

PHI RHO PI

Front Row: Ed Scott, Tom Mele, Lenny D'Ambrosio, Dan Schablien, George Casale, John Sullivan, Matty Walsch. Back Row: Ronny Eishsuig, Mike Dezego, Ken O'Brien, Brother Theodore, Silvano Cerutti, Lou Gagliano, Steve Korolczuk, Terry Ellison, Don Barton, Henry Albert, Tom Kileen, Bill Rooney, Frank Clinton.

Frat brother or not this beer is mine, says John Sullivan.

The individuals you see on these pages are brothers of the oldest national fraternity on campus. In its forty-four year history, the fraternity has consistently strengthened its spirit, which emphasizes the fact that the most well-rounded individual is the one who participates totally. When these individual latent talents have become manifested in fraternal spirit, they have made Phi Rho Pi, in the words of Tom Cuite, Student Council President, "the most active fraternity on campus."

In accordance with this spirit, Phi Rho Pi has engaged in many traditional and progressive activities in the past academic year. On September 23, Phi Rho Pi sponsored its annual pre-school blast at the Cotillion Terrace. It was attended by well over 700 guests and proved to be the highlight of the year, both financially and socially. In addition, Phi Rho Pi faculty night was held on November 11. It turned out to be a successful meeting of minds and strengthened faculty-student relationships. Another November event was the acceptance of five new brothers, increasing the total membership of the "Black and Gold" to twenty-seven. In December, the fraternity sponsored its annual Christmas toy drive, collecting a sizeable amount of old and new toys for the orphans of the Monserratti mission of Brooklyn. At the Christmas assembly Phi Rho Pi made its annual collection for the missions, run by Franciscan Alumni throughout the world. Phi Rho Pi also led the intra-fraternity blood drive by contributing fifteen pints of blood for which they were honored at the Christmas assembly by retaining the trophy for the second consecutive year.

Besides these activities, Phi Rho Pi is continually exploring new avenues in which to further participate in the Franciscan Spirit of the College. The fraternity hopes it will continue the success of its previous years under the leadership of Praetor Daniel Schablein and moderator Brother Theodore.

Dan Schablein reads his plan for capturing the beer from Sullivan, as willing brothers listen.

Is it possible that I have a hangover already?