

The one exclusive sign of a thorough knowledge is the power of teaching.”*

— ARISTOTLE

A black and white photograph of a dark-stained wooden door. The door features a window with six rectangular panes arranged in a 2x3 grid. Below the window, the word "FACULTY" is mounted in white, spaced-out capital letters. To the right of the letters is a small circular doorknob. Further down on the right side is a rectangular lock plate with a keyhole and a small circular push-button. The door is set within a wooden frame, and the surrounding wall has a textured, patterned wallpaper.

F A C U L T Y .