

Since its inception, THE VOICE has served the all important function of presenting a focal point for student opinions, as well as serving the college community as its sole student newspaper.

During any typical year the staff and editors offer coverage of major news events, human interest stories, the arts, and sports to the student body. But much more is necessary for the publication of a student run and operated newspaper. Others work diligently during production sessions to proof-read, type, and paste-up the pages of each bi-monthly issue.
