The bowling team, after several years of cellar sitting in the EIBC has finally produced a rather impressive group of keglers. After losing their first set of games to Cooper Union, the Terriers bounced right back and rolled over Columbia and Queens College—taking five out of six games. The present trend of victories is a fitting and well earned award. Last years' green team has gained the necessary poise and confidence which comes from constant practice. Mainly responsible for the "new look" is Captain Ray Boehm, whose steady "pin dropping" has pulled out many a close contest for the Red and Blue. Ably assisting him are Joe Giunta, George Black, Dick Mundy, Jim Santora, Jim Gallagher and Pete Rethore.
