

Phi Rho Pi

In an age where brotherhood and love is a synonym for our generation, one needs only to experience Phi Rho Pi Fraternity. Undoubtedly, the mention of a fraternity immediately brings to mind the idea of wild parties, unlimited beer, pranks, and "the exclusive elite". Perhaps this myth is true in many fraternities, but this is not the first thought which springs to mind when thinking of Phi Rho Pi. One's first thoughts are of a close brotherhood, sans cliques, whose brothers live life to its fullest. Phi Rho Pi has its share of pranks, parties, and beer, but that is not the primary reason for its existence. Any social club can accomplish as much in that regard. Phi Rho Pi exists for the purpose of true brotherhood: learning to relate to others whose views and opinions may differ, and relate to them as brothers. Far from promoting exclusiveness, this view can only foster the diametric opposite. In addition to the typical support any fraternity gives its school, Phi Rho Pi engages in other activities; activities which include annual blood drives, and toy drives for local orphanages.

One must conclude that Phi Rho Pi is truly unique, retaining a heritage dating back almost 50 years.

With this year's officers: Bob Shanley (Praetor), Sal Schifilliti (Vice-Praetor), Ray Wendt (Treasurer), Phi Rho Pi has, and will continue on its ever growing "surge for greatness".
