

VOICE ON PITCH

Bill Black has that danger gleam in his eye once again.

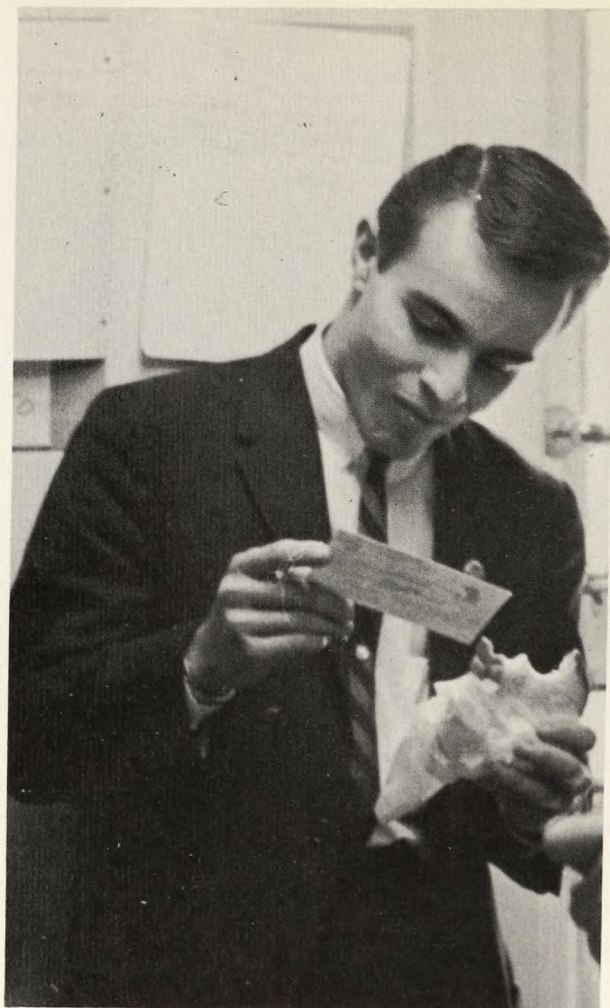

The Voice started the year with an appeal and a challenge. In addressing itself to the College's fraternities and clubs, it offered these organizations space in the Voice. Individual students who felt they had something of value to say were encouraged to put their thoughts on paper and submit them. All this followed the policy of the Voice to make itself a true reflection of the College's diverse student body.

Paul DeBenedictis, the Voice art editor.

Ed Murphy, the Voice's answer to 'Red' Smith completes another sports exclusive.

The picture of a happy man: Bob Laria with his fan mail and his lunch. (Well, he said it was his fan mail.)

A sextet of editors: Bill Black, Bob Laria, Mike Galli, Tom Raftery, Ed Murphy, Joe Rodgers.