

An illustration on the left side of the page. At the top, a crane hook is suspended by two vertical lines. Below the hook, a dark, elongated object, possibly a piece of machinery or a beam, is shown. Further down, two large, white, I-shaped steel beams are stacked horizontally. In the bottom left corner, there is a faint line drawing of a rectangular object with a crosshair pattern on its surface.

Great sports arenas have always been prominent structures even in the most advanced civilizations. They testify to man's belief that physical fitness has a definite relationship to the health of his soul and intellect.

ATHLETICS
