Atkins, Manager; Jose Lopez, Richie Dreyer, Pete Callahan, Frank Kehoe, Tom Keller, Bill Barnewold, Joe Reilly, and Coach Pete Fazio.

A SOLID NINE with good reserves will produce a winning baseball team. This has been in evidence last Fall and during the early part of the Spring Season for the Terrier baseball team. Every afternoon, except when playing scheduled games, you will find this spirited Terrier team working on their weaknesses at Red Hook field under the talented eye of Coach Pete Fazio. Last Fall, the Terriers won four and lost one, and participated in the Iona Tournament. They defeated St. Peter's twice, 6-4 and 8-7, Pace 11-0 and Pratt 7-1 while losing to Siena 8-7 in extra innings. Tom Keller, Artie Beyer, Ray Nash and Tim Courtney received credit for these victories. Strong batting by Richie Dreyer, Pete Callahan, Bill Barnewold, Ray Nash and Artie Beyer supplied the scoring punch in the victories. Despite an abbreviated number of practice sessions due to the lack of facilities, the Terriers opened the season by trouncing Brooklyn College 23-8. Four Terriers . . . Ray Nash, Richie Dreyer, Artie Beyer and Frank Kehoe . . . collected three hits apiece in leading the St. Francis 17-hit attack. The following week, after losing to Iona 10-4, the Terriers dealt Seton Hall its first defeat of the season, 3-1. Tom Keller displayed savvy and clutch-pitching in his six innings of work. From these early-season performances, the chances look good that the Terriers will be in the running for the Knickerbocker Conference title right down to the wire.

A BARNEWOLD BINGLE . . . Long ball hitting left fielder Bill Barnewold pulls a base hit to right field during the MECCA Tournament at Iona. The Terriers settled for a third place finish in the tourney, defeating St. Peter's but losing to Siena.

SPRING TRAINING IN FLORIDA? Ray Nash and Joe Reilly chuckle over Coach Fazio's unconfirmed rumor of the location for Easter practice . . . Fort Lauderdale.

CHECKS HIS SWING . . . Shortstop Pete Callahan refrains from going after an outside delivery of a Siena College pitcher. Pete collected three hits in a losing cause. Siena edged the Terriers 8-7 in ten innings.

IN THERE FOR STRIKE THREE . . . Terrier ace pitcher Tom Keller ends the inning to squash a Seton Hall rally. Tom maintained his poise as St. Francis defeated Seton Hall 3-1.

SSSSSS . . . Terrier first baseman Frank "King Cobra" Kehoe sharpens his hitting eye during a spring workout at Red Hook. Frank, a three-year veteran of the team, has been a defensive ace.
