Sam Carrington is the new head coach of a 10-8-2 team that is ranked 10th in New York State but has only seven letter winners, including two starters returning. Sam Carrington expects to also start nine freshmen this year.

The Terriers return one veteran at midfield, senior co-captain Anthony Carollo (3 goals, 5 assists). Alongside him will be a variety of skilled players.

The 1989 Northeast Conference soccer first and second teams were announced, recently, and four St. Francis booters were recognized for their consistent play throughout the season. Andy Haynes was named to the first team as a fullback while Terriers top scorer Irving Ellison won a spot in midfield.

MEN'S WATER POLO

Kevin Brennan, Christopher Hynes, Peter Duryea, Michael Strehle, Christopher Ierodi, James Gannon, Michael Doda, Sean Fitzpatrick, Paul Koren, Kevin Molloy

Senior Captain Jimmy Gannon and sophomore goalie Chris Hynes made the Mid-Atlantic Conference All Tournament Team during the Conference at Navy. Their performances helped propel the team into the Eastern Intercollegiate Water Polo Championships, also at Navy. The St. Francis Men's Water Polo team are not forgotten men anymore.

Coach Carl Quigley's team finished the tournament 1-2; it beat George Washington University, 8-5, and lost to Cornell, 8-6, and Penn State, 7-4. The Terriers went into the tournament with a 9-12 overall record and 4-4 in the Conference.
