting for an NIT berth, faced Seton Hall on the 11 Signal Corps Armory court in Brooklyn Tuesday night. Need-

"None shall pass!"

DANGER: Road Block ahead.

Cagers Bow To Terriers

In its television debut last Wednesday, Queens College was forced to take second billing to a more talented St. Francis College quintet. The Terriers pinned a 91-66 loss on the Knights record which now stands at six wins, seven losses.

Mannix Again Queen

Everybody's freshmen these da

Fox hunt.

Les Drives.

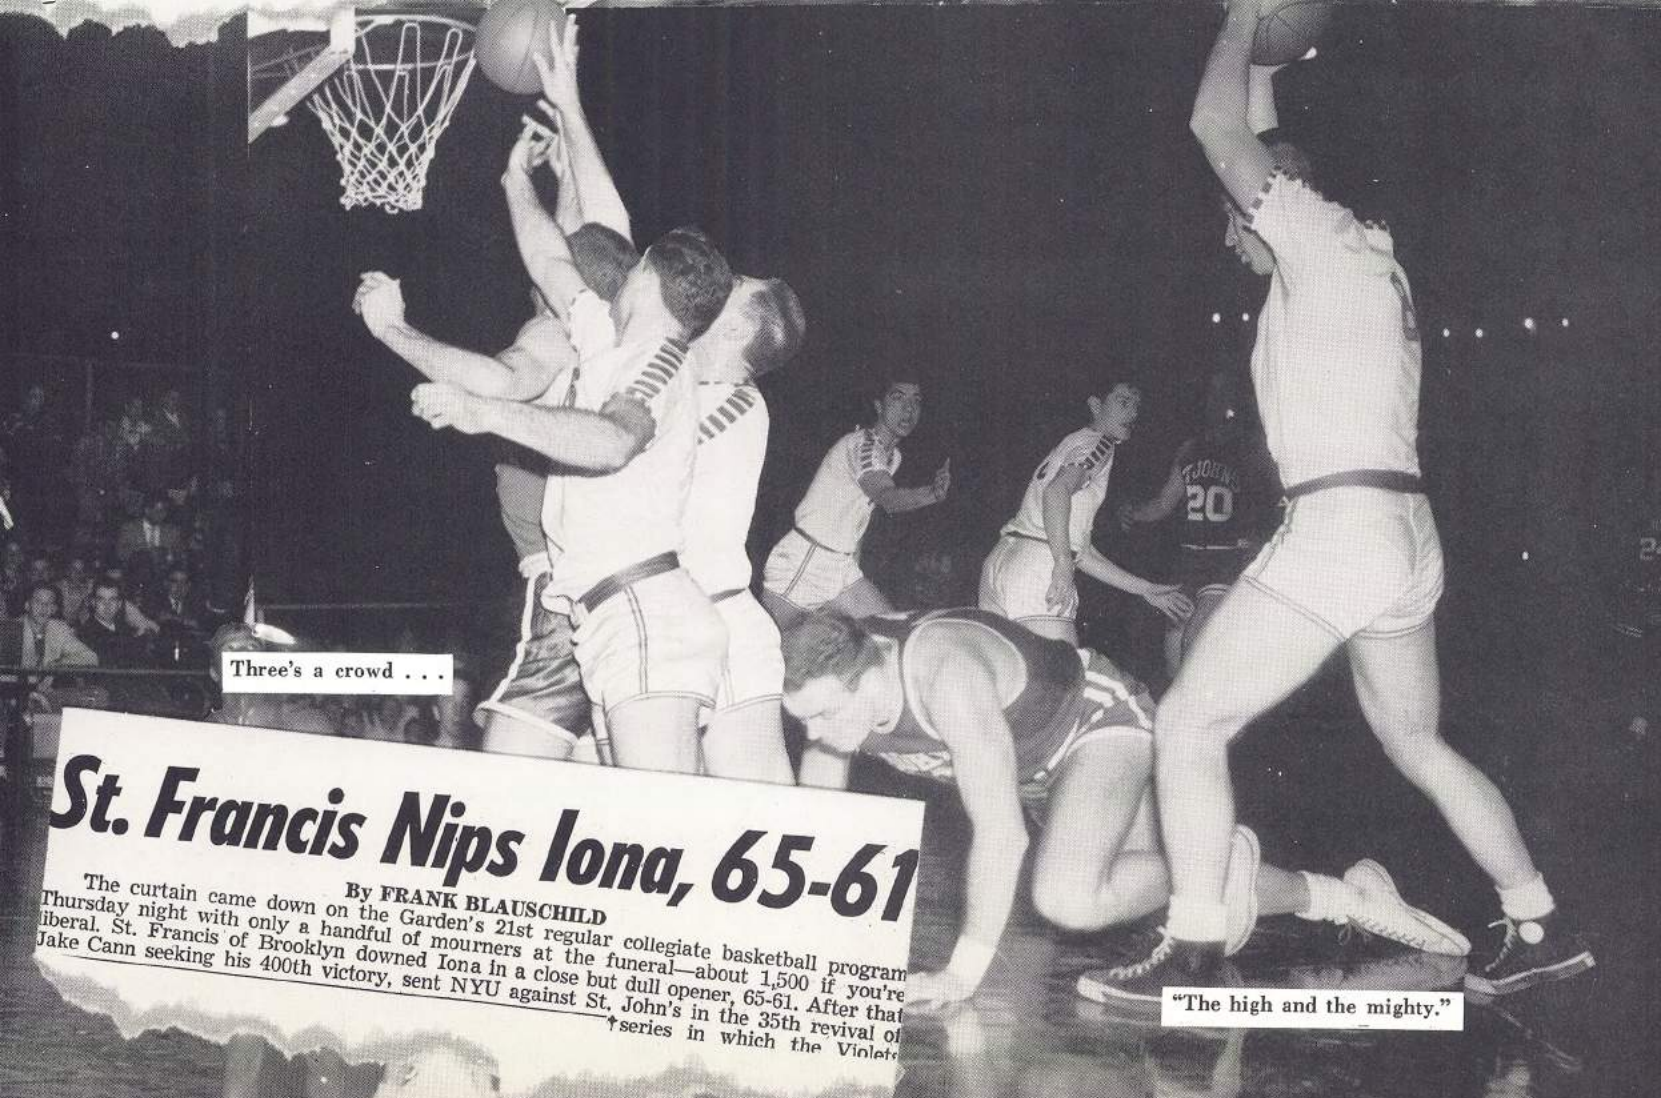

COACH STRESSES POSSESSION ST. FRANCIS USES 'NEW' HOOP GAME

By BEN GOULD
St. Francis coach Danny Fairleigh promised a "new kind of" opener, 83-59. The line off with a bang, scoring eight the Fairleigh frosh in the St. Francis

Stars for St. Francis Routed by Terriers

By BERNIE BEGLANE
Singing the praises of St. Francis College's three outstanding they have mentioned Dan Mannix, the team's "unsung hero."

"I wonder if he'll shoot?"

Three's a crowd . . .

St. Francis Nips Iona, 65-61

By FRANK BLAUSCHILD
The curtain came down on the Garden's 21st regular collegiate basketball program
Thursday night with only a handful of mourners at the funeral—about 1,500 if you're liberal. St. Francis of Brooklyn downed Iona in a close but dull opener, 65-61. After that Jake Cann seeking his 400th victory, sent NYU against St. John's in the 35th revival of series in which the Violets

"The high and the mighty."