

Space, the final frontier. These are the voyages of the Starship Enterprise, whose five year mission is to seek out new life, new civilizations, and to boldly go where no man has gone before . . .

. . . Challenging, exciting, daring, words of emotion yet not enough to express the feeling of adventure one feels when hearing this short but familiar prologue. In Dedication to the class of 81 the Franciscan staff will also embark on a mission. Its purpose, simply, is to present a feeling of accomplishment of what has been done yet to remind of the challenge that still awaits those graduating. In the vastness of our "own universes" we will encounter fears, hopes, sorrows, and joys, in moving toward the goals we've set and those yet to be set. We the members of the "Starship Franciscan" wish the class of 81 much continued success on their journey. For they are the future they are the ones who must dare to explore, to question, to listen.

Live long and prosper.

Best Wishes

Franciscan 1981
