

I. R. C.

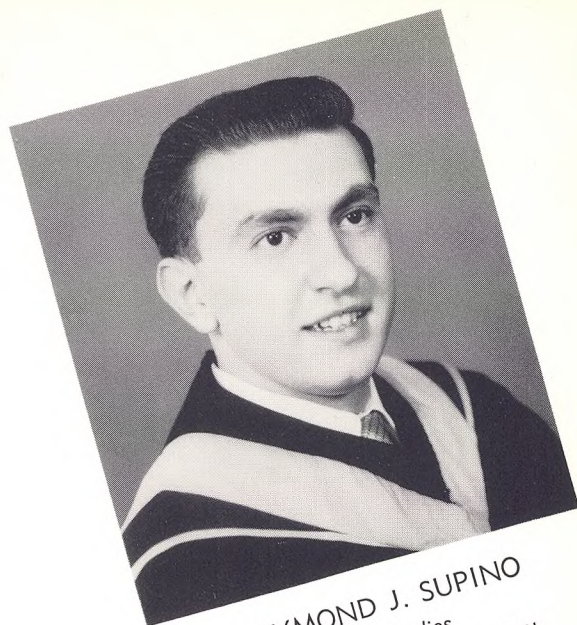

The International Relations club, the largest student organization within the College, is composed of History, Economics and Social Science majors. Brother Finbarr, the moderator of the club, varied the activities to include a religious, social, intellectual and athletic aspect.

The annual communion breakfast held on Ascension Thursday highlighted the program. After Mass and Communion in the Monastery Chapel, breakfast followed at Sakele's Restaurant. The guest speaker was Mr. James A. Kelly, Deputy County Clerk of Kings County, and Brooklyn Boro Historian. Mr. Kelly spoke on the growth of the Catholic Church in Brooklyn.

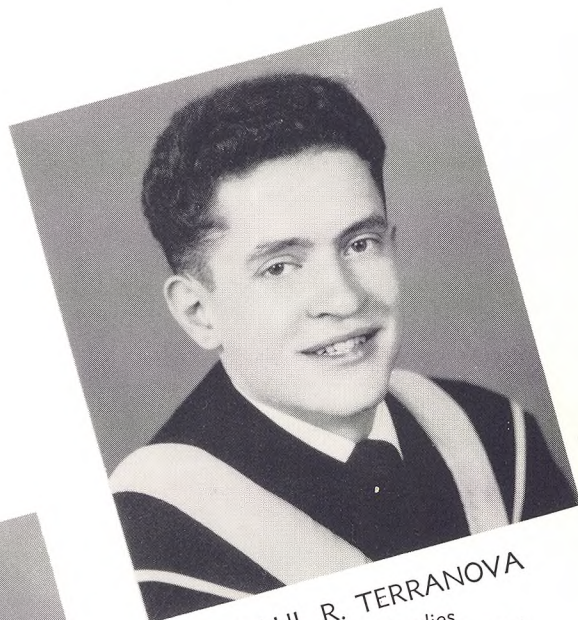

Another event was the pre-election political forum at which time candidates of the Democratic, Republican and Experience parties voiced their respective platforms. A question and answer period followed.

The I. R. C. dance, another annual affair held in the College gym every spring, proved both a social and a financial success. Proceeds from the dance, amounting to $150, were turned over to the Monastery Building Fund Drive.

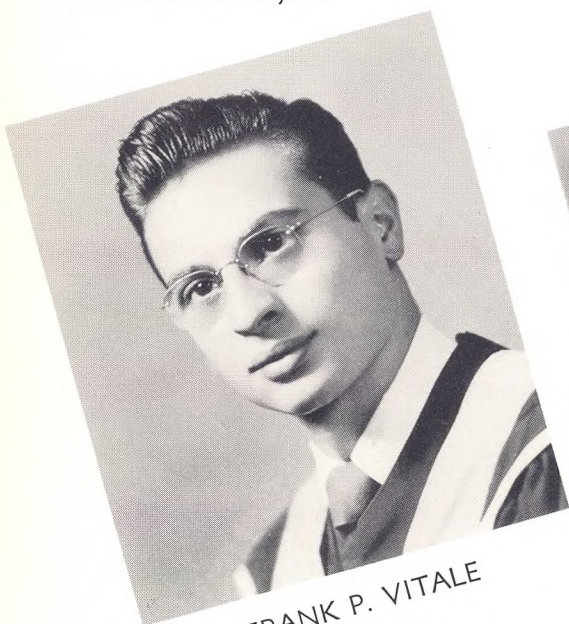

Together with these activities, the club sponsored the winning team in the intramural field games and placed second in the intramural basketball tournament. All these events added up to another successful year.
