

Vocation Club

 Standing: William Brooks, William Mosca, Alfred Sepe, William Schmidt, Arthur Ventura, Stephen Jozwicki, Paul Gozaloff, John Lynch, Donald Regan, Anthony Failla, William Lanahan.

THE Vocation Club, fostering and guarding vocations to the priesthood and Religious state, aids its members in their decisions for life's work through prayer and spiritual direction.

Under the direction of Father Hassett, its spiritual director, the Club sponsors a monthly Day of Recollection. The retreat attempts to keep the high aim of the members in proper focus, to strengthen the vocations, and to aid those members who are undecided.

For one group, the Club provides the necessary knowledge of the will of God; for the other group, it provides the spiritual strength to carry on. For all, the Vocation Club tries to vivify the words of Our Lord, "Come, follow me."

N.F.C.C.S.

Charles Kenny, Chairman, International Relations Committee; John McGuire, Alternate Delegate; Gerard McGrath, Senior Delegate; Frank Palmineri, Chairman, Inter-American Action Committee.

WORKING with a zeal and energy indicative of Catholicism in action, the members of the National Federation of Catholic College Students at St. Francis College have played active roles in all N.F.C.C.S. undertakings. Though leaders in the fields of Inter-American Action and International Relations, these individuals were not content to allow their industry and initiative to be confined to these two spheres of interest and activity.

Work and research on the Radio and Literature Acceptance Polls, Catholic Resettlement, and Student Exchange, was started last October and carried forward with true Franciscan effort.

The activity which these men have displayed is assurance enough that the N.F.C.C.S. will always find a welcoming and helpful hand in the College and on the campus of St. Francis.
