

Mr. Cuniberti addressed the Conservative Club this year in one of the many faculty appearances before the I.R.C.

Ted Sorenson addressed the student body last fall.

Brother Theodore and Bob Long discuss a finer point or two.

Audiences of this size were a common sight at I.R.C. meetings this year.

John McLoughlin served an active term as I.R.C. chairman providing active leadership for intercollegiate seminars at this and other colleges in the metropolitan area.

Most heartening of all, however, was the undergraduate support given to the club this year in a manner found lacking in the past. It is the hope of the organization that their interest will not be lost and that through their efforts the club will achieve even higher status and acclaim in the future.
