Baseball

Although suffering a disappointing 2 and 11 season, this year's version of the Terrier nine played much good baseball. In fact, in the hitting department the Terriers were better than average; however, the woefully wild pitching told the sad story.

A year's layoff plus an unusually tough schedule made Coach Herb Wood's task all the more difficult. Some of the bright spots of the season were the pitching of Gerry Lenze, who accounted for the team's two victories and the all-around brilliance displayed by backstop Bob Conover. Big Bob's hustle and ability were rewarded at the conclusion of the season when he was selected as the most valuable player.

When the Terriers return to the diamond wars next season, there will be but three men missing from the squad due to graduation. Besides Bob Conover, outfielder Pete "Ozark" Graham and hurler Ray Hoffman shall have graduated.

With a more experienced crew at his disposal, Herb Wood should have an easier job of it next year. Indeed, if some of the mound prospects come through; this season's record could easily be reversed.

Co-captains Joe Wengler and Carmine Diorio

The St. Francis Keglers wound up the 1951-52 bowling season with 20 wins and 31 losses while competing in a concentrated field of ten colleges in the Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference. While only being able to look back at Manhattan and Hofstra; ahead, there were such powers at St. John's, Columbia and Pace. Although a competitor at all times, and beating each team at least once, it was a bad season for the Terriers.

At the halfway mark of the season, the keglers survived a .500 after meeting all teams. But after the corner turn the Terriers saw nothing but an upward climb and slowed considerably.

The outstanding feat of the season was spoiling the league record fifteen game winning streak of St. John's, who went on to be the League's crown holder.

The high scores for the terriers were as follows: High game honors went to Carmine Diorio with a bellowing 230 against St. John's. While the high series distinction was topped by Bill Travers with a 600 series on games 200, 185, 215 against Columbia. Joe Wengler pocketed high average with 169 to lead the field of Terriers. Contributing with strong games and a steady season were Paul Krupa and Bob Burns.

Bill Travers rolled high series of season.

Joe gets another strike—his 169 average was tops on the squad.
