St. Bonaventure Philosophical Society

John Irwin, John Meagher, Francis Kerins, President; Judd Costarino, Gerard Hudert.

STRIVING for the intellectual development of its individual members and stressing complete understanding of problems as prerequisite for their solution, the St. Bonaventure Philosophical Society during the past year presented a series of lectures and discussions which rivalled the exceptional quality of the previous year's accomplishment.

With the aid of its patron so renowned in wisdom and sanctity, the Society hopes to give to the world the Christian Philosophy so essential to life in the sphere of reality which philosophy studies.
