Possessing a wealth of intelligence and a warm personality, Phil is a popular member of the Senior Class. He is ever ready to add cheer and a dash of humor to those in his presence. During the war Uncle Sam ushered him into the Navy. After graduation he is planning to study for a master's degree in Chemistry. Good luck Phil, we'll miss you. Late Flash! Phil has just been accepted at Duquesne on a fellowship in chemistry.

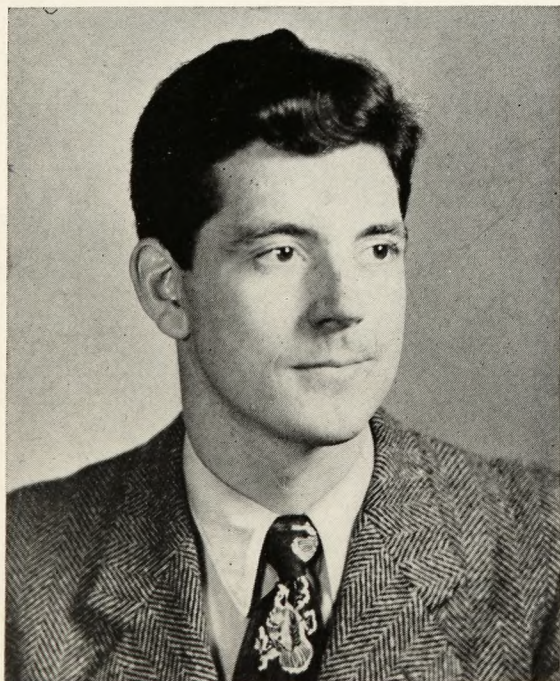

WILLIAM ANDREW KUMMER

Power Memorial Academy Southern Illinois Univ. Pres., I.R.C.; Who's Who; Pi Alpha; Philosophical Society.

"I'll be with you in a minute fellows; I just want to explain ideogenesis". A 50,000 word dissertation ensues. His keen, analytical mind, combined with a very genial nature make him an asset to the college and a Father Confessor to his buddies in distress. Bill has managed to participate in extra-curricular activities in spite of his heavy scholastic load and a limited amount of spare time. He has been a major factor in introducing democratic and progressive methods into student government. It will be hard to think of St. Francis without its Kummer-Labanowski politicking. Bill has just gone into the St. John's Law School.

JOHN JOSEPH LABANOWSKI

Navy

*Bishop Loughlin H.S., Trinity College
JV and Varsity Basketball; IRC; French Club; Pi Alpha; Pres. Student Council; Who's Who; Glee Club.*

"Oh, my achin' back"—would be lost without his weekly visit to Nat, the chiropractor. John entered St. Francis via a basketball scholarship in 1942. A History major, John has aspirations for an executive position with an oil company. His physical aptness is combined with intellectual conquest, as exhibited by his nomination to the Dean's list and Who's Who. His lively wit and humor dispel gloom and relieve tension among his college buddies.
