

Airplane view of the bazaar.

Guess we don't eat after all.

Even Thomas enjoyed this!

"Then you turn this see, ouch!"

The end of the affair.

REVEREND JOSEPH P. KEANE

REVEREND MAURICE M. HASSETT

Father Keane Replaces Father Hassett as Spiritual Advisor

A new addition to the college staff is the Reverend Joseph P. Keane, presently the assistant pastor at Visitation parish in Brooklyn. He replaced Father Maurice M. Hassett as chaplain of St. Francis College.

The older members of the school were sorry to see Father Hassett go. He has been associated with the College for five years. At first he was a member of the faculty and later took over the job of chaplain. Father Hassett was forced to give up his post here when he was transferred to St. Mathews Parish on Eastern Parkway. His busy schedule made it impossible to continue his duties at the college. The duties to which Father Keane falls heir are numerous and involved. The most pressing will be the supervision of the Vocational Club. All Pre-theological students are expected to join this organization as remote preparation for their eventual formal application to the seminary. Another of Father Keane's jobs will be to the Religious bulletin. There will be more said about this publication in future issues of the VOICE.

Another project which Father Keane will undertake will be the personal interview of each student of the college, at least once during the school year. Father Keane's office is located in the basement opposite the gym. He will be available for the convenience of the students on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 12:30 to 5:00 o'clock.

We all hope Father Keane will have a pleasant stay here at St. Francis and will continue the work of Father Hassett as zealously as he did. Good luck to Father Keane and good-bye to Father Hassett.
