

PHILOSOPHY CLUB speaks . . .

"I don't know, Prof. Galgan," explains Prof. Lacey, "it says here i before e except after c."

Philosophers ponder the existence of our photographer.

Prof. Slade and student listen to different opinions at a student-faculty seminar.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

discusses issues . . .

Dr. Clement Jedzrejewski, Chairman of Sociology Department, addresses the Sociology Club.

The Club flourished under the admirable leadership of President Joseph Mercurio.

With an even larger membership and a new moderator the Sociology Club, under the dynamic leadership of President Joseph Mercurio, planned a full and exciting semester of programs that ranged from films to field trips and from speakers to seminars.

The Club worked closely with the Afro-American Society in exploring the sociological and other various sundry reasons for the full meaning of the Black Movement. Speakers Tom Cornell, former editor of Commonweal, and Joseph Church, Prof. of Psychology from Brooklyn College, spoke on the timely topic of the Viet Nam War; which was followed by the film "War Games," presented in conjunction with the Film Society.

Allan Udoff, a Jewish student here at the college, presented another timely lecture on the possibility of organized religion in the 20th Century.

In the future, the Club hopes for closer cooperation with other organizations in the growing problems of the urban community.

The Sociology Club meetings vary from week to week and may present topics and speakers from the many different fields that comprise the culture of today.