

CONSTANTINE F. GRADILONE

*St. Francis Prep, U. S. Maritime Service
Duns Scotus; History Club; French Club; Third Order; Arts Club; Franciscan.*

Another oldtimer returns to St. Francis in the person of Connie. He served as a Marine engineer. His work in the service imbued him with a desire to continue in the Maritime field. He plans to study naval architecture. A quiet, unassuming fellow, he exhibits the Franciscan spirit in all college activities. He is an avid "shutterbug", frequently seen wielding his trusty camera. Always a willing and able friend, he has found much favor among us, his fellow students.

JOSEPH FRANCIS HEALEY

*Army
Cathedral High, St. Francis Prep, Shrivenham U

Joe is the fellow who is literally always out in front of the crowd, as he leads the cheering for our basketball team. Joe gets a little red in the face at these times, but this is no indication of his political views.

Joe's an English major, and will study journalism at Columbia after graduation. After three years in the field artillery, and seeing action in Europe, Joe should certainly fit easily into the field of his choice. He wants to be a foreign correspondent for a newspaper.

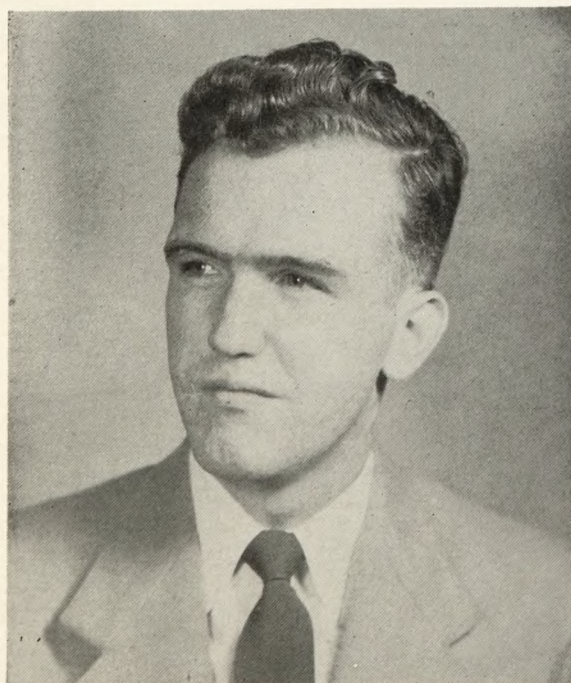

ALTAR BOY MAKES GOOD—

JOHN PATRICK HENRY

IRC; Third Order; Sodality; Philo Club; Duns Scotus; Phi Rho Pi; Voice; Vocation Club.

Cathedral Prep, Cathedral College

You have to have a lot of respect for a fellow like Jack, who accomplishes so much and yet always manages to keep his splendid record a secret. He never seems busy or rushed for time, spending an hour or two over a cup of coffee at Ebel's. When it comes to depending on Jack for a favor, he is always there with a helping hand. Besides this characteristic of dependability, he is a top-notch student who keeps plugging at those books until the end of the term has brought its reward in the form of fine marks. With these qualities, Jack will make a fine priest and we, his fellow classmates, wish him the greatest in his vocation.

JOHN FREDERICK IORIO

S.S. Cosmas and Damion H.S.

Pres. Student Council; Sodality; Vocation Club; NFCCS; NSA, Duns Scotus; IRC; Philo Club; Debating Club; Who's Who; Third Order; Pi Alpha; Class Sec'y.

John's outstanding characteristics are his earnestness and sincerity. An analysis of John's activities reveals that he is adept in school politics, ethical problems and governmental policies. His opinions are usually sound and respected. Added to his intellectual perspicacity is a jolly good humor and the result is a well-rounded, well informed Franciscan gentleman. His major Philosophy. His Aim, Priesthood.
