

PROVIDENCE GAME

Hank Daubenschmidt poured in 38 points as the Terriers overcame the Friars of Providence College of Rhode Island, 85-63. Hank hit for 13 field goals and 12 fouls to better the mark set by Vern Stokes last year against Brooklyn College. Bob Moran scored 19 points to lead the Friar's losing cause.

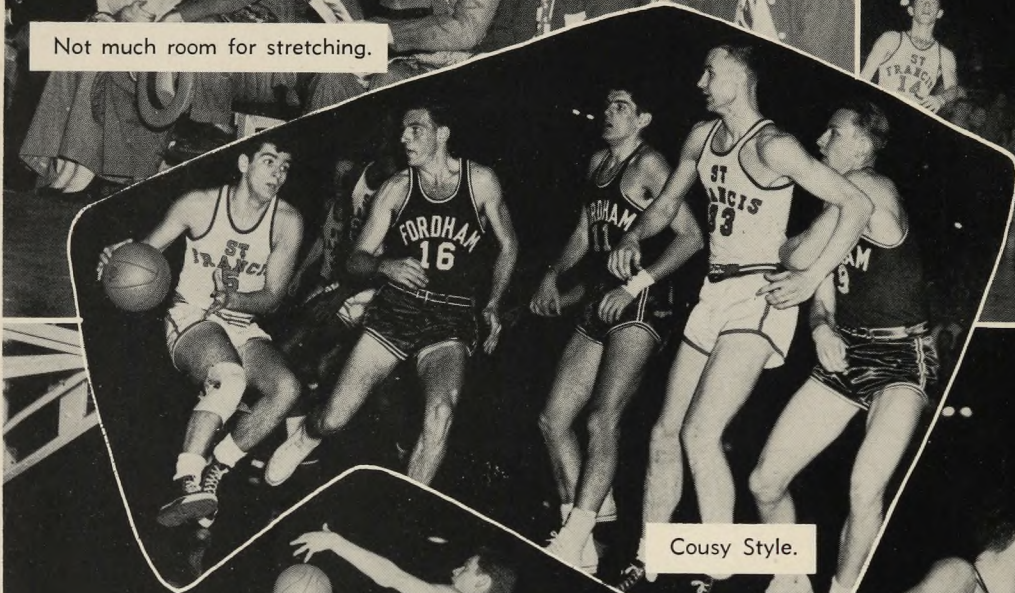

Not much room for stretching.

Cousy Style.

WESTERN KENTUCKY

The Terriers returned to the Garden after a five year absence and lost to the Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky. The top ranking southerners led throughout and had an easy time piling up a lead over the jittery Red and Blue. the final score was 78-55. Jim Murphy replaced Hank Daubenschmidt in the pivot and scored 8 points to lead a 28 point fourth period by the Terriers. Tom Marshall dunked 22 points for the Hilltoppers.

Cousy Style.

SETON HALL

The Terriers went down to their second defeat as they failed to lose the Garden jitters against the Jersey Pirates. They led 15-14 at the initial buzzer but failed to hold the lead at the half, trailing 34-24. The final score was 86-65. Hank Daubenschmidt led the Terriers with 21 points. Harry Brooks hit for 31 points to carry Seton Hall to the victory.

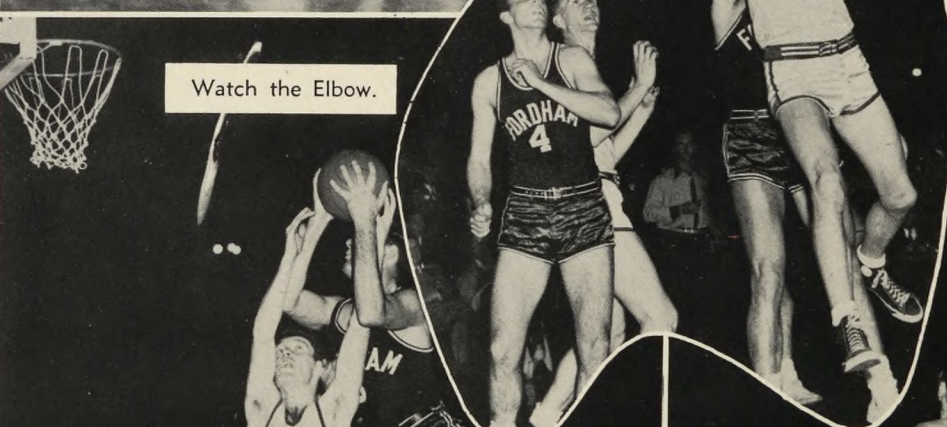

Two for Murph.

First and Ten.

ALL-AMERICAN CITY TOURNAMENT OWENSBORO, KENTUCKY

The Terriers travelled to the Southlands to capture third place in the All-American Tournament held at Owensboro. In first round competition they defeated South Carolina, 58-55. Hank Daubenschmidt and Jim Murphy led the Terriers in scoring with 16 and 13 points, respectively. In the semi-finals they lost a thriller to the host club, Kentucky Wesleyan, 71-69. Hank again took scoring honors with 22 points. In the consolation game the Terriers defeated Evansville of Indiana, 84-67 to take third place. Jim Murphy poured in 26 points to pace the Red and Blue attack. Elliot Press had 18.

Watch the Elbow.

That man Walsh again.

Double Split.

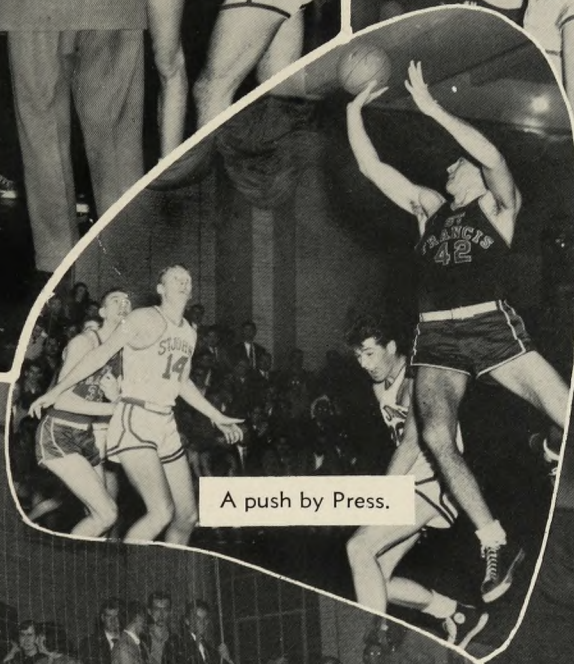

Statute of Liberty.

The Huddle.

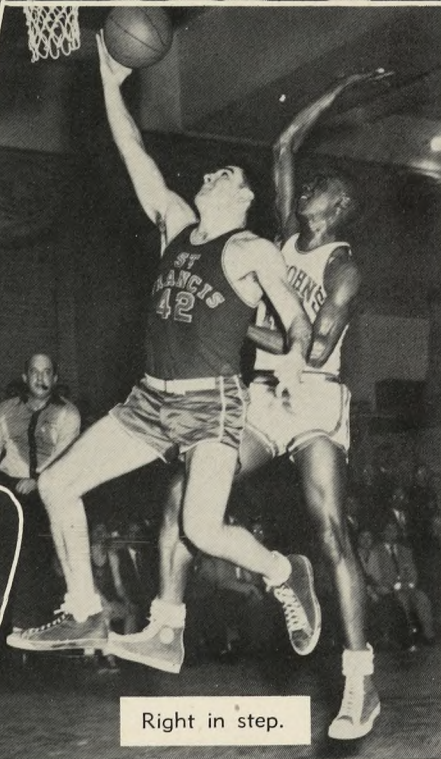

Watch your Head, Hank.

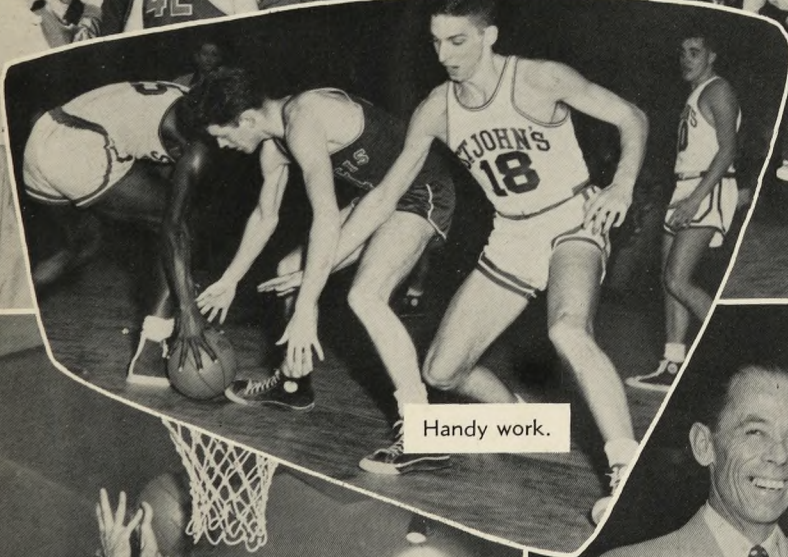

A push by Press.

Old SJU, ain't what she usta be.

Right in step.

Handy work.

Jumping Jack.

"What, another one?"

FORDHAM

In one of the biggest upsets in recent years the Terriers nipped a surprised Fordham team, 53-49. Jack Walsh played a great game and limited Ed Conlin to 14 points. Hank Daubenschmidt led the Terrier attack with 20 points. Conlin was high for the Rams. Frank Dentico enabled the Terriers to hold their lead as he successfully froze the ball in the final three minutes. This was the Red and Blue's 11th win against 3 defeats. Hank proved he was one of the top players in the East as he played a great game at center for St. Francis.

PANZER

After the surprise win over Fordham, the Terriers ran over a small but fighting Panzer team, 89-76. They led at the half 51-31. The Panthers, however, with Jack McDonough netting 27 points, close in the final period. Daubenschmidt, Frank Dentico, and Elliot Press hit for 13 points each.

ST. PETER'S

The Terriers copped their fourth game in a row, as they topped St. Peter's College, 85-66. The zone used by the Peacocks cooled the Terriers in the second period, but flashy Frank Dentico finally broke the Jersey Jam with timely passes. Hank Daubenschmidt had his usual good evening as he hit for 27 points to lead the Terriers to number 13.

VILLANOVA

The Terriers traveled to the not-so city of Brotherly Love and defeated a scrappy Wildcat crew, 72-62. The Red and Blue trailed throughout the game, 14-10, 37-34 and 54-49. Then the Terriers, with Dan Mannix leading the way, passed the Mainliners with Frank Dentico hitting for 22 points. Hank Daubenschmidt was second highest for St. Francis with 19 points. Bob Schafer was high man in the game with 25 markers.

GEORGETOWN

The Hoyas of Georgetown, rated one of the tops in the nation, flat before the Terrier onslaught, 77-52. Led by Hank Daubenschmidt, who scored 30 big points, the Terriers showed the Washington five how to use the fast break. Hank, playing a little more than three quarters, hit on a variety of jumps, hooks and one-handers. The Hoyas couldn't solve the Terrier attack and made an easy target for the shot-hot Red and Blue.