

Father McCormack about to tell a side-splitter.

City Councilman Sharkey addresses the International Relations Club.

I. R. C. COMMUNION BREAKFAST

Every spring the International Relations Club holds its annual communion breakfast for its members. It is an event that all members look forward to, for it is not only a social occasion but a time when all members join together in a spiritual union.

Brother Jerome has them in the aisles.

After the Breakfast come the speakers.

I. R. C. members receiving communion in college chapel.

Chairman Gloisten and Prof. Fiorenza iron out a wrinkle.

Fr. Easterly (St. John's) and Bro. Jerome in deep conversation.

INTER-AMERICAN CONGRESS OF N. F. C. C. S.

St. John's College was the site for the first Inter-American Congress to be held in this area. The sponsors were the two N. F. C. C. S. Commissions which St. Francis College holds, namely International Relations with Al La Rocca and Inter-American Action headed by Frank Palminteri. Fifteen colleges of N. F. C. C. S. participated in the program which lasted from ten in the morning until seven in the evening.

The theme of this Congress was "The Catholic College student looks at South America". A movie in color was shown by Pan-American Airways to set the mood of the Congress. There were a number of clergymen and laymen who addressed the group on the topic of the day. Students from the various catholic colleges conducted a forum and panel session during the meeting, and the entertainment was supplied by a number of talented South American students attending colleges here.

The object of this and other similar affairs is to stimulate friendship and a spirit of cooperation on the student level between ourselves and our neighbors south of the border.

McQuillan does his stuff.

The Manhattanville choir entertains in Spanish.

A sample of Latin-American culture.
Courtesy of New Rochelle