

High Flying Paul Buckley drives for two in the Brooklyn College game. Terriers downed Kingsmen 78-47.

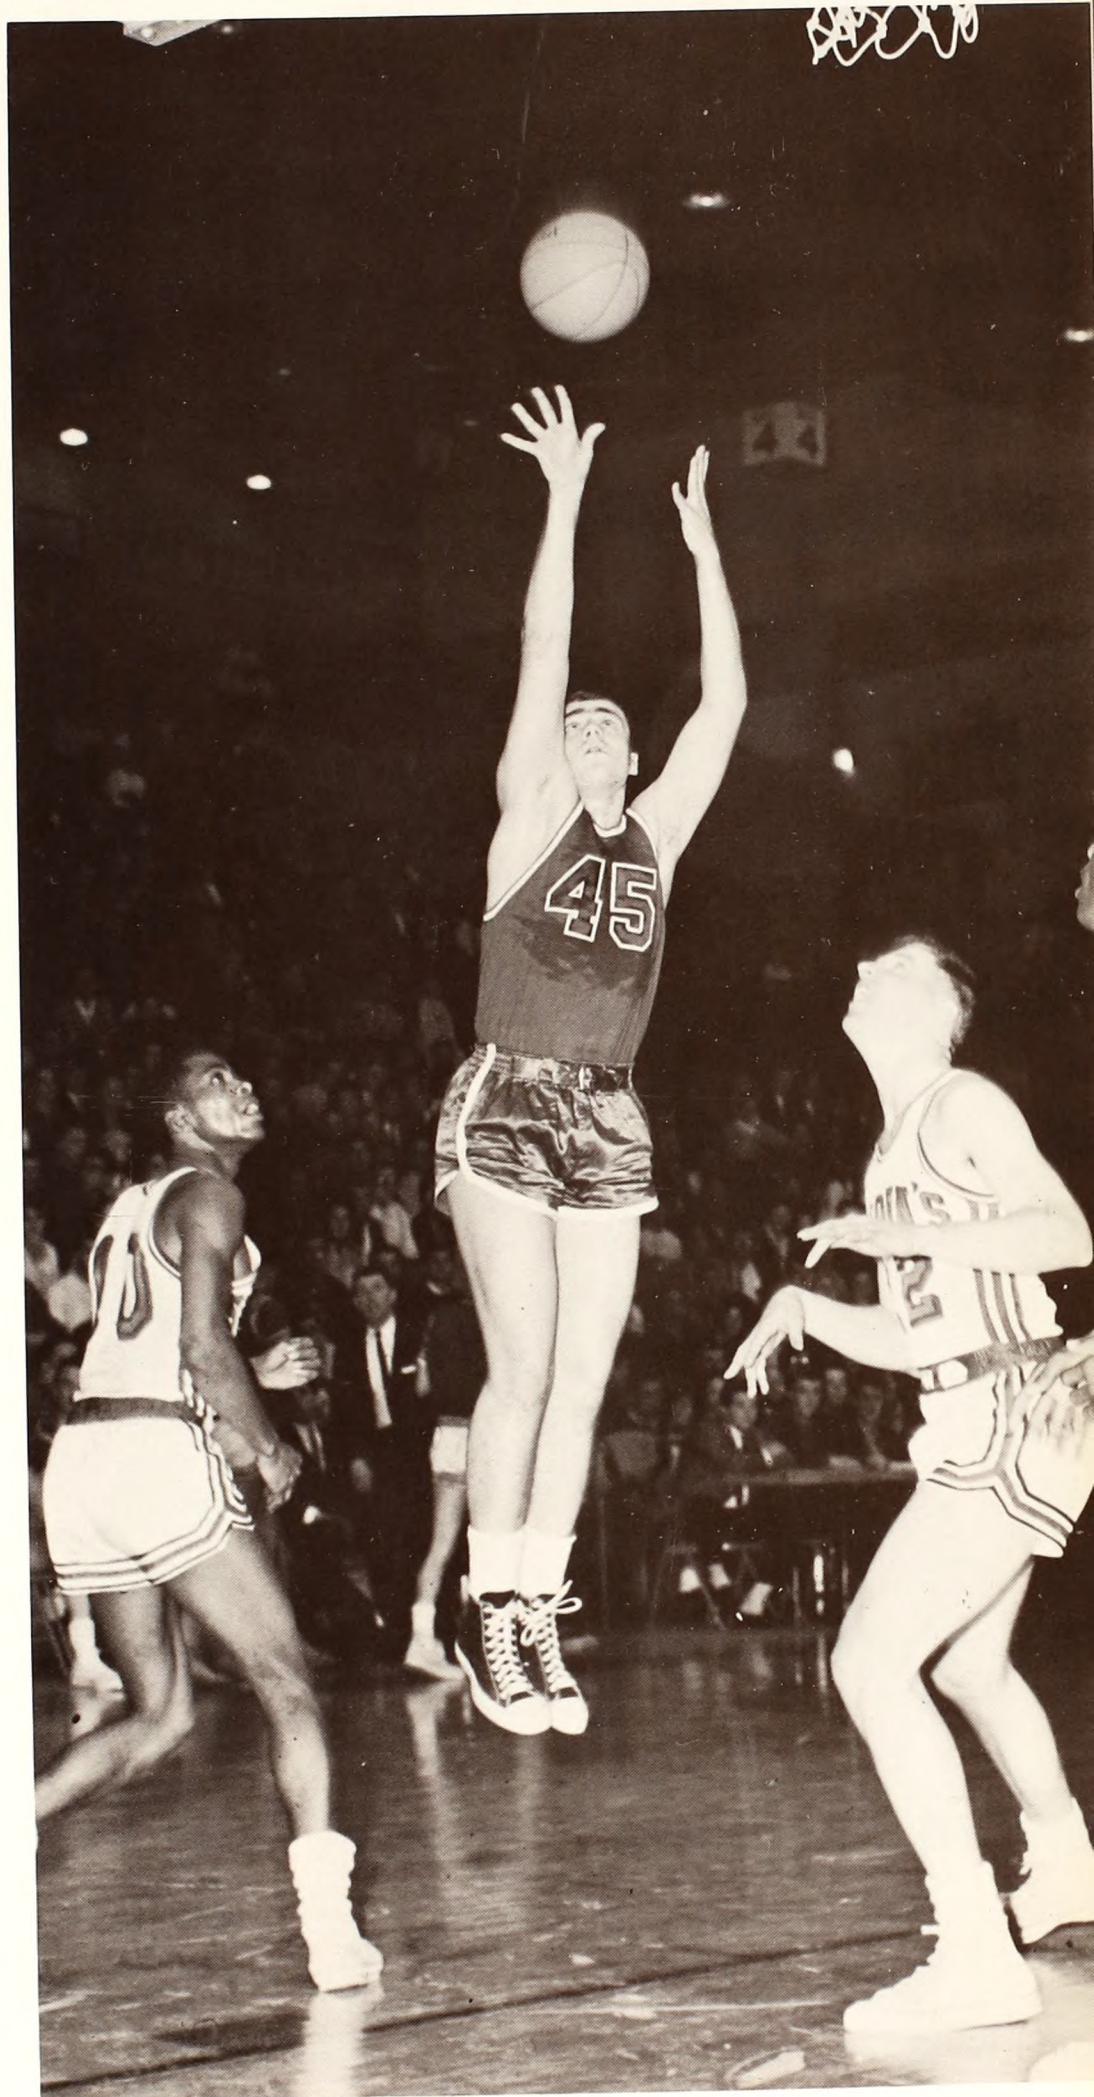

"Power Play" executed by Ken Powers, in the St. John's game. Ken scored 11 points and pulled down most of the Terrier rebounds.

Coming through the Rye is Jim Raftery attempting a basket against St. John's defenders Willie Hall and Leroy Ellis. The annual rivalry was an "Indian Massacre" 92-54.

"T K," as he is known by his teammates, gets his shot away to the apparent amazement of two Redmen. Final records of the season showed Tom Kurowski shot well averaging 12 per game.

Wrapped up in the situation, Ray Nash and Manhattan's Ron Petro look up for the ball. Jaspers beat Terriers.
