The 1949-50 bowling season had Iona and Hofstra Colleges added to the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Bowling Conference. The 49-50 season also had St. Francis enter the bowling wars with four returning letter-men, in Joe Dunn, Captain; Tom Demny, Andy Bisso and Ed Weinberg. Added to the squad were Joe Wengler who was to lead the team to many a victory. Walt Muller one of the most outstanding during the latter part of the season, and Stan Fisher and Bill Glander both who added to the strength of the team.

The first match of the season had St. Francis pitted against Pace College, last years champions. The Terriers led by Joe Wengler emerged on top by a count of 2 games won, 1 game lost. Facing Fordham University the Terriers encountered their first taste of defeat of the young season by dropping 3 games to the men from Rose Hill. Snarling from the previous week's defeat the Franciscans turned on the St. John's Redmen and inflicted a 3 to 0 defeat upon them. It was Wengler again who led the way in the defeat of the Redmen with a 540 series for the day. In the weeks that followed the Franciscan Keglers went on to beat L. I. U. and Hunter College by counts of 2 to 1 and 3 to 0. Queens College and Hofstra College both handed the Terriers 2 to 1 defeats. The defeat of Cooper Union by a 3 to 0 count was a short lived winning streak, for Iona College defeated the Terriers by a 2 to 1 count which put them in fifth place at the half-way mark in the Conference standings.

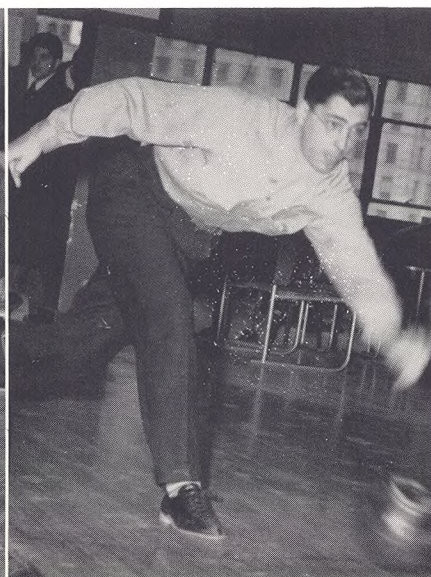

The second half of the season had the Franciscan Keglers fall to Pace College by a count of 2 to 1; but acting as a spoiler the Terriers knocked St. John's out of First place in the Conference standings by winning one of the three games played between them. It was Captain Joe Dunn with a 192 game and Joe Wengler with a 203 game who helped to knock St. John's out of the lead.

It was after this game that the Terriers put on their most impressive drive by rolling over L. I. U., Hunter, and Queens Colleges all by 3 to 0 counts. It was in the first game of the Queens match that Joe Wengler putting his know-how on the line came off with the pin to defeat the Queens-men by a count of St. Francis 805—Queens 804.

The season's closing matches found St. Francis losing to Hofstra College by a 3 to 0 count; winning from Cooper Union by a 2 to 1 count and falling before the up and coming Iona College Keglers by a 3 to 0 to end the season.
