

Mendel Notes

Anthony Correoso, Donald Mooney, Andrew Binder, John DeVivo, Fred Zugibe, Editor; Harry Ziegler, Bill Mahon, Thomas Cacciola.

I.R.C. News Bulletin

E. LaRocca, Bill Brooks, Jack McGuire, Dick Driscoll, Charlie Kenny.

Front Row: E. Bosso, R. Scott, J. Dunne, M. Marotta, F. Timpone, President; A. Correoso, Vice President; A. Guardino, P. Faiella, L. Passera, D. Ambrose, R. Duer. Second Row: J. Casalaina, J. Connor, P. Urso, F. Jannicelli, Dr. Provasoli, Moderator; J. McLaughlin, J. Duffy, A. Wolfe, J. Corsentino, T. Ferrara, Bro. Cletus. Third Row: J. LaBorne, R. Geisen, F. Dowd, C. Morreale, L. Scaduto, Bro. Simeon, A. Bertuglia, J. Maher, B. Femminella, F. Mesevage. Back Row: G. Haggerty, A. Binder, M. Petito, J. Martinsen.

The Mendel Society

SINCE embarking in October upon a program highlighted by the founding of a scholarship for some worthy biology major, the Mendel Club has proven to be one of the "live-wires" among the societies at the College. To gain the practical element of biology, the Mendelians enlisted guest speakers experienced in the field of medicine and biological research. Through the "Mendel Notes", the society kept in touch with all biology, pre-medical and pre-dental students. At Seminars the research of individuals was offered for the benefit of all.

While membership in the Mendel Society demanded activity on the part of the biology major, it also acquainted him with the unknowns of medicine and imbues him with the conviction of the sacredness of life.