

*While The Rest of the World
Goes By*

Aside from the scholastic glory it hopes to obtain, the class has made its mark in the social highlights of the college. Last May it sponsored an Entertainment and Dance in the Palestra. In spite of the great expense, lack of precedent, and the seemingly impossibility of success, it came so far out in the front in regards to all features that it was hailed in the Voice as the "Greatest dance" ever held in the college. This is a fair indication of its right to wear the crown.

Around dances, though, its fame doesn't rest entirely. In the field of Varsity activity there are representatives of the class. Jack Escales and Georgie Price, two of the foremost divers who have assured the Swimming Team of a very successful season, come from the ranks of Junior A. The Terrier Team would not be complete without the superlative efforts of "Willie" Willis. In intramural sports who can forget to chuckle over the antics of "Mickey Mouse" Pugliese? Frank Roland and Jim "Tom" Thompson are two other intramural satellites.

Assuredly the clubs of the College life would be devoid of a wealth of worthy candidates if they would be deprived of the members of Junior A. The Treasurer of Pi Alpha is Tom Bohan and its Secretary is Joe Lennon. Others of the class rub elbows in the "refined" To Kalon K'Agathon; some cavort in Phi Rho Pi. The classes has staunch bellowers in the Glee Club and alert devotees in the History Club.

Although the lads have expended great zeal in past attainments there is still an abundance of ambition that will come to the fore when they don the togas of Seniors. Champing in pented expectation the Juniors are marking time till those days of glory.
